Lady—Did your mother send any message with this birthday bouquet?

Boy—No. She only said that I was not to ask for a piece of cake, but wait until you asked me to have one.

Young Man—But I won't be much help, sir.

"My dear young lady," said the clergyman in aggrieved tones, as he listened to the extremely modern young woman tell of some of the very latest fashions of the day, "have you ever heard of the Ten Commandments?"

"While a few bars," said the modern young lady, "and I think I can follow you."

"You was?"

"Yas. I said you had the best little 'in' sheep of any farmer I knowed. An' what was more, I said that pair of hosses of yours was the finest I ever seen in country—with at least $300."

"'Whod you say it to?" queried the flattered farmer.

"The tax assessor."

Faulty Elimination

Should Be Corrected—Good Elimination Is Essential to Good Health.

If you would be well, see to your elimination. Faulty kidney action permits toxic material to remain in the blood and upset the whole system. Then, one is apt to have a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, a toxic headache or headache, and often some irregularity of secretions, such as scanty or burning passages. AT THE THEATERS

"The Social Highwayman" the Warner picture directed by William Baughn, that opens today at the Sherry theater, has an interesting trio of players in the leading roles. John Patrick who first won fame on the screen by a gay characterization of flouting youth abjects is featured in the role of Jay Bodman Walker, a young reporter Patrick has been prominently aligned with the role of a joyous licker, and this production gives him an opportunity to portray a reckless, adventurous and romantic hero.

Dorothy Devore, the little brown eyed girl, who developed herself into one of the most amusing of screen comedienne, plays Miss Van Thyl, an heiress in search of a thrill. Montague Love plays the hand of the daring, suave, gallant robber of the road, who pretends to be the best young adventurer and instead hauls them into the hands of the police for the crimes he himself has committed.

"The Magician" Showing At Arcade Today. The name of Dix Ingram has been closely associated with the progress of the motion picture industry. Just past the thirty mark, Ingram has for the past seven years been an outstanding figure in the great industry which has made such sweeping advances in a very short period of time.

"The Magician," a powerful story from the pen of Somerset Maugham, is the latest product from this noted young director, and it is the attraction of the Arcade theater today and Thursday.

Like "Mare Nostrum," this new picture was produced abroad on the original locations described by the author and with one of the most notable international casts ever assembled for any one picture. Alice Terry, Paul Wegener, the German actor who will be remembered in this country for his performance in "The Golem," Ivan Petrovich, a young Serbian actor, and Gwyneth Hanger, a talented English actress, are leading members of the cast of "The Magician."

Mark Bennett presents his latest comedy "Pass the Dumplings," featuring Alice Day on the same program.

FRIDAY LAST DAY TO FILE PETITIONS

SALEM, Ore., May 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Komer said yesterday that Friday, May 27, will be the final date for filing referendum petitions attacking measures passed by the 1927 legislature. Measures referred will be voted on at the special election June 28. Petitions are being circulated to refer to the people house bill 72, which confers additional powers on assessors and the state tax commission in the levying of property assessments.

The struggle for riches is vainly, says a pastor. Guess the boss must agree with him.

Dix in Strong Role in "Knockout Reilly"

Starred in a fast moving film of a young steel puffer whose ability with his fists wins him fame, and the girl of his dreams, Richard Dix arrives at the Star theater Thursday for a three-day run.

"Knockout Reilly," is the name of his latest Paramount screen effort, and it is reputed by those in the know, to be the most energetic film offering ever. Reports from the large centers indicate an enthusiastic reception of the picture, and critics are putting it on a par with the "Quarterback," his famous football film.

As Dundee Reilly, Dix works in a steel mill and on Saturday night goes out in search of a little recreation and romance. Although professing utter disregard of all girls, he is innocently flattered when he receives a message purporting to be from Mary Malone (Mary Brian) pretty entertainer in a cabaret that he and his friends frequent. The message invites him backstage to meet her, and not knowing that this is a little joke of his friends, he leaves his table and goes to her dressing room. He finds there Killy Agerra (Dick Henault), champion pugilist making advances to Mary and without knowing who he is knocks him out. Later Agerra reciprocates by knocking Reilly to his gymnasium and beating him up. Reilly looking for revenge pits himself in the hands of Pat Malone, Mary's brother, himself a former pugilist, for training and rapidly rises to gladiatorial eminence. Complications set in and Reilly on the eve of a championship fight with Agerra finds himself railroaded to prison for two years for felonious assault. How he manages to keep in condition notwithstanding his confinement, and how on his release he clears his name, and wins the girl and the championship, are unfolded in a series of dramatic scenes in which the light humorous touch of director Malcolm St. Clair is always evident. Events move rapidly to a smashing denouement, in which Dix proves again that he is an athlete as well as an actor of versatility.

A FRIEND OF THE NAVY

A New York lass admitted she had four husbands who were sailors. Hat a sweetheart on every ship. . . The young lady ever ascribed for any one picture. A weak heart but a rosy one. . . We just knew there would be trouble when both the Atlantic and Pacific fleets came, and the girl and the champion, are unfolded in a series of dramatic scenes in which the light humorous touch of director Malcolm St. Clair is always evident. Events move rapidly to a smashing denouement, in which Dix proves again that he is an athlete as well as an actor of versatility.

Well, girls, if we can't always reform our husbands, let us by all means try to inform them.
