AT THE THEATERS

Vaudeville And "Spuds" At Arcade Sunday

A pleasing and entertaining vaudeville is promised at the arcade theater on Sunday. The Three Pilots head the bill in thrills and spills, a novelty gymnastic and comedy offering. Adams and Collier, in "Laffs, Laffs, Laffs," is a mixed team who deliver comedy sayings intermingled with songs. Forrest and Phillips appear in "Gentlemen Prefer Chickens," a comedy version consisting of singing and talking. Willmott and Wills, appear in "Mirth and Melody". The fifth act is Marlow, the "Gentlemen Gymnast".

A rib-tickling comedy called "Spuds" is the screen attraction at the Arcade theater Sunday in connection with the Vaudeville. Larry Semon is the principal player and he is capably supported feministically by his charming wife, Dorothy Dwan.

As the title imply, this is a story in which potatoes play a more or less important part. Larry, an enlisted doughboy, finds himself eventually in France. But instead of going over the top in the accepted manner of doughboys, he is assigned to the task of keeping his outfit supplied with peeled potatoes.

"White Gold" Coming To Sherrys Sunday

Striking a new and higher note in motion picture production, "White Gold," a new picture starring Jetta Goudal and featuring Kenneth Thomson as leading man, will be on view at the Sherry theater on Sunday and Monday. Filled with dramatic action, tenseful and compelling, this is said to be one of the most unusual photoplays in which the exotic Jetta Goudal has appeared, and all who witnessed her remarkable work in "Three Faces East" will await her latest starring effort with genuine interest.

The scenes of the story are laid on a sheep ranch in Arizona. Dolores Carson, a dancer, longing for home life, weds Alec Carson, the son of a sheep rancher. The latter disapproves of the marriage and makes life miserable for his daughter-in-law. A drought of long standing is killing off the sheep and the young wife who sincerely loves her husband, finds herself neglected. Sam Randall, a herder, seeks to win her from her husband who, engrossed in his dying sheep, pays her little attention. The climax is reached when Randall is killed by Dolores after he invades the young wife's room. The finale is as remarkable as it is natural but it would be unfair to the public to reveal it.

"Why do you ask?"
"You should make a good golfer then."—Cornell Widow.

"Whirlwind Of Youth" Coming To Arcade

In "The Whirlwind Of Youth" which will be the attraction Sunday and Monday at the Star theater, Paramount has produced a veritable dramatic gem. Rowland V. Lee, director of the picture, has long been known for his effective handling of powerful screen dramas.

Lois Moran, starred, enhances the favorable impression she recently created in "God Gave Me Twenty Cents" and makes an appealing figure as the unsophisticated English girl who is precipitated into the hectic whirl of Parisian studio life. The love story is given a new twist in its treatment and theatergoers take a real personal interest in her apparently hopeless affection for a philandering youth, Donald Keith.

Scenes in the "Whirlwind Of Youth" take one to a little English village, Paris, a French seacoast resort and an area back of the lines during the World War. The entire picture which, by the way, was adapted from A. Hamilton Gibbs' best seller "Soundings" is filled not only with the zestful enthusiasm of youth but with a depth of dramatic feeling that makes it a production of exceptional power.

The cast is almost entirely composed of young players. Besides the star—Donald Keith, Vera Voronina, Paramount's newest foreign importation, and Alyce Mills are featured. Larry Kent, Gareth Hughes and Charles Lane head the supporting company.

The Mack Sennett comedy, "A Small Town Princess" featuring Madeline Hurlock and Billy Bevan, will be another item on the bill.

Last Showing of "Kosher Kitty" This Evening

Roaring with comedy, filled with funny family fights and neighborly feuds, "Kosher Kitty Kelly," F. B. O.'s latest Gold Bond special now showing at the Sherry theater is a mountain of mirth. From the opening scene to the final fade-out it is one gorgeous laugh-fest, a bubbling, boisterous picture packed full of riotous mirth. The minute there is a sign of a heart ache or the possibility of a thrill being too devastating, a good, hearty laugh is introduced and the world is gay and merry again. The picture was adapted for the screen by Gerald Duffy from the great New York stage success of the same name from the pen of Leon De Acosta. It was woven into its present delightful state by the masterly direction of James Horne. Lovable Kitty Kelly is played by the vivacious Viola Dana while the rest of the all-star cast includes: Vera Gordon, Tom Forman, Aggie Herring, Nat Carr, Kathleen Myers, Stanley Taylor and Carroll Nye.
