Viola Dana And Husband Parted; Divorce Unlikely

LOS ANGELES, June 1 (AP)—The divorce of Viola Dana, distinguished film star and her athletic husband, Maurice "Lefty" H. Flynn, one time All-American tackle from Yale, have suspended.

Miss Dana in confining the report of separation, denied that a divorce was imminent and declared both she and her husband were undetermined as to whether or ever they would ask the court to dissolve the marriage.

First indication of a rift in the Dana-Flynn household came three weeks ago when the former football star was missed from Hollywood. Friends of the last to do so, which Flynn was known to have and as to a picture said today they had not even heard from him since then.

The divorce declared she was possible Flynn had not gone to Mexico to attend a divorce and indeed, when there is a divorce, Mr. Flynn will be a spectator and consult with her before taking action.

HOPES TO BREAK RAILROAD RECORD

The trip will start at 7 p. m. on July 1. At 4 in the morning of July 2 it will reach Chicago, proving that the unheard-of speed has not caused it to leave the rails and deposit its passengers in another and more distant destination.

Railroad officials didn't want to start a 25-hour record, but they had to try.
