

VON HINDENBURG GREET'S FLYERS

German President Officially Receives Chamberlin and Levine

BERLIN, June 8 (AP)—German president, Paul von Hindenburg, received Chamberlin and Levine at the executive mansion today and congratulated them on their achievement in spanning the Atlantic by air from New York to Germany.

The interview, which was of a cordial nature, lasted 15 minutes. President von Hindenburg handed each of his visitors a fine framed autographed portrait of himself.

After questioning the Americans as to the details of their flight, he expressed the hope that it would contribute to bringing the American and German people in closer communion.

Chamberlin and Levine were accompanied to the presidential residence by the American ambassador, Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman.

A crowd massed outside in the Wilhelmstrasse gave them a rousing volley of cheers upon their entrance and exit, while a pair of white-robed heliots standing on either side of the door, saluted and ejected heels in the most approved Prussian style.

Ambassador Schurman was in top hat and ceremonial morning garb, but the aviators were in the only clothes they brought with them—those they wore on their great flight.

They arrived in a downpour, but left in brilliant sunshine giving the waiting platoon of photographers their innings. The aviators were slightly annoyed at the camera men's persistence and finally shouted an energetic "lets go boys" or the equivalent in German and the car whisked the trio back to the embassy.

The major-domo of the presidential household in full uniform, with ivory-headed cane and cocked hat under his arm, said farewell from the top of the steps.

Ancient Telegraph Instruments Found

FOLLEST GROVE, Ore., (AP)—Disciples of Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, have found some of his original instruments and a library of books which he owned at Pacific University here.

The library includes several books written by the inventor for three Mr. Federal Morse, a theologian and geographer. One of the rare volumes is Pitman's "Universal Geography," printed in 1842.

There are also first editions of Cotton Mather's works on theology. Samuel Morse's brother, Sidney, towards Morse, gave the instruments and the library to the university 30 years ago.

MOURNING TOGETHER

The dynamite that wrecked the school of Earl, Mich., robbed these two of their best friend—little Earl Ewing, 11—who was not only recovered from the tangled ruins of the building, but also the father, with Earl's pet, "Sport," mourn the little fellow's absence. Sport seems to be asking the father where Earl is.

Well, the first thing I want to tell you this morning is that tomorrow afternoon the gates will be closed at the Pratt Lumber Company and we are going over to see the fine display of stock at Union. And the second thing I want to tell you is that I had a fine breakfast this morning. It was composed of delicious hot-cakes, butter and sauer kraut. That is what they call a good old-fashioned sauer kraut breakfast. There are several of the ladies of the community that keep us pretty well supplied with sauer kraut. I think perhaps that is why I keep well so much. We expect to put down a barrel of sauer kraut this fall so that in case we might have sickness in the family we would have a good remedy.

Well, the Monarch paint is going to spread over the valley. It is 100 per cent pure, contains not one single ounce of adulteration. That is hard to believe but nevertheless it is true. Just got a long distance call from Enterprise yesterday from a man wanting quite a quantity of this paint. White lead and oil only cover about 250 square feet of two coat work per gallon and Monarch, 100 per cent pure, covers from 250 to 300 square feet per gallon. The reason why is because Monarch has 2 1/2 white lead and 1 1/2 zinc. One hundred pounds of white lead in the dry powdered form absorbs about 1 gallon of oil to make it into a thick paste. One hundred pounds of zinc absorbs about 9 gallons, so you can readily see with zinc added it gives you from 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 greater covering capacity and at the same time it tempers your paint so that it is neither too brittle nor too soft.

We worked hard to secure the agency of the Monarch paint. I do not know how many dollars we burnt up in telegrams, but it will roll back because we have the best paint on earth. I don't see how anything could be purer than 100 per cent, do you?
