PERKINS MOTOR CO., 6-10-27

MAYOR TO START RACE—SAN FRANCISCO, June 10 (AP)—When the Redwood highway Indian runners for the starting mark next Tuesday morning at the city hall preparatory to beginning their 450 mile jaunt to Grants Pass, Ore., the shot that will send them on their way is to be fired by Al Jennings, former bank bandit and train robber of Texas and Missouri, but now mayor of Crescent City, Del Norte county, California.

Mellon announces that our paper money is going to be made smaller. Gosh, we'll have to stretch it to make ends meet!

"How did your dramatic tour succeed?"

"When we played tragedy the receipts were a fizzle, and when we played farce the receipts were a tragedy."

"I did the hundred-yard dash on two flat," said the man with fallen arches, as he was awarded the prize.

Ragson Tatters says that out west the cellar is the place to go in time of cyclones, and when a man has a barrel of hard cider in the cellar it's surprising how many times a day the weather looks threatening.

Don't mumble your prayers, Helen. I can't hear a word you say."

"I wasn't speaking to you, mother!"

A girl applied for a job as a housemaid.

"What do you charge a day?" asked her prospective employer.

"Well, mum, was the reply, "42 if I eat myself and 1.75 if you eat me."

The horse fly hung his head in shame.

He'd never look or be the same—Disgusted, worried, weary bored, He'd tried his best to bite a Ford; And now he sat disgruntled, ill—With broken heart and broken bill.

There isn't any doubt but that a fashionable dressmaker is a designing woman.

Young men are more romantic; old men more substantial—if they are rich.

Red Mill With Marion Davies Now at Arcade

"The Red Mill," Marion Davies' much-heralded new starring vehicle, and the film version of the famous stage hit by Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom, lived up to all its promises when it opened last night at the Arcade theater for a three day run.

Incidentally, it shows Marion Davies in a new role—a role different from any she ever attempted: more alluring, more charming, and what is of more importance to audiences, probably the most entertaining in her history.

Miss Davies' whimsical comedy talents find a ready opportunity in the new romance of the Land of Dykes; she romps through a charming role in pigtail and wicker shoes, dainty as a painted fencer on a bit of Holland china; she does some acting that reaches the heights of genius in the dramatic moments with George Slegman, the villain of the new play; her love scenes with Owen Moore are romantically delicate.

A notable cast supports Miss Davies in the new picture a story of love and adventure laid in Holland.

Owen Moore plays the Irish lover of the Dutch heroine, George Slegman, the villainous Uncle William, and Karl Dane and Louise Fazenda make a hilarious comedy relief duo, aided and abetted by Nita Edwards, Russell Powell as the burlesomester, William Orland as the aged Dutch Governor, Fred Gamble as a queer Dutch innkeeper, and other wellknown players appear in the supporting cast, under the direction of William Goodrich.

Serio-Comic Film Scores At Sherrys

George Joaze, famous for his portrayal of "The Jazz Singer," one of the spectacular Broadway hits of the past year, is now starred by the Warners in a serio-comic world drama of the days of the World War, "Private Izzy Murphy."

Izzy Goldberg, having to leave his quarters in the Ghetto, adds drawing appeal to the customers of the Irish neighborhood, into which he moves, by convincing himself "Murphy." His delinquent business thrives to the point of making it possible for him to bring papa and mamma from Russia. They come. Are delighted with their son's success. All goes well. And then—the World war!

"Izzy" joins up with an Irish regiment, still keeping the Hibernian name, with which he has also courted pretty Ellen Cohanigan, and goes overseas.

The complications which follow (with Ellen's father, Moe Ginsberg, the marriage broker, doughboys, neighbors) are so mirth-provoking, so human, that everyone in the audience forgets that such things as ravages and prejudices can exist in the world!

"Private Izzy Murphy" was directed by Lloyd Bacon, son of Frank Bacon, author and star of "Lighthouse," and a genius in his own right. Vera Gordon, famous as the mother in "Hummer's," plays the part of Izzy's mother.

Fatsy Ruth Miller in "Ellen Cohanigan," the pretty Irish sweetheart, and the supporting company make the play a riot of mirth, a rough-and-tumble of all things American, it is human and tender and fine, the sort of play which makes us want to live and let live! You'll be cheer-leader for "Private Izzy Murphy."

Comedy showing "Dog Tax."

Maynard in Star Performance In New Film

Ken Maynard has gone beyond being a Western motion picture star. After scoring his latest, "The Land Beyond the Law," the First National feature which opened at the Star theater last night for a three-day run, one wonders how it is possible for Maynard to avoid repetition of the same riddling tricks, the same shooting stunts and other sensations he has employed in past vehicles.

"The Land Beyond the Law," proves that Maynard is to stay with us as star for many years to come. The story by Marion Jackson provides him with opportunities to put his white steed, Tarzan, through new paces, new stunts, to make animal lovers and casual onlookers alike, gasp.

In his latest picture, we find Ken as a United States Deputy Marshal, appointed to bring peace to that portion of New Mexico, which shortly before its admission to the Union, was over-run by ruthless cattle barons.

Tom Santschi appears as the cattle baron who causes most of the trouble. Noah Young is responsible for many of the laughs, Gibson Gowland is a villainous villain indeed and Billy Butka makes an exceptionally clever youngster in creating a lot
