Mrs. Hill Gives Report of Meet In San Francisco

Mrs. A. T. Hill, president of the 100th Annual conference of the Southern Presbyterian church, gave a report of the national biennial held in San Francisco, yesterday at a meeting of the Missionary society, held at church.

Spokane state in the union was presented at the biennial, which is the first ever held. Mrs. Hill reported in addition to synodical and presbytery reports from all the United States there were many other delegates. The days of the meeting, from June 12 to 24, was devoted entirely to a missionary conference, summary of the work already accomplished and plans for the future.

The biennial marking the 125th anniversary of the starting of missions in the West Presbyterian church and the 50th anniversary of Presbyterian missions in Alaska.

Returned missionaries were present from South America, Cuba, Ha, Sam, China, Japan, and all foreign stations, besides all the home mission stations. Mrs. Charles K. Roy and Miss Gladys Smith, of New York, have just returned to the United States after a tour around the world, visiting all of the Presbyterian mission stations, attending biennial and told many interesting things. Mrs. Roy said it was her opinion that when the trouble in China was over the rest of the missionaries who reported there would be to cooperate with the Chinese people, that the missionaries have been invited to leave there the Chinese natives are taking up the work and continuing it.

West Wednesday Mrs. Hill will go to Baker, where she will give support of the biennial at a meeting of the Missionary society of Presbyterian church there. A biennial from the Columbia biennial. A special mission program was following Mrs. Hill's report, Mrs. Gladys Ritter Sherwood sang two selections. Refreshments were served by Misses A. S. Anderson, H. P. Lewis, Mrs. O. L. Maxwell and Mrs. Thomas Roddy.

The Olyokva committee girl up held a business meeting at the home of their guardian, Mrs. L. Anderson, Thursday afternoon. During the meeting plans were made for the next meeting, Tuesday, June 14, which will be in the form of a coronation, when several girls of the group will receive honors.

The northside members of G. L. P. Morton Relief Corps, No. 11, will entertain the northside members and friends at a tea Friday afternoon, June 14, at the home of Mrs. August P. Nelson, 508 N. avenue.

A special program in observance of Flag day is being arranged. It is expected to be of unusual interest.

Ho Club Members Are Entertained. Mrs. and Mrs. H. A. Zurbick entertained the members of the Ho club last evening at an attractive affair at their home on Main avenue.

Six tables of bridge were engaged during the evening with Mrs. Roy. Reister making high scores among the women club members. The club will meet next week to Mrs. Holmquist, and Mrs. C. C. C. B. Scott received the prizes. Bouquets of the season's flowers were used to decorate the room, following the card games. The hostess served a two-course luncheon.

Members of the Admittance Athletic club were entertained at a picnic party early this week in honor of Mrs. Clyde Clouston, the hostess being her birthday anniversary.

Sixteen friends gathered at the only home and four tables of bridge were at play during the evening. Mrs. Clouston winning the weekly prize and the men's prize to James O'Neil. Giles Harrison received the consolation prize. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moffat, of Bendleton. After the card games a three-course luncheon was served by the women of the party. Members of the Friday Afternoon bridge club met for the last time this season yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Harry Lavey was hostess at her home on Oak street. Three tables of bridge was the diversion of the afternoon with the first prize going to Mrs. Grand. Mrs. Clyde Clouston received second, and the most prizes went to Mrs. T. H. Maxwell. Bouquets of flowers were attractively arranged about the room. A two-course luncheon was served after the card games.

MENUS

By Sister Mary BREAKFAST—Strawberries and bananas with cereal and cream, creamed dried beef, oven toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON—Cold sliced lamb loaf, mint jelly, lettuce salad, hot bread, fruit punch. DINNER—Veal cutlets, macaroni baked with tomatoes, milled spinach, hard egg salad, steamed cherry pudding, milk, coffee. Mint jelly is delicious with cold meats other than lamb but is, of course, traditional with lamb. A jelly is nicer to serve than a sauce. The sparkling jelly is more appealing in both taste and "mise en place" of one's plate.

Mint Jelly. One cup minced mint leaves, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika. Heat mint leaves in vinegar and steam, closely covered for 15 minutes. Soak gelatin in water for 10 minutes. Strain vinegar through cheesecloth and add gelatin and seasoning immediately. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. A little green vegetable coloring can be added if a darker green color is wanted. (Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

HEALTH

PUBLIC INDIFFERENCE VS. PUBLIC INTEREST

By Edward A. Rich, M. D., Tacoma, Wash. Member Goran Memorial Institute. The American people take too much for granted. They go to bed every night to sweet dreams, confident that they have adequate police and fire protection. They buy food at the market and milk from the dairy, relying absolutely upon the law and the integrity of the dealers and producers. In very much the same way do we assume efficiency and take for granted most matters of public health.

In almost every large city there is more than indifference toward health—there is an apathy. It is usually not intentional, but nevertheless it is real. In a large western city a recent campaign was recently put on to insure pure food and pure milk for the children. A tremendous amount of publicity in the newspapers day after day was given to the facts of the testing of dairy herds. A widely heralded competition was conducted with the heavy cooperation of milk producers both to lower the bacterial count and to raise the elements of value in the milk.

Every dairy and every dispenser was required to have his certificate of inspection constantly on hand. Purchasers were expected to ask to see such certificate periodically. Did the people of this city take much interest in this piece of genuine welfare? Did they pay any attention to the official appeal to consumers? They did not! Upon investigation it was found that most dairymen reported that only occasionally would a purchaser ask to see a certificate and that

PREDICT HIGHER FRUIT PRICES

Volume Expected to Be Less; Market Outlook for the Year Good

NEW YORK, June 11.—The New York fruit trade is optimistic about the market outlook for this coming season and predicts a somewhat higher price level than for the past two seasons. Drought in the south Atlantic states, floods in the Mississippi valley and frosts in the Pacific coast states have reduced the fruit crop materially, but will have a helpful effect on volume according to trade opinion.

The peach crop will be light in most of the states east of the Rockies, compared with a record-breaking crop last year. Georgia has a fairly large crop, which will be well out of the way before Oregon fruit harvest begins, but the later states have a light crop. California and northwestern fruit prospects have been reduced considerably by the severe spring frosts, particularly cherries and apricots.

The loss in tonnage will be more than compensated for, it is expected, by the higher prices. As a rule, the greatest profits are made in the fruit business in years when the crop falls below average. Another reason for optimism is the generally good buying power throughout the big eastern markets. There has been a very strong demand for fruit all spring and it is anticipated that this will continue right through the summer and fall months.

Columbia River Level Is Rising

PORTLAND, Ore., June 11 (AP)—Continued hot weather about the headwaters of the Columbia is forcing the river level at Portland up. Edward L. Wells meteorologist said today. The stage reached 20.6 feet today. Tomorrow, he thinks, it will reach 22 feet. Monday and Tuesday will show slight increases. After that, he surmises, it all depends on the weather. If it continues hot in Idaho, the river may climb still higher.

French Art Catalog Offers Odd English

PARIS (AP)—Americans need not blush overmuch for queer spelling in their ill-fated French after reading this year's catalogue of the Art Salon. Here are some of the gems: "Pale lady" instead of Polish Lady; "Ship's goat with subsists" for "Food boat"; "Young veals" for "Calves"; "Evening gown" becomes "Nightgown"; "The Bathor" is "Bath-keeper". All nude bathers consequently are called "Bath-keepers" and a nude woman reading is called "Uncovered reading woman."

20 Per Cent More Women In France

PARIS (AP)—There are a quarter of a million girls condemned to be bachelor maids in Paris. There are that many more women than men. There is, in fact, an extra woman for every fifth man, so that so far as the marriage market is concerned there is a 20 per cent surplus of women.

This is the social side, but economists see difficulties in the influence these solitary women will exert in politics, if they get into that sphere, and are beginning to exert already in the fight for life in business.

These bachelor maids must earn their own living, not only in competition with men, but in competition also with tens and possibly hundreds of thousands of women who, although married, also work. It is the rarest with the married women that is the hardest, for they can work for less than their unmarried sisters.
