HAS HE A GAS MASK?

Oratorically speaking, Lindbergh's homecoming is likely to be the occasion for more than one endurance flight. . . . One of the reasons Charley made such a big hit with everyone is that he didn't do any high flying in Paris. . . . He's a champion in the air, but he can keep his feet on the ground. . . . Now that the flyer has succeeded he can do a little banking on the side.

The universe seems to be running down, says a Scottish professor. Confirming our suspicions of last Sunday when that left rear went flat.

A CULINARY TRAGEDY

I don't feel well; the kettle sighed.
The pot responded, eh?
Then doubtless that's the reason, ma'am.
You did not sing today.
Just what's amiss? the kettle sobbed.
Why, sir, you're surely blind.
Or you'd have noticed that the cook
Is shockingly unkind.
I watched her make a cake just now—
If I'd a pair of legs
I'd run away—oh, dear, oh, dear!
How she did beat the eggs.
Nor was that all, remember, please
'Tis truth I tell to you—
For with my own two eyes I saw
Her stone the raisins, too!
And afterwards—a dreadful sight
I felt inclined to scream—
The cruel creature took a fork
And soundly whipped the cream!
Now you can wonder that my nerves
Have rather given 'way?
Although I'm at the boiling point,
I cannot sing today.

COVE PERSONALS

COVE, (Special)—Mrs. Edith L. Pease, of Pullman, Wash., is here at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Allen. The two sisters, Mrs. Pease and Mrs. Allen, have the care of their brother, Ross Kern, who is critically ill at the Allen home.

Truman Pease, who has been attending the Washington State college at Pullman, is here for a few days.

Miss Ina Hartsook, of Spokane, Wash., has been a guest here for the past two weeks, of Mrs. L. E. Anderson and Mrs. Pauline Prillman. Miss Hartsook spent six years doing missionary work in India. Since her return to the states she has been engaged in school teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Conklin and daughter, Joan Frances, of Santa Barbara, Cal., will arrive next week to spend a few weeks among their friends here. They will be the house guests of Mr. Conklin's mother, Mrs. A. G. Conklin.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Tarkington, of La Grande, were in Cove Thursday to assist in the preparation for the summer school.

The Rt. Rev. W. P. Remington, of Pendleton, came over Wednesday to make sure that everything would be in readiness for the summer school which will begin June 14.

Captain Robert A. Dollar, 80, the ship magnate, says that when he's 100 he'll take up golf. It does take a lot of moral courage to go in for that game.

AT THE THEATERS

Last Showing Of Film At Sherrys Tonight

With the beautiful, exotic and vivid personality of Natacha Rambova (Mrs. Rudolph Valentino) the center of a splendid story from the pen of the celebrated Laura Jean Libbey, F. B. O.'s big production, was shown for the first time in this community yesterday when it enjoyed its local premier at the Sherry theater.

Mrs. Valentino, whose genius as an artist and decorator has been a subject of public discussion for some time, takes her rightful place as one of the screen's truly fine actresses in this picture. She is not alone decorative as a Bonda panel and as distinctive as Franklyn Booth's ink drawings. She is a performer of rare charm and understanding, and she photographs like a real million. Furthermore, she has been given a glorious opportunity to wear clothes.

The story itself is powerful, and as vivacious as bubbling champagne. It deals with the vicissitudes of Jerry Benson, a young inventor, and his loyal wife, Margaret. Riches come to them, but they bring only unhappiness. But everything is ironed out satisfactorily in the end. There is a thrilling rescue scene on the tracks of the New York Elevated that is one of the outstanding punches of a picture filled with tense drama and cataclysmic emotions.

Clive Brook takes the leading male role opposite the star, and gives a finished, polished performance. Johnny Gough, Katherine Hill and others fill out a splendid supporting cast. Harry Hoyt directed and Daniel Carson Goodman supervised the production.

Comedy showing "High But Not Handsome."

Constance Has Gay New Hit In "Venus of Venice"

Constance Talmadge at the Arcade theater for a run of three days in "Venus of Venice," a rollicking story, in which Constance appears as an impudent, mischievous little canal gypsy whose life is one of thievery among the gondolas of the Venice canals.

Diving into and swimming through the canals with the utmost abandon whenever occasion demands it, she has earned the sobriquet the "Water Rat." And it is one of her daredevil escapades that brings her into contact with an American artist in Venice—an acquaintance that is productive of more excitement, more thrills and greater joy than she has been crowded into her life.

In the leading male role opposite Miss Talmadge, Antonio Moreno appears as the American artist. And the director is Marshall Neilan, past master in the creation of light comedy.

Included in the cast are Edward Martindel, in the role of an American journalist; Julanne Johnston, as the artist's fiancee; Michael Vavitch, Arthur Thalasso and others.

The Venetian settings, including an elaborate network of canals that duplicate some of the best known waterways of the Italian city, are the work of William Cameron Menzies, art director.

On the same bill is an "Our Gang" comedy entitled "Tired Business Men."

If there were only one car nosed in at the curb in the entire square we verily believe that a United States mail truck would deliberately double park right behind it.

"Tip-Toes" To Open Run At Star Tonight

Three of the world's most famous entertainers are holding forth at the Star theater tonight, where the screen version of "Tip-Toes", the Broadway stage success, is the featured photoplay. Dorothy Gish, supported by none other than Will Rogers and Nelson Keys, romps through the hilarious dramatization of the scrio-comic adventures of a down and out Yankee vaudeville team's efforts to storm the twin citadels of the English sense of humor and aristocracy. It is when Al and Ben's threatened rags are received in the story alliance that only the English are capable of, that the troubles of the "Three Rayes" start. The subsequent efforts of the two ham actors to marry their dainty dancing partner "Tip-toes" to love-sick Lord William Montgomery, under the pretext that she is a wealthy American heiress and themselves her uncles, lead them into a series of misadventures in high society, which brings them to the very threshold of gaol, which in England is not a football term—but means the same thing that Americans spell "jail." Just when the adventurous Yankees fortunes look darkest, Tip-toes, is herself overcome with love for young Lord Bill who, despite his nationality and social position, is more than just a little bit alright.

Miss Gish's flair for comedy is given free play; her many costumes from tights to epic Parisiande evening gowns are just right. Will Rogers is his inimitable, wise cracking self, and who in the world is funnier? Some of his gags, which had all London laughing are used as sub-titles. Nelson Keys, England's favorite comedian, seen in New York as one of the leads of the popular Charlot's Review, plays the dumbell butt for Will Rogers' jokes. They're a rare trinity of fun-makers.

"Tip-toes," with its international humor, and continental locale, all screened with American technique, is an unusual entertainment. Go see it!

Shiftless Sam had to build a garage for his old flivver. The pet crow carried it off and hid it every time he got a chance.

Great Britain is a country where the word "comrade" does not mean friendly.

Traveling Safety Sought For Fish

WASHINGTON (AP)—Travel is going to be made safe for goldfish if the government can do it.

Acting on complaints by fish breeders about the heavy mortality rate of their charges while proceeding in cans on express owned private hacks, the bureau of fisheries has undertaken a scientific investigation. It already has some results to announce.

Lack of air in the water at first suspected of causing the high death rate, doesn't seem to be important. The goldfish is hardy, and when his water isn't changed he settles up to the top and takes in breath of straight air from time to time. But the dirt that gets into the water seems to present a serious danger, and the scientists are working to determine just how much he can stand. When it is determined, it hopes to be able to lay out travel schedules which will enable the breeders to deliver more of their finny ornaments alive.
