AT THE THEATERS

SOME FAMOUS LAST WORDS

"Don't you dare to knock those ashes off on my clean carpet!"
"Look at the mud you've tracked in on my nice clean floor!"
"Before we were married you wanted to take me some place every evening, but now—?"
"How long have you been carrying that letter around in your pocket?"
"You would forget your head if it wasn't fastened to your shoulders!"

When it comes to swimming, the average bathing beauty is said to be a poor fish.

Why can't a man's hand be over 11 inches? Because if it were 12 it would be a foot.

Why should a sailor be the best authority on what goes on in the moon? Because he has been to sea.

Why is a fly taller than most men? Because he stands over six feet.

What great virtue does the North Pole remind us of? Justice. That's all.

How is a man apt to run a splinter in his mouth? By eating a club sandwich.

Which number in the opinion of most men is the greatest? Number ONE.

Why is the horse the most patient animal? Because he listens to every word.

Why is the memory of Washington like the old French brandy? Because it is ever dear to the American people.

Why is a butterfly like a caterpillar? Because it's the grub that makes the butterfly.

How many sides are there in a two? Two, the inside and the outside.

Which is the laziest class of people? Tall people, because they are always longer in bed.

Who was the first whistler and what was his tune? The wind, when he whistled "Over the Hills and Far Away."

Why is a drunken man like a windmill? Because his head turns round and round.

Think within and red without and fate corners round about? A chimney.

Which is money damp? When it is the (dew) in the morning and missed (dust) at night.

THE HAT THAT FAILED
The sweetest little girlie
Had the cutest little gown;
It surely was an eye-fall
For all the men in town.

Then to complete her costume
She bought a ducky hat;
The toughest kid, I s'pose she thought

The boys would look at that,
Oh! wasted time and money,
How hard, you painful creature,
For one poor hat can't draw a look.

Against a pile of knees.

Some men are so fond of hummocking that their wives always take them to restaurants that make a specialty of it.

"Bandit Buster," Comedy Drama, At Star.

Buddy Roosevelt's dramas of the great open spaces are different from the average run of Western pictures in that each one contains a striking element of novelty that puts them in a class by themselves. In a most interesting, which bears the graphic title, "The Bandit Buster," is no exception to this rule. It is the feature attraction at the Star Theater today only.

In "The Bandit Buster" Buddy enacts the role of a cowboy who kidnaps a wealthy banker, the father of the girl he loves, but he is actuated in this by most worthy motives and does it with the full knowledge and consent of his sweetheart. The story is worked out in a most logical and pleasing manner, and while it is built primarily to lead up to the gripping suspense of its fast moving climax, still the comedy angle as by no means been overlooked, and there is a most generous sprinkling of laughs throughout.

The motion picture industry and the theater-going public are equally benefited by such stories as this and we hope that our local theater may give us more of the same caliber.

Dainty Molly Malone has the leading feminine role and is a charming foil for the popular star. Others in the capable cast include such well known names as Lyle McKee, Wilfred Landis, Robert Hopkins, Charles Whitaker and Al Taylor.

"Jane Missed Out" is the comedy showing.

COVE PERSONALS
COVE (Special)—Mrs. Mary Chambers celebrated her 34th birthday anniversary Sunday. Her son, J. B. Tallon, her brother, J. M. Gossett, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gossett, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Kight and daughter, Betty and Marie, were guests at the birthday dinner.

Fried chicken was the main part of the menu. All joined in wishing her many more birthdays.

J. T. Beem and family, who have spent the past week in Walla Walla, returned Sunday.

C. A. Becker spent the week end at Corvallis looking after business for his mother, Mrs. Loua Becker, who has come back to Cove to make her home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rowell, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Landers and daughter, Virginia, of La Grande, left Sunday for a few days camping on the Minam.

Mrs. and Mrs. Lee Williams are the proud parents of a baby daughter born to them last week.

Mrs. C. Beem, of Elgin, has been staying at the home of J. T. Beem this week.

Winter barley on the T. B. Johnson farm looks good. Fall wheat

Rough Riding Features In Film at Sherrys

If ever there was a player born to the saddle it is Jack Perrin, who in "West of Rainbow's End," his newest Rayart picture, will hold the screen at the Sherry theater for two days beginning today.

Jack was born and reared on a Montana ranch, and cut his teeth on a steers' horn. At an age when most youngsters are still playing with toys, Jack was developing and perfecting his technique with the rifle. And his skill with the "six-shooter" came about as a result of concentrated practice over a considerable period of years.

All of these attainments stand him in good stead, it is said, in his forthcoming vehicle, in which he is cast as Don Brandon, a young hero of the American Expeditionary forces, who returns from service overseas to discover that his father has been slain and his mother seized by a gang of ruthless desperadoes.

See for yourself how Jack overcomes the obstacles that stand between him and ultimate happiness when this actionful and engrossing picture comes to town.

Comedy shown "Wedding Yells."

VENUS OF VENICE
At Arcade Pleases Crowd

Constance Talmadge's new comedy drama, "Venus of Venice," is the current attraction at the Arcade theater.

The story is one of a charming little-made-up who, dominated by a crook, pursues a course of thievery among the canal gondolas with reckless abandon, her escapades plunging her into the companionship of an American artist, with unforeseen consequences of a most exciting nature.

While "Venus of Venice" attains brilliant dramatic heights, the picture is for the most part in the lighter vein in which Miss Talmadge excels. Its setting, in modern Venice, is one that breathes romance and adventure. "Venus of Venice" is a picture that will give Constance an opportunity to display aquatic attainments which she is not generally known to possess.

Appearing opposite Miss Talmadge, in the role of the romantic American artist, is Antonio Moreno. And Marsden Sweeney, directing the picture further, establishes himself as a master in the serene telling of stories of the "concomitant" type.

"Venus of Venice," which was produced by Joseph M. Schenck for First National release, will remain at the Arcade theater until Wednesday night.

"Tired Business Men" will probably get the laugh of their lives and so will all other picture goers, if they see "Our Gang" in the comedy of the same name which is an added feature of the program.

Hal Roach's famous troupe of juvenile comedians are said to be at their best in this riotously amusing film of fun.

There are only two kinds of stars in a smashup; both drivers.
