IMPLICIT CONFIDENCE—To love the Lord is to love his saints; for the Lord preserveth the faithful. Psalm 112:7.

It seems that the Mississippi is the father of too many waters this year.

It may be all right for girls to try to look like boys as long as boys don't try to look like girls.

Anybody who thinks people are being too much standardized should pick out a dozen people who live in the same kind of houses and drive the same kind of cars and wear the same kind of clothes, and get them to talking politics.

THE ROAD-HOG AGAIN

Automobile clubs are getting after the "road hog." The secretary of one of the biggest clubs in the country pronounces him a serious menace to traffic, whether on city street or country highway. He asks the police authorities to wage war against the "selfish ten-miles-an-hour driver who refuses to give the other motorists a chance on the road," just as war is waged against the motorist who drives at an excessive speed.

Every normal driver knows the harm done by the stubborn fellow who insists on getting over on the left, out in the middle of the road, and then poking along at less than the normal traffic speed, refusing to budge from his place in spite of honking horns and wail-outs and ugly looks. Like reckless speeders, they are not numerous but they are equally dangerous.

The place for such drivers, of course, is on the right, over against the curb, wherever the road is wide enough for two lines of traffic in each direction. If they prefer to drive in the middle of the road, for any reason, when going slowly, they should at least move over to let past them drivers who are in more of a hurry. The traffic laws almost everywhere provide that a driver must do this, when requested by a signal from a car behind, but the rule is seldom enforced.

It is not merely a matter of courtesy, but a matter of keeping traffic moving, and a matter of safety. Any highway will accommodate twice as many cars if none of them block it by hogging the road. And about half the accidents, in city and country are caused by the drivers who persist in getting in the way and refuse to yield to other cars.

Upward Movement Resumed Today On Wall Street

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Resumption of the upward movement in today's stock market was featured by the development of strength in such recently neglected groups as the building, utility, clothing, tobacco, public utility, rubber and motor shares. With the exception of the establishment of new high records by General Motors and National Tea, the so-called "rich man's stocks" were quiet but steady.

Low priced rails were in good demand, particularly the New Haven and St. Paul issues. Southwestern shares also gave a fairly good exhibition of group strength.

"Katy" common declined out with a gain of 6 1/2 points. Amusement shares also displayed a firmer undertone. Henry Hotel led the advance in the merchandising group.

The closing was firm. A number of eastern railroads and an assortment of specialties responded to a brisk buying in the Biltmore, Delaware and Hudson (up 7 points), P. S. Distilling (up 7 points), E. S. Distilling (up 7 points) and the common shares E. S. Realty, White Sewing Machine, American Note, The Air Company, American Summit, The New York, London and Chicago and Manhattan, W. P. Carey, and an on ascending scale, Texas and Pacific, International Nickel, Western Maryland and Hudson Motors showed signs of pressure. Total sales approximated 2,100,000 shares.

Wool Market Is On the Advance; Mills Buy Freely

BOSTON, June 17 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"There has been a fairly good movement in wool in the local market during the past week and prices are showing a distinct tendency to rise; in fact, some descriptions have been marked up a half cent to a cent a pound and the fractional advance has been paid. The fact that mills are buying more freely and that there are wider inquiries for tops and yarns is indicative of a better situation in the goods market. The woolen mills are finding a fair volume of business on the whole, although it is not so well distributed.

The foreign markets are all against the buyer. East India sales in London being up to par to 5 per cent. In the west, buying continues steadily and values are showing an upward tendency, although no marked changes are reported for the week.

Mohair is steady on moderate trading.
