AT THE THEATERS

Milton Sills In "Framed" At Star Sunday, Monday

A background of unusual color combines with tense drama, thrills and romance to make "Framed," Milton Sills' latest First National vehicle, one of the most entertaining pictures of the season.
The picture, which will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Star Theater, begins with French army life, across its amazing mountains, across the Atlantic to the colorful city of Rio de Janeiro, the Brazilian diamond mine and the Amazon penal colony. Sills has a rugged and powerfully dramatic role as the court-martialed French army officer who first announces his country and then women, as each in turn proves false.
Plunged into the picturesque and stirring atmosphere of diamond mining, with its dangers, and its intrigues, resulting from the lure of the precious gem, he finds love again. This time he fights his way through all the misadventures of a man torn between his heart and his mind. It is a pleasure to see this actor in an outdoor part after so many dress-suit roles.
The vaudeville for Sunday promises a brilliant series of articles among the most prominent and heralded as a positive feature are the "Five Pallets," Gipsy, "Golden Voiced Fashion Plates," a quintet of beautiful song birds presenting a program of operatic and popular song hits which they render most charmingly. Martin and Walters in "Make Me Laugh," offer a farcical travesty with smart dialogue, amusing situations and a song or two to make the offering refreshing. Mack and Mary Wever have a specialty in which the offering consists of their own songs and comedy presented in a somewhat different manner. Jack and Eric present what they term a "satirical vaudeville revue" whose versatility is unquestioned. They embody in their act a little bit of almost everything in the line of entertainment. Tom Quinn is an entertainer in the black face comedy in the miniature black face comedy.

Mae Murray And Vaudeville At Arcade Sunday

Not since "The Merry Widow" has Mae Murray had a picture that cooperated in artistry to "Affairs of Desire," in which Conway Tearle plays the featured male role. This new production, which was directed by Charles Calmar, will be shown Sunday only at the Arcade Theater in addition to the regular vaudeville bill.
"Affairs of Desire" is a delightful combination of comedy and drama that is never played with a heavy hand. Her Claire Sutherland is a new type for Mae Murray, in that it depends largely for its appeal on subtlety and whimsical situations. The first half of the picture the star plays with a pretty insouciant air, and in the latter scenes braves herself an excellent dramatic actress.
Conway Tearle plays the Southern character who becomes enamored of Claire against his better judgment. Tearle gives an excellent picture of a man torn between his heart and his mind. It is a pleasure to see this actor in an outdoor part after so many dress-suit roles.

"West of Broadway" Is Feature At Sherrys Theater

A band of cowboys in Wyoming agree to form a regular in-town club and country club to the exclusion of women, and then—a pretty young girling intruder appears at the scene. That is the theme of "West of Broadway," latest Metropolitan thrill picture, "West of Broadway," which will have its premiere showing at the Sherry Theater today only.
Because of her mannish dress she is mistaken for a young man and allowed to enter the club as an interior. At a dinner to the honor, Priscilla reveals that she is a woman and then the trouble starts.
The founder of the club, an irreconcilable woman hater (Arnold Gray) orders her out, but Priscilla challenges him to put her out and she remains. Meanwhile, a cattle rustler and his band of cutthroats view the golf-playing but with delight because the novelty, they found, takes the riders from their dupe with the herd.
Priscilla, after many fits with the woman-hater, makes him fall in love with her and then to torment him she flirts with the cattle rustler. She sets out to trip the rustler single-handed and she does much to the astonishment of the woman-hater. Things adjust themselves nicely and at the end we find Priscilla in the woman-hater's arms and a big sign "Women Welcomed" over the portals of the world's first exclusive golf and country club in the wild, wild West.
Arnold Gray, Majed Coleman and Walter Long are featured. Robert Thibault, maker of a score of thrill pictures, directed the production. Comedy showing "Grandpa's Boy."

"The Love of Sunya" At Sherrys Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

Spectacular, beautiful and historic scenic effects help make "The Love of Sunya," Gloria Swanson's first United Artists picture, which returns to the Sherry Theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the greatest photoplay in which the star has appeared.
The scenes in "The Love of Sunya" range from a poor man's slum in America, to the famous Opera Comique, a temple in the Himalayan mountains and striking scenes from Paris, New York and a small suburban city.
This wide variety of scenes is required because of the five characterizations. Miss Swanson portrays a woman in America, one in France and the other in Egypt. She is seen in the incarnation of an Egyptian girl. Centuries later she vivifies a modern young girl. Next she is found in the characterization of the temperamental opera singer who captivates Paris. Then she portrays a school teacher and, finally, the wife of a millionaire.
The grand music, in which Miss Swanson lives in her characterization of the poverty-stricken school teacher, was copied from a house photographed in a
