Pittsburg's Pirates today had their backs to the wall in the fight to retain leadership of the National League. The Cardinals were within half a game of the top. The victory which cut down the Browns' lead went to the Cardinals at Pittsburg yesterday, 7 to 5.

Better pitching as well as good hitting helped the Cards win. The Yankees won 6 to 2 in their duel with their nearest rivals, the revised Athletics.

The Chicago Cubs gained sweet revenge for a defeat the day before by annexing an eleven to four victory over the Reds, while the White Sox obtained a 7 to 2 decision over the Indians from the pitching of Ted Lyons, only to lose the second half of the double bill 12 to 4 as the Redskins fell

Cochet Defeats Hunter Today In Quarter Finals

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 28 (AP)—Playing one of the streaks of "inspired" tennis for which he is famous, Henri Cochet, of France, came from behind to defeat Frenchman T. Hunter, American, in their quarter final match here today.

Hunter dominated the courts for the first two sets, keeping the Frenchman away from the net with low deep drives to the base line and corners. Then Cochet attacked the net and ran off the last three sets to win at 3-6, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

Cochet's victory put him in the semi final, to which his fellow countryman Rene Lacoste had advanced earlier in the day by beating the Czech-Slovakian Karl Eschenich in straight sets at 6-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Helen Wills, former American champion, reached the semi-finals in the women's singles by defeating Mrs. Penseck of South Africa, 6-2, 6-1.

Miss Betty Nuthall, the English school girl who created a sensation last Thursday by defeating Mrs. Molla Mallory, was eliminated by Miss Jean Frye, who won at 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Washington and Detroit, just a jump or two behind the three leaders in the American League, both failed to victory. The Senators' 9 to 3 decision over the Red Sox was their fourth straight at Boston's expense, while the Tigers' 4 to 2 decision over the St. Louis Browns gave them a flying start in the series.

TOUGH ON THE CANVAS

First Goldstein dropped Terris for a count of nine; then Red jumped up and whang-gold—Goldstein was out for the night—as excellently picture here. (NEA Service, New York Bureau) discouraged back to industry and happiness.

"Why, this is a regular workshop!" exclaimed John Abbott, with reproachful eyes on his wife, who had told him she wanted him to meet a Mr. Elton, who was interested in accident cases. It was the only way she could get him out of the house, where he had been sitting, morose and dejected, ever since that dreadful scalp wound received at the factory had been repaired by skilled surgeons. "You know I'm not able to work," and he started to back out of the door.

You would be, too, if you'd had a dangle arm, thanks to someone's shooting the most of your shoulder away in a hold-up. The Doc made him a new shoulder by taking some bone out of his leg and, after the wound had healed, and the graft th-

Marshall Resigns State Commission

SALEM, Ore., June 28 (AP)—William A. Marshall, member of the state industrial accident commission since its inception in 1912, has submitted his resignation to Governor Patterson and on July 1 will enter the federal service as a deputy commissioner in charge of administering the longshoremen's and harbor worker's compensation act. His headquarters will be in Seattle. The office carries a salary of $5,200 a year.

The accident commission admin-fers the state workmen's compensation act and has one man representing the workers and the employers and one the state at large. Marshall represents the workers and is the only member who has served since the inception of the department. He has had 11 different associates. His present term would have expired January 1, 1928. Marshall left for Seattle last night to obtain quarters.

W. H. Fitzgerald, of Portland, deputy state labor commissioner, is a candidate for the appointment to succeed Marshall.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Putting plenty of the right kind of rubber in the right place is a most important element in the building of United States Tires. This Web Cord machine soaks all the Cotton Cord for Royal Cord Balloons with pure rubber latex. Latex is the right kind of rubber to impregnate the Cotton Cord.

If you were building a tire for yourself, you would not skimp on the rubber. Neither do we. This Company owns enormous rubber plantations including the largest producing plantation in the world. On these plantations are 10,000,000 rubber trees—pedigreed stock.

We have invented Sprayed Rubber—the outstanding process for producing rubber. Sprayed Rubber is the strongest and most uniform rubber known. It is made without the use of smoke or acids.

We have invented Web Cord, the most modern way of combining rubber and cords.

The policy of "Plenty of Rubber" plus the ability to get the rubber and the skill to put the right kind of rubber in the right place, shows itself in the quality of Royal Cord Balloons on the wheels of your car.

THE FINAL STEP IN SURGERY GETTING BACK TO THE JOB

By Fred H. Allen, M. D., New York City.
Member Guggenheim Memorial Fund.
An effective antidote to post-operative despondency and hindering the Curative Workshop is the final step in surgery, and the highest back to permanent employment. Like a frightened child stuck knee deep in a bog, many an acute patient, discharged from the hospital as "recovered" after a difficult operation, sinks in the mud of mental depression and physical weakness, gazing hopelessly at permanent employment which he can see but cannot reach.

You may shout to the child: "You're all right, dear. Come on out," and he will stand right where he is, crying louder and sinking deeper. But throw him a plank, and watch him shake the mud!

Just so with the patient. The surgeon discloses him: "You're all right now. In a week or two go back to work." But a week or two finds him still sitting in his room, thinking of the days when he was earning a good weekly wage, and that he'll never be able to do it again. Thinking of how the boat struck him, describing to his wife the peculiar sensations he has about the wound.

He needs a plank. That plank is work, diplomatically and psychogenically planned, but under actual industrial conditions, paid for each week, on a production basis—no sheltering or charity, work on a real man's commercial product—not effeminate basketry—yet offering various stages of difficulty. Such is found in the Curative Workshop, tucked away at 28 West 23rd Street, New York City, which for three years has led the

SURPRISE

Harison James Johnston of Minneapolis gave the picture and spectators at the national open golf meet at Oakland a sudden surprise on the first two days by going for low in the opening rounds. On the third day's play he dropped behind, however.

This is the busiest age ever known. But it knows the wisdom of taking time for enjoyment.

Busy smokers of today select Camel as their favorite smoke

PRESENT-DAY people, the fastest workers of all time, claim their right to enjoyment. And they choose Camels for the utmost in smoking pleasure.

Camel is made to please and delight the modern, experienced smoker. It is rolled of the choicest tobaccos grown. It is matchlessly blended for mildness and fragrance in the smoking.

Let Camels demonstrate their goodness and you'll know why the smokers of today choose them over all other cigarettes. For that exalted sense of taste-satisfaction, no other smoke can compare with this one.

"Have a Camel!"
