FOREST SERVICE SCHOOL CLOSSES

Government Employees Instructed in Best Methods of Fire Fighting

The last day of a three-day school for instructing forest service employees of the Umatilla national forest in fire fighting is under way at Menahan today. Forest rangers, lookout men, and all officers of the Umatilla forest from Dayton to Elgin are in attendance at the meeting, which opened Thursday morning and will close this evening. J. H. Irwin, of Pendton, district supervisor, and T. M. Talbot, law enforcement officer from Portland for the Umatilla forest, are in attendance at the meeting. A school of this kind is held every year just before the beginning of the forest fire season. Demonstrations with fire finding machines are given, also demonstrations in using the Fairbanks-Morris pump used in fighting forest fires. With the approach of the fire season all forest service employees are asked to spread the word that tourists, campers and everyone be careful of forest fires. L. H. Russell, Union county fire warden, and Leal Russell attended the school Thursday and Friday.

Two districts have failed to report. A barber in New York was run over by his own car. Well, that'll give the poor fellow something to talk about, anyhow.

years and he expresses amazement at the progress that is evidenced. He especially praised the Oregon highways. "They are superior to any I've ever travelled. Even though I am from California, I take my hat off to Oregon," he said. Mr. and Mrs. Riggs are visiting with Mr. Riggs's sister, Mrs. E. A. Sayre, and with Mrs. Riggs's sister, Mrs. G. A. Barnes. They will take a side trip to Wallowa lake before returning home. Mr. Riggs made his home here for about two years before going to California. He is superintendent of the gas plant at Modesto.

WALLOWA WAS UNDER OCEAN IN DIM PAST

deposits over an area as extensive as are indications, but that this would be unusual in forestal foundations like the Columbia lava in which this type of coal occurs. The lignite has been used near here, especially by blacksmiths, who find that it yields great heat but that it gives off gases which are somewhat objectionable.

Coral Fossils Found—Going back still further into ages gone by, Dr. Smith told why he believes tropical sea once covered part of the Wallowa mountains. Fossils, which are known to only exist in such water, were discovered near the quarry of the Black Marble & Lime company on the mountain south of Enterprise. He estimates that the fossils of coral were more than 10,000,000 years old.

By Smith said that to his knowledge there are the first fossils ever taken from this district. At an altitude of 6,300 feet his party also found a bed of conglomerate which consisted of water-worn pebbles and boulders. This would indicate that some river of rather great extent swept across a valley which has long since disappeared, or, Dr. Smith said, the rocks may have been worn by the waves of the great sea.

Wallowa Lake 233 Feet Deep—Earlier in the week his party made several soundings in Wallowa lake and the deepest point they found was 233 feet. The place in the lake which was supposed to be the bottom was only 240 feet in depth.

Train passed. Sixty passengers were the crowds to see their new heroes that the windows of compartments were broken and passengers jostled and pushed about.

After the arrival in Paris, the Americans set out for the Continental hotel in a drizzling rain with thousands of cheering Parisians braved the wet weather to greet them and to shout France's admiration of their skill and courage in their valiant fight against the storm conditions they had encountered throughout their great air voyage.

Levine Shakes His Hand—One of the first to rush up to the flyers and shake hands in congratulation was Charles A. Levine, who arrived in Paris yesterday with Clarence D. Chamberlin. Levine had waited 15 minutes for admirers who were eager to obtain his autograph.

The ceremony in the waiting room was brief and then the flyers, emerging from the station and preceded by 20 burly policemen, had to face a new mob of excited, cheering thousands. As they entered their waiting cars, they smiled and bowed and even kissed hands in acknowledgement of their welcome.

MOST OF CHARTS SAVED—PARIS, July 2 (AP)—En route to Paris today from Cuen, Commander Richard E. Byrd found to his happy surprise that most of his charts and important records of his trans-Atlantic flight were among the articles that were saved from the plane "America" yesterday.

ACOSTA INJURED

PARIS, July 2 (AP)—Bert Acosta, pilot of the trans-Atlantic plane "America" is suffering from a fractured clavicle and must wear his arm in a sling. It was learned today after an examination of the American aviator.

Commander Richard E. Byrd, leader of the expedition, is so fatigued and nervous from the strain of the flight through storm and fog that he must forego all social affairs for the next few days to devote his time to complete rest and rehabilitation.

Physicians, after a thorough examination, said that Commander Byrd had nothing the matter with him except nervousness and great fatigue and that he must give most of his time to resting for the present.

TO DECORATE BYRD

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Award of the distinguished flying cross to Commander Byrd will be recommended to President Coolidge by Secretary Wilbur. In addition Secretary Wilbur said he would see what could be done to take official cognizance of the part played in the trans-Atlantic flight by Byrd's three companions.

Jap School Ship To Visit Oregon

MALEM, Ore., July 2 (AP)—Governor Patterson has been informed by K. Inoue, Japanese consul at Portland, that the Taisei Maru, training ship of the Tokyo higher mercantile marine school, will arrive in Coos Bay on or about July 29, to remain five days. He requests the governor to advise with Coos Bay officials relative to facilities for the ship while there. Coos Bay will be the only Pacific coast port touched by the ship on its 50th training cruise. Aboard are 31 cadets, 13 officers, including Captain T. Asari, and 44 women.

The gradual advance to nation-wide favor by the Kimball piano is a far more convincing story than any sudden leap to popularity it could have been.

It has won and held the esteem of individual owners—one by one. These have told their story to others without bias. The immense number of Kimballs now in use is cumulative proof of merit.

When you hear the rare tonal beauty of the Kimball, you will realize wherein the reputation of this wonderful instrument lies. May we give you a demonstration today?
