Captain Fisher
Safe In Ichang,
London Reports

LONDON, July 11 (AP)—A London dispatch from Shanghai says that Captain Fisher, American master of the steamer Chichuen, who was captured by pirates two weeks ago, reached Ichang safely on Saturday, after having escaped from his captors.

The dispatch says that Captain Fisher, who was held for $25,000 ransom, returned to the Chichuen, which had gone around about 20 miles from Ichang. The dispatch said the Japanese owner of the vessel still was in the hands of the pirates.

SPEEDY JUSTICE
NORTHAMPTON, Eng.—A record for speedy justice is claimed by the police of this town. Mrs. Mary Blind applied at the police court for a warrant against her husband for assault. The latter was arrested, tried, and sentenced to 14 days' hard labor exactly fifteen minutes after the application for the warrant was made.

Evanson For Evansonian!
EVANSTON, Ill.—Residents of Evanson complain that they are being crowded off their municipal business by thousands of Chicago traders and shirkers—as the police have been ordered to keep non-residents of Evanson from monopolizing the lake front.

London beauty experts are analyzing cosmetics, still fragrant, taken from King Tut-ank-amen's tomb, to compare them with modern concoctions.

More than 2,500,000 frogs are shipped from Louisiana annually.

TO SHAVE OR NOT TO SHAVE
(Beg your pardon, Hamlet) O shave or not to shave—that is the question.
Whether 'tis better on the chin to suffer
The stabby bristles of profile Nature,
Or to take arms against the rising foreset,
And with a razor fell it. To soap,
to lather,
No more; and by the soap to say we end
The chin-tuft and the thousand natural snouts
That make fresh hairy—'tis a consummation Devoutly to be wished. To soap, to lather—
To lather, then to gash. Aye, there's the rub.
For in that fainy mess what necks may come,
When we are scraping off this lumpy coil, Must give us pause. There's the respect
That makes mustachios of so long a life.
For who would bear the whit'ning hairs of Time, The dandy's sneer, the masher's contumely, The pangs of despised love, the girl's disdain,
The insolence of shavers, and the spurns
That our city's fringes of the well-groomed take
When he himself might decent toil to make With a bare razor? Who would whiskers bear,
To sweat under a heavy weight of hair,
But that the thought of something after soap?
The substantial country from whose bourne
The ruddy drops are drawn, puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear the ill Than fly to others we know not of.
Thus razors do make cowards of us all.
And thus the native hue of the complexion Is checkered with the growth of other days,
And blades of well-forged steel and proper keenness
With this regard are left within their cases,
And lose the edge of action.

Ben Lyon And Pauline Starke
In "Dance Magic"

"Dance Magic," which proved to be one of the most widely read stories of the year when it was published serially in The Ladies Home Journal last winter, came to the Star screen in picture form last night and lived up to all its advance notices of action and story interest.

With Ben Lyon and Pauline Starke in the leading roles, the piece is exceptionally well cast, surprisingly well in view of the fact that almost every player but the two principals was recruited from the Broadway stage without previous screen experience.

The story tells the struggles of a girl to free herself from the prejudice of her New England home against dancing, runs away to New York and becomes a star in a musical comedy.

Involved in a sensational murder, she finds refuge in the narrowness of the community she had fled, and finds there too the boy she loves but refused to marry, holding her career above all other interests.

"Dance Magic" will be shown at the Star theater tonight for the last time, and in addition the latest comedy starring Mable Normand will also be shown.

FINDS SCHILLER LETTER PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—A hitherto unknown letter of Friedrich von Schiller was found at the town of Asch by the college professor L. Hueller. The letter, not dated, is addressed to Amalie, von Hueber, a niece of Frau von Stein, whose epic poem "The Maidens of Leubus" was included in Schiller's Almanac of the Muses in 1806. It is assumed that it was written during the last years of the great German author's life.

BOY SAVES FATHER
RUSKIN, Fla.—Daniel Holloway, bus driver, is thankful that his boy, Horace, can make a good cook.
The father was out in a boat 100 feet from shore fishing in the Little Manatee river and fell overboard and lost consciousness. The son could not swim. He made a cut from shore, the boat caught in the father's clothing and he was pulled out.

FLORIDA'S FASHIONABLE COWS
Dr. J. L. Reed, of the Pensacola health department, spent a few days at Robertsdale and Sil-verhill inspecting milk cows that supply the creameries. The cattle were inspected for appendicitis.

AT THE THEATERS

Madge Bellamy Scores In New Comedy

Beautiful Madge Bellamy, who who entertained us so well in "Sandy" and again in "Summer Bachelors" and "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl" is being presented at the Arcade theater today and Tuesday in a fast-stopping comedy-drama of metropolitan life.
The piece is called "Ankles Preferred" and was produced for Fox Films by J. G. Hystone.

Miss Bellamy plays the role of a young working girl who proves a great attraction for men. Too great an attraction, in fact, for the constant attention of the opposite sex annoys her. She's a very independent soul. She's also at a loss to account for the attraction, but not for long. It's her ankles! Thus the fitting title.
Throughout the production, Miss Bellamy supplies a crispness in her work which is a delight to behold.
She never allows a scene to drag.
There's always something doing.

Allan Forrest, who played opposite the little blonde actress in "Summer Bachelors," plays opposite her in "Ankles Preferred," but in a different manner. He's the villain. He gives an excellent performance, as usual.

Included in the cast are Lawrence Gray, J. Farrell MacDonald, and Harry Norlin.

"Barley Chase, popular Hal Roach comedy star, is to be seen in another of his comical fun creations. This one is called "Bigger and Better Blonde" and will be another feature of the program.
It is said to be good for many a bigger and better laugh.

MOUNTED RELAY CARRIES MESSAGE

Governor of Wyoming Invites President Coolidge to Visit His State

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 11 (AP)— The clock was turned back 65 years here today as "Butch" Bell dashed northward at 9:15 a. m. toward the Black Hills of South Dakota with a pony express message from Governor Frank G. Emerson to President Coolidge.

An old leather-splined stage coach, which also belonged to Cheyenne and Deadwood, S. D., when the trail was busy by road agents and Indians was drawn up before the capital steps two grizzled pioneers waited with the driver.

Bill rode his powerful sorrel up the steps, took the message burned on calf skin from Governor Emerson, put spurs to his horse and was off at top speed. Governor Emerson wore a broad-brimmed hat which rivaled the president's in gaudy capacity.

Delayed by Cameras
Shooting cameras and not Indians or outlaws delayed Bell's departure so that he left nearly 15 minutes late but it was expected this would be made up in the ride.

Francis Warren, young grandson of Senator Warren, was the second rider who took the message at the station ten miles north of Cheyenne. Twenty-seven mounted messengers will, in turn, ride day and night, until the invitation to visit Wyoming is delivered at the summit white house at 1:30 p. m.
Tuesday.

Governor Emerson will fly from Cheyenne Tuesday to Rapid City where he will meet the Wyoming delegation which will join the pony express messenger in presenting the message to the president.

Many a girl thinks she is fond of sports until she marries one.

Our idea of a perfect digestive apparatus is that of the cabbage worm.

Going "over the top" into no man's land at 4:30 a. m. Can you picture it? Of course you cannot unless you experienced the sensation. Shaking forward with machine-guns spitting death at you, can you picture it?
At the Star theater Tuesday and Wednesday you can see that very thing. "The Victory Parade" has been proclaimed by public critics as one of the greatest pictures ever filmed. Our own doughboys were the actors with mud and blood and deperate courage their only make-up and fate directing.

You see hundreds of mud-plastered yanks striding forward toward a shell hole, you see those same boys crawl out and dart forward. Some of them go right on.
Here and there you see one crumple and fall. "The Victory Parade" is too big, too tragic to describe in black and white, you have to see it to realize what it really is.
It tells a great story and at the same time should offer a strong argument against making war for aggressive purposes.

DO NOT SMOKE

A large percentage of fires are caused by smokers.
Moral: Do not smoke.
But occasionally you will find a man who enjoys the weed.
The answer is adequate fire insurance coverage.
