NO LONGER NECESSARY TO TOLERATE MOSQUITOES

By Franklin Martin, M. D., Chicago

President, Gorgas Memorial Inst.

Some day soon the people of the United States will have developed a "mosquito conscience." Then this broad land of ours will be free of mosquito-borne diseases, and people in city and country alike may have the full enjoyment of the great outdoors.

In many localities people are not yet awake to the knowledge that mosquito annoyance is preventable; that it is no longer necessary for tender flesh to furnish food for these hungry insects. Yet such is the case—as the result of the work of General William Crawford Gorgas in Havana and Panama.

In both areas General Gorgas wiped out yellow fever by wiping out the yellow fever mosquito. If mosquito freedom can be acquired in places where mosquitoes breed every day in the year, how much simpler the problem when the season is so much shorter.

The mosquito conscience which Gorgas developed in the Canal Zone is alive today. The discovery of a mosquito at Balboa causes great excitement. The discovery is followed up and the source of the mosquito destroyed.

The method he used to conquer the hoards of mosquitoes in the tropics has come to be known as "the Gorgas Plan", and it is being followed essentially in the east, south and west, where the slowly forming mosquito conscience is awakening.

General Gorgas was thorough in everything he did, so it is not to be wondered at that nothing less than permanent elimination was his ideal. The basic principle is to eliminate the breeding places, for mosquitoes breed only in stagnant water, by flowing off the water or filling the depressions; use oil or other larvicides as a substitute, only where drainage cannot be accomplished.

Under the guidance of the Gorgas Memorial Foundation the City of Chicago, too, is developing a "mosquito conscience." The Sanitary District, which is charged with the disposal of sewage from Chicago and 53 suburban cities and towns, the Cook county commissioners, the city health department, golf clubs, and trustees of more than a score of surrounding towns in three counties of northern Illinois are cooperating.

When all the people thoroughly understand the menace of mosquitoes and the simplicity of the measures to abate them there will be universal cooperation and success.

The control work which is under way in Chicago can be duplicated wherever mosquitoes exist and the Gorgas Memorial, following in the footsteps of General Gorgas, is ready to cooperate with communities who want mosquito freedom.

OFFICE CAT

TRADE MARK REG.

By Junius

For a bachelor to be really happy he should live in an apartment adjoining a married couple. Some of the legionnaires ought to have a happy time in La Grande.

* * *

The Office Cat comes to a point of order and puts this question: "When is a married legionnaire a bachelor?" Voice from the rear: "When he's in La Grande and the femme is home."

* * *

It's kinda funny, at that, how many of the legionnaires had to bring their wives.

* * *

"What has become of the old-fashioned war that did the victor some good?" Well, some of the boys brought home souvenirs and others pictures of mademoiselle.

* * *

An old maid of 110 years, says the way to live long is to stay single, and that the men are no account anyway, and tend to shorten a woman's life.

* * *

A sentence using the word moron:

"Papa said sister couldn't go out till she put moron."

* * *

No matter how smart you are, you'll always find someone else who is smarter.

* * *

Joe, the legionnaire, says that there are two kinds of girls—those we like to see get on a street car, and those we don't.

WAIVES EXTRADITION

PORTLAND, Ore., July 21 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff William Keller will leave tonight for San Francisco to take into custody Floyd Glotzbach, ex-chauffeur-husband of Madame Matsenauer, grand opera singer, who is wanted here on a charge of forging the name of Mrs. R. D. Inman, wealthy Portland widow, to a $5,000 check. Keller will return with the prisoner Sunday night or Monday.

Telegraphic information received yesterday by Sheriff T. M. Butlburt was to the effect that Glatzbach had waived extradition.

Fair Sex In Arms In Film At Arcade

"An army of pretty women" is a statement that just misses being an actual fact in "Lost at the Front," a hilarious war comedy of an entirely new sort that will feature the entertainment bill at the Arcade theater today, Friday and Saturday.

It misses because a few of the women in the feminine army used in the picture are plump, a few grotesquely angular. But the majority who appear in scenes in which the famous Russian Battalion of Death figure, are Pulchritude itself!

"Lost at the Front," directed by Del Lord, co-stars George Sidney and Charlie Murray, with Natalie Kingston, First National leading lady and Wampas Baby Star for 1927, as its eye-taking feminine attraction. The principal locale of the story, which Frank Griffin wrote, is the Russian front during the World war.

Murray upsets all his previous comedy records as an Irish policeman who gets tangled up in the Russian army. George Sidney, of "Potash and Perlmutter" stage fame, also outdoes himself as Murray's comedy teammate, in the role of a German reservist called to the front.

In riotous action that includes the Battalion of Death, however, Sidney and Murray "flee" under various flags, and even submit to examination as candidates for the feminine battalion. Miss Kingston appears as Olga, a Russian sculptress. The picture abounds with mirth from beginning to end.

Who remembers back when one of the prime exhibits at the fairs was the old-fashioned phonographe with ear tubes?

Colonial To Show Gilbert Starting July 23

John Gilbert, who has scored many an individual success, is adding new lustre to his name as the most popular and admired male star in America today and so the management of the Colonial theater is presenting him in "Flesh and The Devil," the opening picture to be shown Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

He was marvelous in "The Big Parade," wonderful in "The Merry Widow" and as the swash-buckling lover in "Hardelys the Magnificent" he out-Fairbanks himself. Here were three widely different characterizations and each he played each one to perfection.

Now comes "Flesh and The Devil" a story of later friendship, stolen love, the eternal triangle—with love scenes of such gripping intensity and dramatic sequences covering every shade of human emotion that you'll literally marvel at the range of characterizations within the power of this brilliant young star.

In the cast you will find the names of two other players who are creating a furore in motion pictures — Greta Garbo, whose great work in "The Temptress" and "The Torrent" placed her fun mail on a par with the more famous stars, and Lars Hanson, recently appearing in "The Scarlet Letter." Both of these come from Sweden, and we predict that their popularity abroad will soon be equalled here in America.

Besides being studded with stars, "The Flesh and The Devil" is exceptionally good motion picture entertainment, and we would like to see you in the Colonial theater during its engagement, which begins Saturday.

Remodeling Time

At this time of year many people think of remodeling their homes—some have the work done while away on vacations, others use the vacation period to personally supervise the work.

The installation of ¾ inch thick oak flooring over old worn floors is an important remodeling idea — so is the use of Bruce Cedo-line closet lining in clothes closets.
