HAPPY STUDENTS BEST

NEW YORK—"I urge upon pedagogues this truth, people learn best when they are happy," writes Leon R. Whipple, associate professor of journalism at New York University, in offering an anthology of features by his class. The book is believed to be an innovation, since every class member contributed. The professor said the class "laughed its way" through the course and learned more from jokes and criticisms than from lectures.

A girl of 18 has married a man of 82. That's carrying the love of antiquity pretty far.

OFFICE CAT
By Junius

Many a man would be troubled with chronic insomnia if he knew what other people knew about him.

Public: Once a man called a doctor. The doctor didn't arrive with in a half-hour, and the man wasn't mad.

"While, if you don't go to bed this instant, Papa's going to tell you a bedtime story."

"The trouble with the wife in the case," he said, "was that the other woman outgrew, outstepped and outshined her."

"My mother-in-law has a sore throat which prevents her from talking."

"Do you want something to cure it?"

"No—something to make it fast."

"I don't care whether I marry Tom, Dick or Harry so long as I can have diamonds, autos and furs."

"Then you don't want to marry Tom, Dick or Harry. You want Jack."

A group of men were excavating for a large office building. Several passers-by regarded them curiously and addressed the end laborer of the gang. "My man," he said, "what are you digging for?"

The workman looked up. "Money," he replied shortly.

"Money?" ejaculated the amazed wayfarer. "And when do you expect to strike it?"

"Saturday!" was the abrupt reply.

Speaking of Dumbbells

Mike: "Walk, Tex, and you succeed by your changed name?"

Pat: "No. I swim three-quarters of the way when I saw I couldn't make it, so I turned around and swam back."

"Your wife has a tremendous influence over you, hasn't she?"

"I'll have to admit that. Why, I've got so I positively enjoy living beyond our income."

Tim: "Tess, I'm the happiest girl alive! I'm marrying the man I want!"

Tess: "Pooh, you goose, that's nothing to the joy of marrying the man someone else wants."

No man knows how little he knows until his children get big enough to ask questions.

AT THE THEATERS

"Rich But Honest" Showing At Arcade

Tonight at the Arcade theater will be the last opportunity to see Fox Films rolling comedy drama "Rich But Honest," which is one of the outstanding photodrama successes of the season. Based on Arthur Somers Roche's magazine story and featuring a cast of youthful players, which includes Nancy Nash, Clifford Holland, Ted McNamara, Marjorie Beebe and Charles Holland, it is a film that will please every theater patron.

"Crazy to Art" is the title of the new Mack Bennett comedy which will be another feature of the bill. Will Rogers Film Added

Attraction at Arcade Tonight

According to Will Rogers, Ireland is America's only one hundred per cent friend. They don't owe us and they don't hate us, he says. And the rambling Mayor of Beverly, by Illinois ought to know, for he saw all there was to see when he went abroad as America's unofficial Ambassador. While over there he not only wrote up his trip but also made a film record of his journey which has been made into a series of twelve short pictures. The first "In Dublin" will be on the program at the Arcade theater tonight for the last time.

"The Claw" Is Attraction At The Star

"The Claw," the Universal-Jewel, starring Clair Windsor and Norman Kerry which is showing at the Star Theater today and Wednesday, comes as near being a perfect picture as even the most critical could ask. A great story by a great author, an all-star cast of players and a famous director.

Norman Kerry and Clair Windsor play the starring roles in the picture and are ably supported by a sterling cast headed by Arthur Edmund Carew, who, by the way, is fast becoming one of the best actors on the screen, while Kerry's portrayal in the picture is considered to be an outstanding characterization.

It takes 200 years to grow an 18-inch Birch tree... yet you can cut or burn it in half an hour. Your building may represent the accretions and savings of generations. How foolish for you to have an insurance premium and risk the instant loss of the money value of the labor of years! Don't try it. Consult this agency.
