MEDICAL SPRINGS PERSONALS

MEDICAL SPRINGS (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raymond, of Huntington, spent the week and visiting at The Park with his brother's family, F. M. Raymond. Several from here have been fishing on Catherine creek recently and caught several fish.

Mrs. V. Kennedy is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Gus Peters.

Cy Turner sold his lambs and delivered them to Baker for shipment Saturday.

The Medical Springs club will meet Thursday afternoon in Uncle Duhann's orchard.

The weather is hot and sultry here. There is no rain and the pastures are drying up. The snow has all gone off the mountain peaks.

Mrs. Clarence Colvin and daughters, Mrs. Edgar Bowman, Miss Nadine Colvin and Miss Alice Van Hartinger, of San Francisco, Cal., who have been touring Canada, visited over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Raymond. The party were old friends of Mrs. Raymond and a very pleasant visit was enjoyed. They also attended the celebration Monday at Medical Springs leaving Tuesday evening for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Martin, of Baker, motored out to Medical Springs Monday to attend the picnic and visit old friends.

Mrs. S. S. Doty received the sad news of the death of her sister at Delta, Utah. She will be remembered as Miss Zetta Fuller and has many friends at Medical Springs who were grieved to learn of her death.

J. R. Wankler and men are riding the range gathering fat cattle for O. Woodson.

F. Whitten and party were in the mountains at the lakes fishing recently. The water is too high at the lakes for good fishing, they reported.

Wallace Bolla surprised his friends and relatives by driving

AT THE THEATERS

See Paris In Picture Now At Colonial

An intimate glimpse of life in the underworld of Paris is offered in the B. P. Schulberg production, "Parisian Love," now showing at the Colonial theater. It is graphic in its detail of the lives of the apaches and the story is woven around a romance that reflects the only beauty of that sordid atmosphere. It has color, action, mystery and is intensely human. The story was written by F. Oakley Crawford and scenarized by Lois Hatchinson. It was directed by Gaubier, who is a director of much ability and many years' experience. The players are Clair, How, Donald, Keith, Lou Telleen, Lillian Leighton, Alyce Mills, Otto Matteson, James Gordon Russell, Hazel Keener, Juan de Briac and others.

Hoot Gibson In "Prairie King" At Star

If your taste in movies runs to strong doses of vim, vigor and vitality, instead of mush and milk, you'll get more than your share of nourishing entertainment when you see "The Prairie King," which is showing at the Star theater, today and Friday with Hoot Gibson in the stellar role.

Filed under the critical eye of Reeves Eason, who directed Gibson and the large supporting cast, including Barbara Worth in the leading role, this picture moves along in strong, plausible sequences to the final sentimental fade-out.

The picture starts out with the colorful scenes of a typical Spanish fiesta in a border town, where Gibson has wrought a fusion of Latin temperament and American speed and progress. While the festivities are going, the majesty of the law moves ponderously and slowly in the offices of Jim Gardner, the local legal light, who is revealing the contents of a will, naming three persons, each not known to the other, as the heirs to a rich gold mine, the estate of old Almer Vergigo, to whom they had once known small kindnesses.

The story builds up touchingly with the locals and action adding color to the picture. And Gibson plays the hero in a performance that adds another bull-eye to his score of sure-fire hits.

The cast of players in "The Prairie King" is very well chosen.

New Griffith Comedy Is Fast and Furious

Hailed as one of the mile-a-minute type of comedies that established Raymond Griffith as a star, "Wedding Bells" his new Paramount picture, comes to the Arcade theater Friday and Saturday.

The story opens up with Griffith sound asleep at a friend's wedding but from that point on little sleeping is done as Griffith labors furiously and uproariously to save his best pal from the machinations of a blonde vamp and to win a champion for himself.

A diamond necklace disappears and nothing contributes so much to the success of a Griffith picture as disappearing jewelry or other valuables as those who remember "Patius To Paradise" or "Hands

Hara, part, vice president of the National Surety company; it was not possible to have a good time for $5, and now the average youth in a position of trust is subject to strong temptation.
