The Newton family and Mr. Bunting are all former La Grande people. Bunting is now vice president of the Swabb Printing company. Miss Hanson will spend a week and during her trip at Seaside.
Mr. Peare in Portland— Following is an article taken from the Morning Oregonian about J. H. Peare, who is now in Portland, attending the national convention of the Knights of Columbus, of which Mr. Peare is an officer for the Oregon district. "I've never seen anything like it," said John H. Peare, jeweler of La Grande registered at the Hotel Portland. "The crops are simply immense. For some 20 years I have lived in La Grande and in all that time I have never known such a bumper crop and, of course, the farmers are delighted. There has been some grain knocked down, but this will be salvaged. They tell me that this year Union county will have the bumper crop of its history, and I believe my authorities are correct. The best kind of corn belt is a big crop and a good price, and that is what they will have this year. It is better than any legislation that congress can figure out."

Director Out; Stockmen Lose
Orderly Marketing Bureau in Portland Yards Needed, Kipp Says
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3 (AP)—That cattlemen have been losing large sums of money in the past month because of the discontinuance of the orderly marketing director at the Portland union stock yards was reported today to R. H. Kipp, manager of the marketing department of the chamber of commerce. Kipp began an investigation.
Cattlemen sending cattle to the stock yards had been maintaining the orderly marketing director, the cost being met by voluntary assessments deducted from the sales. This director's business was to keep the cattlemen informed of the market and to direct shipments so that at no time would there be more than sufficient livestock shipped to the stockyards to meet the demands.
The position was discontinued on July 1, since there had been confusion, and prices have dropped because of over-supply at certain times, said Kipp.
BETTER AIR SERVICE Proposed For Chile
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—South America, too, is to have passenger air service.
The South American Commercial Aero-Navigation company, which operates an air mail service between Santiago and Valparaiso, has announced plans to establish passenger and mail airplane service to Iquique in North Chile, Temuco in South Chile, and possibly to Buenos Aires across the Andes.
A representative of the company has gone to Europe to take charge of three passenger planes purchased for the new service.
In New York, including Niagara Falls, while in Washington, D. C., they took a side trip to Mt. Vernon, the home of George Washington, and also visited most of the national government buildings. Mrs. Hollister will leave tomorrow night for Corvallis where she will meet her children, Lyda Mae and Jack, who have been spending the summer with their grandmother. They will return together within a few days.
Prominent Oregonian Here— Joseph A. Wright, who, 25 years ago, represented Union county in the state legislature, and is well known to the "old time" friends about La Grande, is visiting here today on his way home from Portland to his present home at Sparta, Ore., with G. L. Kelly, and other friends in the city, including John McLaughlin, Judge J. W. Knowles and John Walden. Mr. Wright represented Union county when it included a large part of Baker county, and was prominent in state politics. Mr. Wright proudly exhibited a heavy gold watch and chain which was presented to him in 1884 by friends of Union county. "Gleaning at the date inscription on the watch," Mr. Wright laughingly recalled that La Grande was a very different city in those days than it is now. Mr. Wright's political career was a case of "like father like son" for his own father was twice governor of Indiana and was United States minister to Berlin under President Buchanan and President Lincoln. Mr. Wright still wears a uniform which his father wore on state occasions in Germany when he met with German notables, including Bismarck, who was a close friend of the American Mr. Wright is enthusiastic about the future of mining prospects in Baker county and declares that the mineral resources of Oregon are greater than many realize.

Home From Trip East— Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hollister returned yesterday from the east where they have been since early June. They spent 46 days in Cleveland, O., where Mr. Hollister attended the national B. of E. convention to which he was a delegate from the local organization. They stopped in Chicago and Omaha on their way east and in New York, Washington D. C., St. Louis, Denver and Kansas City before returning. While in New York Mr. and Mrs. Hollister visited with Frederick Schilke, daughter of Fred Schilke of La Grande, and a cousin of Mr. Hollister. They took the boat trip to Ellis Island and visited other points of interest.

Installing New Front— Work has started on the installation of a new and modern front at the Modern laundry here, at the corner of Washington avenue and Depot street. The large plate glass in the window was broken several months ago, during the Christmas holidays, when a wind storm blew the Ellis Christmas tree, located at that intersection, over and broke the glass.
Return Home— Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lindsay and daughter, Katherine, and sons, Waverley and Wallace, left yesterday for their home in Spokane, Wash., after visiting here for about two days at the home of Mr. Lindsay's mother at Island City, and with his sister, Mrs. E. D. Stein. They will make the trip by camp, and Mr. Lindsay is connected with the Fidelity National bank of Spokane.

PRESIDENTIAL POLITICS IN MAZE TODAY

The others who have been named as eligibles.
Whether Mr. Hoover will in-horn the Coolidge strength has been another subject of much speculation. The commerce secretary has added with Mr. Coolidge on man for the fighting points of his administration, including the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill some of whose features were endorsed by Mr. Dawes and Mr. Lowden.
Hoover Silent— Notwithstanding the persistent Hoover talk in Washington, there has been no indication either from Mr. Hoover or the white house that he was being groomed as the administration candidate. Several months ago reports gained currency that there had been a rift between the president and Mr. Hoover over the talk that Mr. Hoover was to succeed Secretary Kellogg. At that time a statement by the president about that subject was interpreted in some quarters as a rebuke to Mr. Hoover, but the president removed that subject from the white house was highly laudatory to the secretary.
On the surface with the exception of the Lowden candidacy, the activities on behalf of the other republican high lights have been unostentatious. Most of these men have been content to remain silent on political developments, and none of them has issued any public announcement of their desire to enter the white house. Nevertheless there are groups in and out of congress who are in sympathy with the programs which throw the nomination their way.
No More Word Expected— There are many politicians in Washington who are waiting to see whether President Coolidge will amplify his statement of yesterday, and that confirms they have little reason to believe he will do so. They concede, however, that political developments between now and convention time may bring a further announcement from him.
Meanwhile, those who have made in their reputations as political forecasters are saying little openly as to possible happenings in the next few months.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The word "choose" is frequently used in Vermont and is accepted to mean "plan" or "intend." Senator Dale, of that state, said today in commenting on President Coolidge's statement of yesterday.
Senator Dale indicated his own belief that Mr. Coolidge would indicate on the presidential race, and he does not think Mr. Coolidge is playing with that subject," he said.
NATIONAL COMMENT ON HIS DECISION NOT TO RUN
By The Associated Press
Comment from the men in the public eye upon President Coolidge's statement that he does not intend to run for president in 1928 followed.
Vice President Dawes, his decision will be received with regret by millions of his countrymen.
William M. Butler, chairman of republican national committee, "I am not convinced he will not run if nominated.
Former Governor Lowden of Illinois, republican, "I know of no man in all our history who has run away from the presidency.
Governor Smith, of New York, democrat, "No comment.
Frank W. Stears, close personal friend of the president, "I can't see that there is much to be said.
Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, "I regret the suggestion in the president's statement. However, I still believe as I stated in Chicago two weeks ago, that President Coolidge should be re-nominated and re-elected.
Franklin D. Roosevelt, who renominated Governor Smith at the democratic convention, "Interesting. It concludes.
Senator Shoup, republican, "I believe if the republican con-

HARVESTING OF WHEAT IS GOING AHEAD

are larger than for a number of years and appear to be well filled. This condition indicates that at least an average yield will be secured, despite the fact that but few of the fields have what could really be called a good stand of grain.
Spring Wheat Counting— All spring wheat crops have made a fine growth, both on irrigated and dry land, however, the drying winds which have been blowing much of the time during the past two weeks has dried the ground out considerably, and a good rain would prove very beneficial to spring grain.
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3 (AP)—Harvest and threshing of winter wheat proceeded without interruption and much spring grain has been cut in the milder districts, says the weekly Oregon crop report today. Immature grain suffered some shrinkage due to high temperature but most grain which has been threshed is of excellent quality. Corn is improving, but in irrigated sections needs rain.
Picking of raspberries and loganberries is mostly complete. Picking of cherries continues in some of the more elevated localities. Early apples and peaches are coming into market in increasing quantities. Fall fruits are sizing well.
