DOLE AIR DERBY SET FOR FRIDAY

Nine Planes to Leave San Francisco with Honolulu as Goal

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7 (AP)—With the $25,000 Dole Air Derby to Honolulu set for the start of the race at noon next Friday, three entrants were making their preparations towards San Francisco Bay today to join six others now lined up for inspection and places in the line of entry.

Showing interest with the Dole Derby is the plan of Edward F. Schick, Detroit business man, to fly from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, within ten days to attempt to lower by eight days the present record time for travel around the world. Schick's plane, to be christened the "Pride of Detroit" will be piloted by William Brock, a former air mail flyer.

At Charles Field, New York, Lloyd Dertant was tuning up the biplane "Old Glory" for a test flight to Cleveland on Wednesday, prior to his non-stop flight to Hawaii with James H. Hill, licensed pilot.

At Brunswick Ga., Paul H. Redfern was perfecting arrangements with several South American weather bureaus before attempting to attempt his non-stop flight from Brunswick to Francisco. The craft will fly alone and will probably take off within the next ten days.

Four Entrants Ready

At the Oakland airport today four entrants in the Dole race parked their planes while they journeyed over to San Francisco to attend the official drawing for places in the take-off on Friday. They were: Major Livingston Irving of Berkeley; "Avant" DeLaur, Elmer, flyer; Lieut. Bennett Griffin of Bartlesville, Okla., and Lieut. Norman Goddard, of San Diego.

Two other planes, the planes of Frank L. Clark, Hollywood stunt flyer, and Martin J. Smith, Honolulu's entry in the race, had their machines in San Francisco, ready for assignments to places on the runways at Mills field or Oakland airport.

Fly to Pease

From London, Ill., Charles W. Parkhurst planned to get into the air at daybreak with the idea of arriving in San Francisco in one hop. He is flying and Alving, Alving capable of developing 160 miles an hour in the 1700-mile journey to the coast.

Jack Frost, flying the San Francisco Express, enters, was ready for the hop off for San Francisco from Rogers airport, Los Angeles where he landed yesterday from San Diego.

The first political speech of Alvin Lincoln, made in Coos County, Illinois, in 1832, when he was a candidate for the state legislature, contained only seventy-five words.

Means of wealth paid so high as $2000 annually from a good cash crop.

"I thought you were working on Jay Frank's new house," said a house painter's friend.

"I was going to," replied the painter, "but I had a quarrel with him and he said he'd put the paint on himself."

"And did he do it?"

"Yes; that is where he put most of it."

STILL A CHANCE

Visitor: "Sorry I couldn't get to your wedding."

Host: "Never mind, I'll have another one soon."

Wife: "John, dear, I simply must have more clothes."

John: "Who says so?"

Wife: "The sales."

Pharisa Farmer: "Say, Jake, what is that new building you're putting up?"

Neighbor: "Well, if I can rent it, it's a barnyard. If I can't, it's a barn."

Some women think more about having their faces lifted than they do the mortgage on the house.

QUEER

A catfish was found in a river in Iowa that was almost exactly like a human.

It hadn't any ears.

AT THE THEATERS

"Broadway Buddy" Coming To Colonial Theater

"Broadway Buddy" will be at the Colonial Theater Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. This master of the telephone has entertained tens of millions with his performance over the radio and in New York City he has been greatly in demand for all higher classes of entertainment. At present the young man is on a trans-continental tour and Manager Crowley feels highly elated over having booked him for a two-day program here.

"Broken Gate" Is Highly Interesting

There were few dry eyes at times in the audience during the showing of "The Broken Gate" which was shown here for the first time yesterday at the Colonial theater. It can also be said that there were a great many lighter parts in this dramatic picture from the pen of Emmerich Reuss, the author of "The Covered Wagon."

The story tells of the battle waged by a lone woman who has been estranged in the town she was living for what they thought was a youthful indiscretion. Keeping her secret to herself it is suddenly brought to light by the return of her son when the townspeople thought had died when a child, she is unwilling to let her son know that she is his mother and also keeps from him the knowledge that his father, a judge, has seen fit to leave the stigma of "home lover" over his wife's head. Gossie succeeds in fanning the flames of hatred in the minds of many dramatic scenes. The story is unfolded at an heroic woman's fight against great odds, and the intervention of her son who learns his history and fights to the last for his mother.

In the cast the numerous characters are portrayed splendidly by Dorothy Phillips, William Collier, Jr., Jack Arthur, Phillip Scully, Gibson Goddard, Charles A. Post, Vera Lewis, Charles Thurston, Dick McDonald and Caroline "Spide" Rankin. The direction was by James C. McKay, who gave his audience a smooth, entertaining production.

The picture will be the feature attraction at the Colonial for the last time today.

Charlie Chaplin's "Shoulder Arms" At Star

"Shoulder Arms," Charlie Chaplin's classic comedy of the World War, which created such a sensation several years ago, has been released by Pathé and is now being shown at the Star theater, where it will be shown for the last time tonight. It threatens even to outdo its immense popularity of the previous showings.

Charlie as a soldier in a serenade. And when made a prisoner he is a riot. His antics keep last night's equally audacious in a constant state of laughter, and in making his efforts to escape he probably reached the apex of merriment. He typified the fishman's fabled flea to easiness: "When you put your finger on him he is not there!" This, indeed and far more, is the protagonist fact in the case.

In our opinion, Charlie has never done anything in such artistic low-comedy cleverness as "Shoulder Arms." It is a comedy classic.

Edna Purdunn is the heroine and makes a most charming French girl. Charlie's brother, Syd Chaplin, works all through the picture as the star's first aid and comedy assistant. Looking back over the years that have intervened since this was produced—long before Syd even thought of becoming a star in his own right—it is most interesting to recall a remark that Charlie made about his brother at that time. The comedian and producer most generously said that, of the two brothers, Syd "was not such a bad cut-up after all." In this picture Syd plays the part of Charlie's hunk and pal; his work runs all through the film and contributes in no small degree to the results.

A late Paramount News and Edward Everett Horton in "No Probabilities" are also a part of the program.

"Beau Geste" Truly Great Cinema Play

"Beau Geste" has arrived in La Grande. Gay, young, courageous "Beau" and his brothers brought smiles, romance, thrills and a few tears to an audience that saw the first showing of Percival Wren's driving, gripping novel at the Arcade theater yesterday.

"Beau Geste" is worth the fortune Paramount poured into its filming. It is worth the months spent by Herbert Brenson and two thousand men among the scorching sand dunes of the Great American Desert.

This story of the French Foreign Legion, breathes an immortal flame that any director might forfeit his life to obtain. The action hinges on the wonderful devotion of three young Englishmen, each of whom dreams from home in order that the blame for the theft of a famous diamond may fall on him although he believes one of his brothers to be guilty.

By common impulse all enlist themselves in an isolated Sahara fort which must meet an Arab attack with only 40 defenders. The sheer fearlessness of these wonderful soldiers in their pitifully brave defense adds to the drama of the story.

Donald Colman as "Beau" gives a portrayal which many are sure to place above his wonderful work in "The White Sister," the picture that started him toward the commanding place in the screen world of now holds. No more romantic a figure has ever flashed across the screen.

Revealing Colman are Neil Hamilton and Ralph Forbes, the other two brothers. A magnificent character is brought to life by Noah Berry as "the cruelest man and bravest soldier" in the Legion.

Acting honors also belong to all the others on the long list of players—by William Powell, Allen Joyce, Mary Brian, Norman Trevor and the rest. Few pictures in the history of the screen have contained so many marvelous characterization opportunities.

Paramount's "Beau Geste" is a great picture—dramatically, pictorially and entertainingly and the musical scoring of the picture by Guy Grey also adds much to the enjoyment.

"Beau Geste" will be the feature attraction at the Arcade theater for the next three days.

WILD MAN LOCKED UP

NEW YORK—"Coney Island's" wild man from Borneo" was locked up for a ton faithful portrayal of the role. Deceased at a spectacular, the negro filling the time-honored midway attraction, dropped his chains, forsook the bines he was supposed to gnaw and took after real raw meat. His prey escaped with minor lacerations.
