GOD'S OPPORTUNITY:—The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit, a broken and contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise. Psalm 51:17.

A world power is a nation that likes to run other nations' business for them.

Sacco and Vanzetti may be executed for murder, but the same old debate as to whether they're guilty will go right on.

When Premier Baldwin and Vice President Dawes met the other day, they neglected a great opportunity to compare pipes.

When the Internal Revenue Bureau rules that authors' royalties are "unearned income," a host of authors rise up and inform the I. R. B. that it doesn't know what it's talking about.

The death of A. L. Mills, Portland banker, is a loss not only to his home city but to all of Oregon. Seldom does a man high in financial and business circles of a state gain the position of prestige, of respect, of admiration as did Mr. Mills. He was prominent in many, many activities outside of business and was a most important influence in the building and development of the Northwest. Men of his own line of endeavor, bankers throughout Oregon, pay him high tribute. He was not an old man, was still extremely active and keenly interested in varied projects when death came. He could have and would have been valuable to Oregon for many years more and the loss of his work and his personality will be even more evident as the years pass. Citizenship such as A. L. Mills typified is not easily replaced.

THE WAR OF IDEAS

It looks like a civil war in this country, though fortunately not a war of bullets and bombs. According to Dr. Albert C. Dieffenbach, editor of the Christian Register and a modernist leader, the fundamentalists are organizing a national campaign to put over anti-evolution laws in every state in the union.

There are well organized fundamentalist activities being carried on, he says, in 22 states, and the crusaders are going to invade all the other states, even New York. He believes it will be a bitter war. The modernists are helpless at present against such onslaughts, because they are unorganized. He sounds a call for organization, lest the whole country wake up one of these days to the realization that fresh thought and scientific freedom are forbidden.

Anti-evolutionist activity does seem to be increasing. It may be that this evolution issue, which was supposed by scientific folk to have been fought out a generation ago, is still to be decided in the United States. If so, it is just as well to bring the issue to a head and have a discussion of it as free, full and fair as possible, in every part of the country.

A good deal of the argument on both sides is beside the point. There is a vast amount of misunderstanding about evolution, and considerable misunderstanding, too, as to what intelligent modernists are driving at. The decision should rest with the sane middle-of-the-road class, who are inclined to be safely liberal in this country. Surely no typical American, of this or any other generation, can want to suppress freedom of thought and discussion, or hobble scientific inquiry and progress.

As for "teaching evolution," there is usually some doubt as to what is meant by that phrase. If it means teaching in the schools the dogmatic doctrine that man is descended from some particular type of animal, and insisting on belief in that doctrine, there is good ground for objecting. If it means merely teaching children what is believed by evolutionists, as part of the general stock of information of an educated person, and letting them form their own conclusions, that is quite another matter. And if that sort of information is forbidden by law, we are entering on a period of meddlesome, dangerous and un-American legislation.

Los Angeles	53	90	.371

By the Associated Press

Portland drubbed the Angels twice, 5-4 and 7-6. In the first encounter the Angels scored four in the first of the ninth only to have the Beavers tally five times in their half. The second game went 14 innings before the Beavers pushed over the deciding tally. Batteries: Weathersby, Peters and Sandberg; Tomlin, French and Yelle. Second game: Wright and Hannah; Couch and Yelle.

The Missions split a double header with Sacramento, taking the morning game 4-2 and losing the afternoon affair 7-1. Batteries: Vinci and Severeid; Judolph, Christian and Walters. Second game: Singleton and Koehler; Barfoot, Bryan and Whitney, Walters.

Seals Break Even

The Seals earned an even break in the eight games of the series with Seattle by trouncing the Indians twice 9-6 and 12-2. Batteries: May, Mitchell and Rego; Edwards, Nance, Martin and Schmidt. Second game: Mails and Vargas; Knight, Brandt, House, Bridge and Jenkins.

Oakland divided a pair with Hollywood capping the first one 6-4, but losing the second 6-2. Batteries: Gould, Dickerman and Read; Shellenback, Mulcahy and D. Murphy. Second game: Cooper, Hasty and Root, Read; McCabe and Agnew.

REPUBLICANS ARE WARY OF NAMING CHOICE FOR 1928

FAVORS HOOVER

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 15 (AP)—Herbert Hoover's nomination for the presidency in the next republican convention is "inevitable" in the opinion of Representative Albert Johnson of Hoquiam, Wash., chairman of the immigration committee of the national house of representatives as expressed in a newspaper statement here today.

"Events have shaped themselves so that Hoover must be nominated," he said. "Fully appreciating the possibility of defection in the corn belt, it is clear to my mind that Hoover has great strength all over the country. I do not believe that Lowden can make headway because of lack of delegates from his own state.

"In my opinion, the country will refuse to take Dawes seriously. Though he is brilliant and worthy, the people are likely to consider him too spectacular."

Mr. Johnson characterized the new Haugen farm relief bill, presented recently to the president, as "worse than its predecessors."

"Those who would help the farmer are still on the wrong track," he added.

After the home stand that netted 13 victories in 17 games the Chicago Cubs were en route east today on an invasion, the score of which probably will determine the fate of the National league leaders.

The Cubs made a clean sweep of the three game series with Cincinnati by winning yesterday 7-2. By defeating Philadelphia 3-1, the Giants pulled up to within one game of the third place St. Louis Cardinals.

Ray Kremer's airtight pitching was too much for the Cardinals and Pittsburg strengthened its hold on second place with a 5-1 victory.

Brooklyn failed to end its losing streak and returned home to take a 4-0 beating at the hands of the Boston Braves.

The New York Yankees chalked up another one on the Washington Senators 6-2. Ruth and Gehrig failed to do anything about their home run dispute.

Detroit made it five in a row over St. Louis, the Browns being nosed out 5-4.

The White Sox finally broke their losing streak by knocking over the Cleveland Indians 7-3.

Charles F. Adams To Succeed Mills

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15, (AP)—Charles F. Adams was elected president of the First National bank of Portland today, succeeding A. L. Mills, who died last Thursday. Adams, who was vice president of the First National and president of the Security Savings and Trust company, had been associated with Mills for 37 years.

Mills and Adams organized the Security Savings and Trust company after they came to Portland in 1890 from Colfax, Wash., where they had been in the banking business together. Adams, who is 65, was born at Baltimore, Md. He graduated from Yale in 1881 as a civil engineer.

SUNDAY PLAYERS FINED $5

Hollywood Re-Enacts Passion Play

In a huge amphitheater in the hills of Hollywood, Calif., Palestine and the characters of the Bible live again in the seventh annual production of the Pilgrimage Play. Ian MacLaren as the Christus is shown to the left, with Lillian Sawyer cast in the character of John the Baptist. Young men lacked the necessary spiritual quality to play the part of the Baptist, according to the directors, so Miss Sawyer was chosen for the role.

BOUT WAS A ROUGH ONE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Old timers who saw the fight at Point Richmond, Feb. 22, 1916, when Ad Wolgast stopped Battling Nelson in round 40 to win the lightweight title, say it was probably the roughest, toughest battle ever seen in California.

Early in the bout the referee cautioned the fighters several times for butting. Finally he bumped their heads together hard and said, "Now go to it, butt all you want." Rules flew out the door then, observers say, and the pair hit each other with everything but the riarpasia. Nelson was badly battered and Wolgast only a little less so.

BALL KILLS SWALLOW

STEEP FALLS, Me.—A swallow flying over the baseball diamond during a game between Biddeford and Steep Falls teams was killed by a hot liner from the bat of John (Spuds) Grondin, Jr. Portland, playing for the Ideal club. The course of the ball was unchanged. It was caught by the left fielder.
