Surprise Party Is Complimentary To Mrs. Watson

Mrs. Irving Watson, who will leave La Grande soon to make her home at Pendleton, was the inspiration for a delightful surprise party last evening given by a group of her friends. About 29 women gathered at the high school building early in the evening and went from there to the Watson home on M avenue, where games, music and visiting was enjoyed. During the evening Mrs. Watson gave two humorous readings.

The rooms were attractively decorated with bouquets of garden flowers. Refreshments, which were furnished by the guests, were served at a late hour.

Mr. Watson, who is a passenger brakeman for the O. W. company, has been transferred to Pendleton and they will make their home in that city.

Sixteen members of the American Legion auxiliary drill team gathered at the home of Mrs. Albert Lamm last evening, and presented Mrs. Lamm, a member of the team, who was married during the state American Legion convention here, with a Windsor chair. Precious to her marriage she was Miss Blanche Rice.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Rose Currey, drum major, and Mrs. Lamm made a few appropriate remarks in accepting the gift.

The evening was spent visiting, after which refreshments, which were furnished by the drill team members, were served.

DEATH FROM CANCER OF THE BREAST REDUCED BY EDUCATION OF WOMEN

By Joseph Holt Bloodgood, M. D., Baltimore

Written for George Memorial Inst.

My studies show that injury of the breast seldom produces cancer, although there may be temporary little tumors due to areas of bleeding into the breast. The irritation, or whatever the cause may be, of cancer of the breast, is not yet established.

It is very important for the mental comfort of women to know this, because much misinformation and folk-lore romance have been distributed to the public. There is no reason, for any woman, married or single, whether she has nursed her child or not, or whether she had an abscess of the breast or not, to feel that any of these is the cause of cancer.

She should realize the danger of irritation of the nipple at any time of life, whether nursing a child or not, and its proper treatment.

If she notices a lump or bumps in the breast after an injury with or without a bruise, she should see her physician. Every woman should know that retracted nipples are more difficult to clean than the normal nipple, and congenitally retracted or inverted nipples as a rule can be restored to normal by proper treatment which every physician should know.

The only way at present by of cancer in these early cases is 25 per cent instead of 50. The chances of a cure are approaching 70 per cent, instead of being less than 10 per cent.

Therefore, the danger of cancer of the breast in a correctly informed woman who acts quickly is not very much greater than the danger of death from an automobile accident.

SWEET little girl pays no longer will be played by Mary Astor in the movie. She's being cast now as an oriental vampire.

which would not be protected from death by cancer of the breast is the correct information that if they feel a lump in the breast, with or without pain or tenderness, or experience pain in the breast, with or without a lump or bumps, anything unusual about either one or both breasts, they should seek an examination at once. My continued studies of more than a quarter of a century in the Surgical Pathological Laboratory of the Johns Hopkins hospital allow me to contrast the results of the reaction of the ignorant and uninformed woman and of the informed and enlightened woman.

The records up to 1926 show that women were ignorant and uninformed, with a rare exception here and there. Of those admitted to the Johns Hopkins clinic 89 per cent had cancer of the breast and 20 per cent had not. Of the 89 per cent who suffered from cancer, having watched the lump for months or years more than one-half were hospitalized and of the remainder, who could receive the benefit of Halsted's wonderful complete operation, about 20 per cent were cured.

This means that only about ten out of the 100 who had the benefit of the mazy-toua number surgery. Their death from cancer was due to ignorance which led to delay.

Since 1906 the majority of women have received correct information and are enlightened and the delay is always, with rare exceptions, less than six months. Hopeless cases have been reduced to less than 5 per cent from more than 50 per cent. The proportion

Polite Refuse substitutes if you seek the famous Quaker flavor

THE point to remember when buying breakfast oats is that only Quaker Oats have the rich Quaker flavor that you want.

One package of oats without that flavor may spoil your breakfasts for a week.

The price you pay is the same. Thus "trying" a substitute is a folly. Quaker flavor is the result of some 50 years milling experience. No other oats has it. Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed.

Get Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2 1/2 to 3 minutes, or regular Quaker Oats as you have always known.

Your grocer has both kinds.

Here is the Secret of Making Delicious French Fried Potatoes

THE secret lies in Mazola—the absolutely pure vegetable oil—pressed from the hearts of fully-ripened golden corn kernels. Mazola reaches a high temperature without smoking and thereby seals in instantly the mealy flavor of the potatoes. When ready to serve, Mazola French Fried Potatoes are absolutely greaseless.

Once you try Mazola for frying you will never go back to the old fashioned way of using animal fats.

And, like millions of other modern housewives, you will prefer it for shortening and salad dressings.

This recipe is from Ida Bailey Allen's New Book "The Modern Method of Preparing Delightful Foods"—see coupon below.

1 1/2 pounds Irish potatoes Salt Mazola

Scrape and pare the potatoes and cut lengthwise into long strips, about sixteen to a potato. Rinse, dry on a towel, put in a frying basket and plunge into deep Mazola hot enough to brown a bit of bread in a minute and a half, 325 degrees F. Drain on paper, dust with salt and serve.
