ELEVEN NATIONS ENTER SWIMMERS

Twenty-One Mile Ontario Marathon to Be Event of 31st of August

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Threatened by rips and rums—runners but they could the waters of Lake Ontario will have the greatest international field in swimming history to start the 21-mile marathon off the Canadian national exhibition grounds Aug. 31.

Conceived primarily as a tribute to George Young, native son, who swam to fame in the 25-mile Catalina channel swim last winter, the race offers a reward of $10,000 to the winner with an added $1,000 if a woman streaks first across the finish line. Additional prizes for the first three swimmers will be $1,000, $500 and $250.

About 400 overboard swimmers, including every distance champion of note with the exception of Gertrude Ederle, will line up with the 100-yard swimmer for the first of their laps over the triangular seven-mile course.

Two competitors of the English channel—Ernest Vierkötter of Germany and George Michel of France—are in the list of entries from England, Denmark, Germany, France, Belgium, China, Greenland, Holland, Hawaii, Canada and the United States.

Honolulu has two representatives in Duke Meila and Nawaikin, both natives. F. Kalm, registered from Detroit, is an Eskimo originally from Greenland. A Mayan, an Englishman has come all the way from Hong Kong to participate. Howard Munnick is from Honolulu. Bernard J. Jones, a 33-year-old Cape Breton, Ont., is an Indian. Clay Parshelt is the Norwegian champion.

With the single exception of Miss Ederle, almost every woman who has achieved fame in long distance swimming will face the water's end at 9 a. m. Lottie May Schomann, a sensation of the great bathing suit, Charlotte Barrett, New York schoolgirl, who nearly conquered the English channel, and Miss Ethel Herie will represent the Metropolitan water. Jane Wien, Belgian champion; Mrs. Leta Sullivan of Honolulu; Mrs. L. F. Poirer of Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. Dorothy Worth of Montreal are other leading entries.

Two "long shots" who will have the favor of the spectators, if not the experts, are Michael Hamberg, 19-year-old Toronto youth, and George Cummings of Sudbury, Ont., who lost both legs in an accident when young. Hamberg will be guided by an electric bell ringing constantly, and attached to his wrist. The younger entries are Arthur Compton, 14, of Long Beach, Cal., and Romire Deborne, 15-year-old Montreal boy.

Four favorites loom in the field. They are George, 22, whose powerful crawl and stamina conquered the stormy stretch of the San Pedro channel when 100 other starters failed; Norman Ross of Chicago, who has relinquished all claim to amateur standing in order to compete; Ernest Vierkötter, and Edward R. Keating, New York public school swimming instructor.

Keating, a life guard at Sheepshead Bay in the summer months, won the $10,000 Lake George marathon in July, finishing alone in a field of 148. Never changing his steady over hand beat, Keating pulled through the 24 miles of chills currents against a choppy sea in 18 hours, 47 minutes and 15 seconds.

For the first time in aquatic history, a marathon swim will be within sight of the spectators on shore at all times, while a book-up of 12 broadcasting stations will carry a detailed story of the event through the air.

FOOTPRINTS

(NEA, Boston Bureau) John G. Power, of Danvers, Mass., plans to leave his footprints on half the world before he is 40 years old. He will start from New York to Paris, 17,000 miles. His route, which he expects will take him 3 years to cover, will cross the United States, Canada, Alaska, Siberia and Europe.

The Pacific Coast conference has divided the points covered in last year finished in second place after showing the way most of the season.

BELGIANS OBJECT TO GERMAN MEMORIAL

PARIS (AP)—Belgian newspapers say Germany wants to put up a war memorial for her dead in Belgium. The idea is meeting much opposition.

The plan is said to be to erect the commemorative pile near Ypres, where nearly 400,000 German dead are buried not far from the other frontiers.

Belgian criticism makes little reference to the relief homes built to be rebuilt, and suggest that Germany have spending money on a memorial in the country's country, until the conditions make the situation in Belgium are taken up.

A DIFFICULT GAME

PARIS (AP)—"Polo" is the name of the game played in the court of the French courtiers. It is a game of French sports, although the difficulty of the game limits its spread.

Polo is somewhat like basketball. The most popular form of it, however, is played with long, hooked, sticky, gum-like baskets strapped to the hand. With this "stick" the player's rubber ball is thrown with tremendous speed and force against a high wall at one end of a long court. The ball must be caught in the air or on the first bounce by an opposing player.

Yankees Wallop St. Louis Browns 17 Straight Games

By the Associated Press
Portland found an opponent for the 4-4 game in the final series of the season by taking last year's of the Boston Braves. The victory was 7-1 and 7-2. Winning streak of 17 to the first game when a change of base hits added the runs to the seventh inning. Johnny Smith was the star for the Sox in the final hit, leading them to four hits.

Portland's 4-4 victory in the first game, this double header meant not the Sox but the Sox by capturing the afternoon game 7-1.

After losing the first game to the Sox, 5-2, the Los Angeles Angels defeated the Missouri K.C. in the second game.

The Sox won the series from Hollywood four games to three when they captured both games at Comstockville, 4-1 in the morning and 4-2 in the afternoon.
