LONE FLYER MAY BE LOST IN JUNGLES

fern, young aviator who left Brunswick, Ga., Thursday afternoon in a lone attempt to establish a world's non-stop record by flying 4600 miles to Rio Janeiro Brazil.

His route lay over the path of the gulf stream, east of the Bahamas across the extreme tip of Porto Rico and thence over the eastern part of the Caribbean sea to the Venezuelan coast.

Redfern planned to continue over Dutch Guiana and the northeastern part of Brazil until he reached Macapa on the north bank of the Amazon estuary. If conditions were favorable he planned to continue to Pernambuco, 1300 miles further down the coast, or to Rio, another 1200 miles.

No Authentic News

Since his start there has been no authenticated news of his being sighted although it was reported from the Bahamas that a steamer had seen his plane, progressing southward.

HOPE RENEWED

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 29 (AP)—Renewed hope that Paul Redfern may have reached South America was given today to the wife and friends of the aviator here today on receipt of the Associated Press bulletin from Caracas Venezuela.

The news was communicated immediately to the young wife of the aviator who has been staying with friends here since her husband hopped off at 12:48 p. m. Thursday for Brazil.

Redfern's plotted course, however, did not carry him over Venezuela and if the airplane reported sighted there was the Port of Brunswick the aviator had been blown off his course a few hundred miles to the westward.

Redfern's mapped schedule called for his passage over the Grenada Islands and the towns of St. George Friday morning.

A stretch of 485 miles of water should have brought over the Tobago islands 330 miles from Continental land. Friday afternoon he expected to be near Port of Spain, isle of Trinidad, and Friday night he hoped to pass over the continent through Dutch Guiana but should he encounter several head winds he would have been held back possibly until Saturday morning before entering South America.

His south 45 degrees east course would have taken Redfern inland and over South America at the mouth of the Copperame river in Dutch Guiana, west of Paramaribo.

Has No Radio

Since Redfern was alone and had no radio, he had to figure out as best he could his course in case winds or storms swerved him from the plotted route.

The hope was held here, that the aviator, in trying to dodge storms reported in the lower Caribbean, turned purposely from his course and had descended safely somewhere in the interior of northern South America, perhaps at some point where there is no wire communication.

If Redfern was forced down in the interior and escaped injury, he had sufficient food to last for ten days and safety appartus by which he predicted before leaving he might almost indefinitely exist in the jungles.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 29 (AP)—A. J. Varner, chairman of the state department had been requested to ask assistance of all South American governments in searching for Paul R. Redfern.

THE PRESIDENT GOES FOR A GALLOP

President Coolidge, with his 16½-gallon hat and his kodak shown, is shown here on his favorite mount, Mistletoe, just before starting on a gallop over the Black Hills in South Dakota. The president rode to Mt. Rushmore the other day for the ceremony marking the beginning of work on the Jefferson-Lincoln-Roosevelt Memorial, which is to be executed out of native rock in Granite Mountain. This excellent NEA photo is one of the very few ever taken of President Coolidge on horseback.

SURE OF TERM AS SIOUX CHIEFTAIN

Whether or not President Coolidge is renominated by the republicans, he is sure of one term anyhow — as Chief Leading Eagle of the Sioux tribe. The president was recently received into the tribe at the Days of 1876 celebration at Deadwood, S. D.

WOMEN FIGHTERS ATTEND VALENTIN SERVICE

LONDON (AP)—Thousands of women fought their way into Shepherds Bush Pavilion, a London theatre, to a "Valentino Memorial Service" performed in a "Temple of Remembrance" on the stage.

This "Temple" had smoking censers and tall candlesticks on either side of a plinth, the lower step which was decorated with the letters "R. V." A large laurel wreath rested against it. On top was a large picture of Valentino, and the Italian flag.

The "service" was conducted by the English film star Ivor Novello, who after placing a bunch of red roses in the "temple" delivered a short speech. A tenor vocalist sang Massenet's "Elegie." Women wept.

DRESSMAKER HAS BAG FOR THIRSTY BUYERS

PARIS (AP) — A wholesale dressmaking house has added a refreshment bar and buffet to its establishment. Patronized "buyers may nourish and sustain themselves without quitting the premises and possibly falling into the hands of competitors.

"Not only soft drinks but cocktails and "hard liquor" are available. A small grill room is run with the bar. American buyers are particularly enthusiastic in their approval of the innovation.

ROUND-THE-WORLD AVIATORS ARRIVE IN MUNICH TODAY

count of the altitude, to keep the beverage hot.

The flyers were enthusiastic about the planes action.

"As to the motor," Brock remarked, "she never missed a rev"—meaning revolution. They estimated they used only 9½ gallons of gasoline hourly and two gallons of oil.

The Pride of Detroit, whose speed varied considerably did not establish a time record for the cruising. The first plane to blaze the Atlantic trail, from Newfoundland to Clifden, Ireland, which was flown by Alcock and Brown in 1919, covered the distance of 1,960 miles in 16½ hours an average speed of 120.9 miles an hour.

Nevertheless, when the aviators went to bed at an early hour last night, they expressed confidence they would accomplished what they set out to do—make a round-the-world flight in less than 28 days.

Pride of Detroit:

Aug. 27—Left Harbor Grace, N. F., 6:14 Eastern Daylight time.

Aug. 28—Arrived Croydon, England 5:35 a. m., E. D. T., flying approximately 2250 miles in 23½ hours.

Aug. 29—Left Croydon at 3:52 a. m. E. D. T., arrived Munich shortly after 11 a. m. E. D. T. after flight of approximately 600 miles in an little more than seven hours.

AVIATORS TURN BACK

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 29 (AP)—The monoplane Sir John Carling, which took off early this morning for London, Eng., returned to its starting point today, driven back by a storm it ran into south of Oakville.

Captain Terry Tully and Lieut. James Medcalf took off in the Stinson-Detroiter monoplane at 5:30 o'clock this morning and were back at their starting point at 11 o'clock.

Although the weather was fine at the hop-off, the aviators ran into a heavy rainstorm while flying over Lake Ontario. When they reached Oakville, just west of Toronto, they decided that storm conditions were so severe that it would be unwise to continue.

PARIS (AP) — "What are pearls?" It has been decided in favor of the oyster by the French courts. The case was a test brought by defenders of the Japanese "cultivated" pearl.

These also are grown in oysters and as they are not "false," the court said but they are not "real" or "natural." The court ruled that they must be designated as "cultivated" or given some equivalent description.

The ruling, long awaited by jewel experts, was decided on appeal. A recent jewel experts' congress, representing 12 countries, decided the French court's verdict would be accepted as a trade rule.
