

MAJESTIC SCENERY

SPLENDID RESOURCES

The Metropolis of the Beautiful Wallowa Valley

ENTERPRISE

A beautiful setting at the foot of the majestic Wallowa mountains—a wide territory rich in agricultural, mineral, and timber resources—an up-to-the-minute community. Enterprise invites the tourist and vacationist; it charms the home-seeker and settler; it convinces the investor and developer who would capitalize its varied natural advantages.

Enterprise is in the center of a rapidly developing farming region that promises extensive dairy activity. Already there are many fine dairy farms throughout the county and conditions are considered particularly ideal here and are proven by surveys and by actual experience. A cheese factory is flourishing and will be expanded as dairy products increase in volume.

Fine pine timber from which lumber is being manufactured by a big plant here—one of the finest lime quarries in the world with a new plant promising volume production in the near future—these are two prominent industrial activities and there are numerous smaller operations equally successful.

Excellent schools, churches, and active civic organizations make the community attractive as a place to live. A fine business district known for its good stores, shops, banks, etc., and one of the best weekly newspapers in the state of Oregon, are notable features. The Wallowa County Fair each September attracts people from long distances and ranks high for program and exhibits. Fishing, hunting, camping, attract those who seek the unusual in sport and scenery. Enterprise is a good place to visit—a good place to live.
