

LUMBER, HAY, GRAIN, LIVESTOCK And SCENIC SPLENDOR MAKE WALLOWA A Rich, Progressive Community

Taking its name from the valley and mountains that are making this section famous for its scenic beauty, Wallowa is the hub of a sportsman's paradise, an agricultural empire and an active lumbering region. At the lower end of the valley Wallowa serves as the trade center for a fertile wheat, dairy, and stock country and for the logging camps in the nearby mountains.

Wallowa is headquarters for the Wallowa National Forest and thus are attracted many stockmen, farmers, and lumbermen. In addition to the large lumber mills of the Bowman-Hicks Lumber company the town also has a modern flour mill and excellent creamery which produce additional industrial wealth.

Building operations have been active the past few months and this year is expected to be a banner one in agriculture and business. Various civic bodies are active and adequate, well-managed business houses serve the community and its large surrounding territory. Fine school buildings and a high-grade staff provide exceptional educational facilities. Attractive homes, a beautiful valley and mountain panorama, and healthful climate make it attractive for home-makers.

Wallowa attracts fishermen, hunters, and vacationists of all kinds from all over Oregon throughout the year. Fish and game are plentiful and marvelous scenery make any visit here one long to be remembered.

This page advertisement paid for by the following leading business firms of the town of Wallowa:

Wallowa Hardware & Implement Co.

For 35 Years

Stockgrowers & Farmers
National Bank

Capital and Surplus
$110,000.00

City Pharmacy
McKenzie & Allen,
Props.

Try Us First

REAL ESTATE DEALS YOU CAN HAVE

160 acres improved irrigated land, no waste land, well located close to good town, on market road, buildings are full, good hog and dairy farm. Price $200 per acre.
250 acres mixed farming land, alfalfa, wheat, auto-irrigated bottom pasture, bunch grass pasture for early spring use, excellent buildings, on state highway, best water rights in the world, sheep, hog and dairy ranch. Would take La Grande business property in exchange.
1400 acres, stock ranch, well located, good buildings, might exchange for business property in any good town.
All kinds of chances in real estate.

L. COUCH,
The Real Estate Dealer of Wallowa, Oregon

FORD Garage
Strite-Wade
Motor Co.

Repairs — Accessories

Hotel Northern
Steam Heat
Dining Room

R. McCrae, Prop.

Wallowa Battery & Service Station

On the Highway

F. H. Riggle, Prop.

Enterprise
Electric Co.
Always at Your Service

Promoting Eastern Oregon's Progress