 VAPORUB
 Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Why all this uproar because a girl of fifteen and a man of fifty-one wanted to get married? Why not permit two fools to become one family?

The old-fashioned girl used to be satisfied to stay at home—provided the family was going out.

My father is in the coal business. Oh! What branch? He collects the ashes.

Hay fever time has come, the sneezest of the year.

Maybe we oughtn't be too hard on the newly rich; it takes dough to make crust.

In football terms, advertising is the interference that clears the way for the salesman.

"Man, if Ah didn't have no no brain dan what yo' son, Ah'd—"

"Hush up, boy. If yo' brain was dynamite, and dy doubled every second for a hundred years and den spilted, dy wouldn't blow yo' hat off on a windy day."

The boss was tired of being constantly imperturbed by one of the workmen for the next week's salary, and finally said:

"Mose, yo're the limit. Say, what would you do if you had all the world in the world?"

"Well, suh," replied Mose, stonily, "de last thing Ah'd do would be to pay all nuth deen—ah fah as it'd go."

A little La Grande boy stood in front of the box office of a motion picture theater. He looked up at the young lady selling tickets.

"How's chances of reviewing the picture for the gazette?" They never read the papers?"

We are personally acquainted with a great many folks who have too much lung power and too little will power.

 Motion picture theater proprietors in Northern Malaya are having crowded houses even though films are somewhat late in reaching them from Singapore and the equipment of these houses is primitive. Native men and boys have no objection to paying from 11 to 24 cents to occupy the wooden benches of the lower floor. Native women spend 11 cents to sit in the side galleries. The European, chiefly transients and rubber growers seeking to escape the monotony of plantation life, and the better class Chinese pay 50 to 85 cents to sit in the velvet chairs of the main gallery.

AT THE THEATERS

"Striving For Fortune" At Colonial

George Walsh, in "Striving For Fortune" came yesterday to the Colonial theater. It is a fine picture playing for the last time today.

Stated thus succinctly, the reviewer's task might well be considered an finished, but the picture deserves a little detailed attention, nevertheless.

One might well say that "Striving For Fortune" is a completely modern story of our youth. Whether Alex is read as independent as he was a score of years ago, we do not know, but his recipe for success is as popular as it ever was; no doubt it always will be. Character, loyalty, honesty, hard work—they are bound to bring their reward. That was the story of the story today and presumably it will continue to be. "Striving For Fortune" tells such a story. It has its background in an immense shipyard; its action is built on the mammoth projects carried on there.

George Walsh enacts the role of a young chap starting at the bottom who works his way to the top through sheer merit, backed up by an undoubted courage and a very serviceable pair of fists. He has seldom appeared, if ever before, in such an interesting atmosphere. His delight and ability in athletics gives point and punch to the many incidents in which he is called upon to use his natural gifts of strength.

An excellent cast supports him, included in it are Beryl Roberts, Louise Carter, Joe Burke, Brian Donley, Tefft Johnson and Dexter Mellyonahs.

"Stolen Bride" Stars Gorgeous Billie Dove

When age-old European customs meet modern ideas of freedom and independence something is certain to happen, quite generally to the disadvantage of the customs. That is the theory set forth in a highly entertaining and original manner in "The Stolen Bride," the first National Picture starring Billie Dove which is the feature attraction at the Arcade theater today and Thursday.

"The Stolen Bride" is a comedy-drama of Europe before the World War in a unique and an outstanding production in a number of ways.

It introduces as a star, Billie Dove, universally regarded as one of the screen's reigning beauties, and brings Alexander Korda, prominent Hungarian director, to American film.

Famous burlesque dancer as to Miss Dove's fitness for stardom, they were completely dispelled by her splendid performance and striking personality in "The Stolen Bride."

"The Stolen Bride" is provided with the richest possible settings and costumes and Korda has brought to the screen the colorful atmosphere of Budapest and

Versatile Dix Now At Star in "Quicksands"

Richard Dix, the young man whose athletic prowess and histrionic ability have become a byword in cinema circles is showing tonight only at the Star theater where "Quicksands" in which he is starred opened last night.

"Quicksands" is a melodrama of the frontier with Dix playing the part of the young army officer, who finds himself embroiled in all sorts of difficulty when he attempts to track down a gang of smugglers, who have been making the vicinity of the army post, where he is stationed a very un-
