STANFORD LOSES TO ST. MARY'S 16-0

Oregon Defeats Pacific and O. A. C. Downs California Aggies

STANFORD STADIUM, Stanford, Cal., Oct. 3. (AP)—St. Mary's wrote the most thrilling chapter of its football history Saturday when it sent the Stanford Cardinals, 1925 coast conference champions, reeling down to a 16-0 defeat.

While 20,000 persons looked on in amazement, the little Oakland college eleven pounded the great team into disorder, rushed its backfield into many serious fumbles, and closed the route of Coach Warner's aggregation by outplaying its rivals in almost every stage of the game.

OREGON WINS
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 3. (Special)—The University of Oregon football team unmarked a decisive passing attack to beat Pacific university, 22 to 0 on Hayward field here Saturday in the second and final pre-season game on the Webfoot schedule this season. It was a different team of Webfoots which took the game from that which opened against Linfield college last Saturday—different not so much in personnel as in play, Oregon, after one-quarter of ineffective work, showed tremendous improvement in every department of the game over its playing of last week.

O. A. C. DOWNS AGGIES
CORVALLIS, (By The Associated Press)—O. A. C. outclassed the California Aggies here Saturday and won 25 to 0 on a muddy field. The California team's lone score came late in the second quarter when the safety man punted back for a touchdown against the Oregon substitutes. It was the Aggies' first game. Coach Schuster used 25 men.

"MAJORITY WRONG"
NEW YORK—on any line issue the majority is sure to be wrong, in the opinion of the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick. "Think of taking a majority vote on the best music," he told his congregation. Jazz would win over Chopin. Or on the best novel. Many cheap scribbles would win over Tolstoy and any day a prize fight will get a bigger crowd, larger gate receipts and wider newspaper publicity than any new revelation of goodness, truth or beauty could hope to achieve in a century.

Organized Labor Places Emphasis On Cooperation

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3. (AP)—Instead of centering effort upon strike and strife, organized labor in the United States during the past year has placed new emphasis upon constructive achievement in cooperation with industry and society, President Green and his executive council declare in their annual report to be made before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

Establishment in past years of more militant aggressiveness gave scope for the new policy, it was added, and under it the organized labor movement was declared to have progressed in membership, effectiveness, and financial.

"Foremost among the achievements of the American Federation of Labor during the past year is a change in public opinion toward the trade union," the report says. "Many employers and much of the public are beginning to see that the union is not simply a militant organization with no interest in the work itself, but an agency through which the workers can make their fullest contribution to industry and society. Viewed in this way, the union not only cares for the interests of the workers but is an agency through which the workers cooperate in production and contribute the experience of those who handle tools and machinery."

"In no small degree is this changing understanding due to the new emphasis labor has put upon its constructive work. Formerly labor has allowed spectacular incidents of strife to overshadow the more important events of constructive development and service. The federation has taken the initiative in reversing this attitude by securing publicity for more substantial developments."

Pope Pius Greet Charles A. Levine

ROME, Oct. 3. (AP)—Pope Pius today received Charles A. Levine in special audience in the small throne room of the vatican.

The pontiff, dressed in white, seemed surprised at the small stature of Levine, who was accompanied only by M. Wrangle, a nephew of the Russian general Baron Wrangle, who is serving as his social secretary.

The pope said that he was greatly pleased to greet the trans-Atlantic flyer and then blessed Levine, his family and all future flights.

Levine, who upon entering the pontiff's presence had bent his knee and kissed the papal ring like a true Catholic, told his holiness that the honor of being received was the greatest he had ever experienced.

A rare book was found in an old bureau drawer by Mrs. Bette Wilson Neville of London, England. It is the first drill book of the United States army, prepared by Baron Von Steuben, friend and aide to George Washington, and published in 1794. The only other copy known to exist is kept under close guard at the United States Military Academy.
