St. Yves, "The advocate of the Poor," is the lawyer's patron saint.

Legend relates that when St. Yves presented himself at the gates of Paradise, St. Peter inquired, "Who are you?" St. Yves replied, "An advocate." "Come in," said St. Peter, "for we have not yet a lawyer."

When his removal from Paradise was later demanded, St. Yves countered, "I cannot resist, but it must be done regularly; my expiation must be notified to me by a sheriff's officer." Since no such functionary could be found in Paradise, St. Yves remained.

A San Francisco man went crazed in a movie theater and shot three persons. We know what he saw—it was that picture in which Christopher Columbus went down to the docks in a flivver.

Like Mother, Like Daughter

So successful has Mrs. W. H. Pasell of Oklahoma City, Okla., been in a career as a working woman that her 18-year-old daughter Corra has forsworn society life to follow the painting trade. Mrs. Pasell for several years has "lived in overalls," starting with a truck garden, buying and renting houses, then starting a motor car painting business. Mother and daughter are shown above.

PACIFIC COAST BEAUTY

The camera eye says that Miss Jean Smith, of Venice, Cal., is the most beautiful girl on the Pacific coast. Judges so decided in a contest staged by the Pacific International Photographers' association recently at Los Angeles. Miss Smith's picture was selected from 100 submitted.

GERMAN BIRDMEN FLY TO PORTUGAL

Plane Leaves Amsterdam, Holland, for Start of Ocean Voyage

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Land's End wireless station received a report at 11:30 o'clock this morning that the Junkers plane D-1230 had been sighted off the west coast of France in a position about opposite to La Rochelle. (This point is about 150 miles from Brest in a direct line across the Bay of Biscay to Portugal.)

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Junkers plane D-1230 flying from Germany to the U. S. by way of the Azores left at 5 o'clock this morning for Lisbon, Portugal. The plane arrived here from Norway, Germany, last night with Lilly Dillenz, Viennese actress, as a passenger.

Lilly Dillenz was a passenger in the seaplane when it took off this morning but it was not known whether she would travel beyond Lisbon.

BERLIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—The halt of the Junkers plane D-1230 at Amsterdam after covering only about 150 miles was explained today as being part of the plans of the aviators on their projected transatlantic flight.

The intention of the fliers, it was stated, was not to be in too great a hurry off the lip from Nordferry to Lisbon but to be guided by weather conditions and make intermediate landings wherever they seemed advisable so as not to submit their motors to a full strain.

Lisbon will be the real starting point of the flight.
