MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Wheat cereal cooked with dates, cream, creamed spinach on toast, apple sauce, cinnamon toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Tomatoes filled with eggs, shredded carrot, pepper and cabbage salad, layer cake, milk, tea.

DINNER—Roast beef, potatoes baked with meat, brown gravy, creamed new turnips, pear and peanut butter salad, pumpkin pie with meringue, milk, coffee.

If you have trouble with the undercrust of your pumpkin pies becoming "soaked" try this recipe. There is no danger of this difficulty since the crust is thoroughly baked before adding the filling.

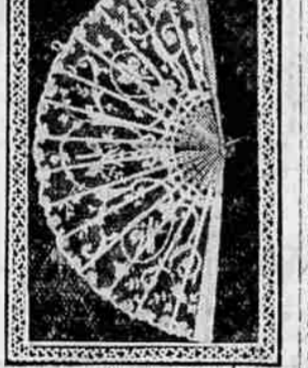

Pumpkin Pie With Meringue
One cup stewed and sifted pumpkin, 3/4 cup granulated sugar, 3 eggs, 2 cups milk, 3/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, baked pie shell.

Beat yolks of eggs and whites of two with granulated sugar until light. Add pumpkin, milk, butter, salt and spices and mix thoroughly. Cook over a low fire, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Turn into baked and cooled pie shell and cover with meringue made with white of remaining egg beaten until stiff and dry with powdered sugar. Bake eight minutes in a moderate oven to set and color the meringue.

This is not of course the traditional Yankee pumpkin pie but it's very good and rather easier for the inexperienced cook.

GOOD LAWNS FROM FALL SEEDING

Lawns that are seeded in the fall remove just that much work from the busy spring season and will get a terrific start on those seeded in the spring. In fact, fall-sown lawns have considerable advantage over spring seeding in that germination will be quicker, the tiny germs being ready to burst their casings after the softening process of winter freezing and thawing.

Most important of all in starting a lawn is to buy tested seed from a seed house of known reliability and reputation. Lawn mixtures are cleaned and re-cleaned to free them from weed seeds. They are blends of several varieties of grasses with a proportion of some quick-growing grass to give an speedy effect while the slower and more permanent sorts which will ultimately form the sod are taking hold. Sifts the soil and shade conditions in ordering lawn seed, as mixtures are made to fit.

Preparation of the soil is the chief task and the soil for a lawn should be, as carefully prepared as for a garden. The first requisite is ample fertilizing. Liberal dressings of commercial sheep or cow manure are now about as economical as a stable supply and they are always available, while stable manure is not. They also have the advantage of being easily handled and containing no weed seeds. Stable manure usually gives the lawn a fine crop of weeds and gives a double task in getting a lawn started, that of making the grass grow and eliminating the weeds.

With the soil well fertilized, finely pulverized and leveled, the seed should be sown as evenly as possible, selecting a still day for it. The next move is to roll it in with a lawn roller, a necessary adjunct for a good lawn. The water rollers, those having hollow cylinders to be filled with water to give the necessary weight, are the easiest to handle. The seed should be rolled in to speed up germination by closer contact with the soil, as well as to prevent it from blow-

Quaker Oats Urged Widely by Authorities

FOREMOST educators, editors as well as leading business institutions like General Electric Company, now are widely urging breakfasts that “stand by” as an important aid to success.

That's because it is now known that over 70% of the day's important work, in offices, stores, etc., falls into the four morning hours—the hours from 8:30 to 12:30.

In most American schools, including Princeton, Yale, most State Universities and some 2,000 grade schools throughout the country, 80% of the important classes are held before luncheon.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions now start days with Quaker Oats—food that “stands by” one through the morning.

Excellent balanced in protein, carbohydrates, minerals and the important Vitamin B, this delicious food is ideal for banishing listless mornings.

Today get Quick Quaker that cooks in 2 1/2 to 5 minutes or regular Quaker Oats at grocer's.

“Her Luncheons Are So Delightfully Different!”
On their way home they naturally were talking about the luncheon they had just attended at Mrs. Richardson's.

Every detail had been perfect. The table had brought forth a dozen exclamations of delighted surprise. The dishes were unusual and admirably prepared. The service was flawless.

They wondered how Amy Richardson did it. What was her secret. A few years ago she had been teaching school—now she was the most perfect hostess in their little set.

Mrs. Richardson could have told them that most of her ideas came from reading advertising.

From the silverware and linen advertisements she learned new ideas in table decoration because she realized that these advertisements were prepared by persons who were experts in tasteful and original arrangement.

From the food advertisements she learned of new dishes, new recipes, unusual things because she knew the advertisements were prepared by leading domestic scientists.

Mrs. Richardson read the advertisements for the real news of one of the things she wanted to do well—the business of being a perfect hostess.

Every woman can do as Mrs. Richardson does. The material is there for all to read and utilize. Read advertising more carefully, look for ideas and you will find them—and save money as you carry them out.
