

STARKEY PERSONALS

STARKEY, (Special) — The Meadow Brook grange did not hold its regular meeting Sunday. Mr. A. Thurnburg and R. E. Thomas are looking out about 1000 to 1500 to Portland. Mrs. Stella Sobel, of Portland, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sullivan Thursday. Itay Marks has been spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. A. Thurnburg.

Jack Starkey took the horse he has been putting this summer to pasture Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCall, who have made their home with Mrs. Starkey's father, Jim Thurnburg, for the past year, have moved to The Dalles.

Walter Thurnburg, the Starkey school teacher this year, attended the teachers' institute held in La Grande last week.

William Condit, of La Grande, is at Starkey to run the threshing machine belonging to Jack Starkey. R. L. Sullivan has purchased a number of sheep this fall and expects to build up a good sized flock.

COURTESY PAYS

CHICAGO (AP)—Courtesy pays. Fifteen years ago a boy at the Racquet club attracted the attention of Robert Forsythe, a wealthy engineer. The boy, Alfred Cronberg, now assistant manager of the club, has been bequeathed $100,000 by Mr. Forsythe.

Because the ear of a dog can detect sounds above the audibility of the human organ, German police are equipped with whistles that are totally inaudible to the human ear but can be heard distinctly by the dogs that assist in police work.

Granfruit is a good source of vitamin B and C. Its aromatic odor also starts the flow of digestive juices. The acid that gives it the tart flavor is valuable.

Flyer Makes His Own Boat on Way Down

This picture shows how an overseas flyer can keep dry—at least for a while. The aviator blows up his rubber lifeboat on the way down. The test was inaugurated by Admiral William A. Moffett and carried out by Corporal Huffman of the U. S. marines recently at Quantico, Va. Huffman is shown in his boat at the right, while he is pictured dropping into the raft at the left.

Unusual Curriculum Is Proposed By Woman for College of Future

UNUSUAL CURRICULUM—back BENNINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Such varied problems as the accessibility of beauty, enterprises for married women and the attainment of personal delight in leisure hours should be studied in a new women's college, believes Miss Amy Kelly of the Bryn Mawr School.

Miss Kelly was engaged by the Bennington College Corporation to make a survey on curriculum for a proposed women's college at Old Bennington. In her report Miss Kelly breaks sharply with tradition and proposes radical departures both as to course and organization.

The commoner social problems persistently confronting women should be definitely provided for in the curriculum, she says. The choice of vocations, including suitable enterprises for married women, is mentioned as one of these. "The college should make it easy," she says, "to develop some avocational interest to give personal delight to leisure hours, says Miss Kelly."

Miss Kelly would organize the college into six schools, specializing respectively in physical sciences, biological sciences, social and political institutions, languages, fine arts and philosophy. An "orientation course" to familiarize the student with the "geography" of human thought would take the place of the traditional required subjects in each school. Group conferences would replace lecture courses. Sustained individual work would be substituted for compulsory attendance, and general examinations for the degree of adding courses for the degree. General reading would complete the whole.

Miss Kelly believes that such an institution would graduate students much more completely equipped than the ordinary college graduate, and it would materially shorten the time to prepare for the professional requiring especially elaborate scientific or historic backgrounds.

"The whole experience," she says, "should enable a student at least to know, as Henry Adams puts it, how to box the compass of thought."

At a recent English flower show, exhibit was made of a rose whose coloring changes from pale yellow to yellow deeply splashed with red, the change depending on whether it is cold or warm when the bud opens.

In the four minutes required to play Rubenstein's "Staccato Etude" a Chicago pianist found that he exerted a force of 14,760 pounds on the keyboard.

LOSTINE PERSONALS

LOSTINE (Special)—The women of the aid society of the Christian church gave a surprise and farewell party Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Lockwood, who will soon be leaving for Southern Oregon.

Mr. Hulce, of the Western Union Life Insurance company, of La Grande, was at Lostine Tuesday on business.

Julius Sommer was calling on prospective customers at Lostine Tuesday.

People here are taking advantage of the nice weather and rushing in their crops. Every available man, team, thrasher and crew is at work in an endeavor to save the crops from further destruction.

Jim Magill and sister left Thursday for their old home in Illinois. They expect to make their home there again.

Miss Edyth Boyd left Thursday for her home in Walla Walla after an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. LeRoy Parsosy.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen are on the sick list.

Mrs. Leonard is confined to her home, ill of a gripe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dodge and Miss Ruth Leonard went to Pendleton Saturday on business, returning on Sunday.

Mack Gaston, of Wallawa, is harvesting his potato crop this week.

The rod and gun club held a meeting in the city hall Monday evening for the purpose of promoting the club here and also to attend to business of the club.

One day last week the federal officers picked up Harry Williams and Arch Willitt on a charge of selling moonshine. They were taken to Enterprise Saturday evening. Maurice Willitt, son of Arch Willitt, and Frank Crane were taken at the Willitt still up the canyon. Neither of the boys are of age. The boys each got a five-year sentence but were paroled on good behavior. Arch Willitt left Tuesday for Salem where he will serve 2 years in the state penitentiary.

Mrs. McKinzie went to Wallawa to practice with the Eastern Stars and visited there with her son and family.

Mr. Bernholt was here again Tuesday looking after his music class after he had been away two weeks.

Mr. Elliott, of Evans, suffered a painful accident when his foot was badly crushed recently. Edgar Marvin and family, of Joseph, were Lostine visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Magill entertained the entire Magill family Sunday at their home in honor of a brother, Senator Magill, of Illinois. Among those present were S. L. Magill and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Magill and son, Jim Magill and sister, Miss Magill. Jim Magill and sister expect to leave in a few days for Illinois, their old home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Crosland, of Union, drove over Sunday evening. Mrs. Crosland will stay here while her husband is in the mountains getting out his wood.

"WESTERN AUTO" SERVICE A feature that saves you money... Service connections are maintained in all cities where we have stores, so that goods purchased from us may be properly and promptly installed at a very low flat rate, in many instances... free of all costs.

I am not going to do it. In fact I am not going to try to do it. It is too much of a job for one man, besides I am too busy to have to go down to the O.-W. freight depot and push up a carload of Royal Nut coal to our side track. That is what the O.-W. freight man asked me to do over the phone this morning when I told him we were in a hurry for our nut coal.

I want to speak a few words to the farmers around the Pleasant Grove grange hall. We want to sell you these farm gates that are 16-foot long and that should sell for $16.00. We are getting sick and tired of holding them here and if you will come and get them right quick you can have them for $7.99. We are losing considerable on them at that price but we would rather do that and put our money into shingles and coal—something that will move.

We also have some of the tilting gates that you can have below cost. When you come after the farm gates bring a gallon can along and I will give you free of charge some Eureka harness oil and some standard separator oil.

We are wiring for another carload of Extra Star-A-Stars today. We want to buy a fat rooster.
