Local Chapter of Order of Rainbow for Girls Formed

With a fine group of young women for candidates, 25 in number, the La Grande Chapter No. 12, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, was duly instituted Saturday evening at the Masonic temple. The formal proceedings were conducted by Carl G. Tipton of Portland, supreme deputy, and Mrs. Minnie Hodgins, worthy matron, speaker for Hope Chapter No. 12, as the sponsoring body. The ritualistic work, which included the opening and closing of the chapter, the initiation of the large class of candidates and the inducting into office of newly appointed officers for the assembly, was done by the officers of Columbia Chapter, No. 8, of The Dalles, and was witnessed by a company of about one hundred Masons and Eastern Starred women who were privileged to attend as guests. Although one of the younger assemblies in this state, the girls of Columbia Assembly, proved themselves very proficient in the work and carried out their part of the program in a manner so dignified, so beautiful and so impressive, that the older people present were not only impressed, but inspired. The work of this order is unusually beautiful, and the visitors from The Dalles were able to bring out all the beauty of it by having the links word perfect and by presenting the ritualistic order with a certain ease and grace which elicited much comment from the visitors.

For these ceremonies, Doris Fritzsche acted as installing officer, Emma Johnson, marshal, Prudence Paulsen, musician and Jessie McGowan, chaplain, carrying out their work beautifully, they properly inducted into the respective offices, the following who will serve their assembly until the first of the year: worthy adviser, Lois Nelson; worthy associate adviser, Anita Erickson; charity, Mary Vaughan Hendrickson; hope, Lenora Ely; faith, Margaret Danks; recorder, Louise Wetzel; treasurer, Berenice Gault Gray; chaplain, Wilma Hansell; drill leader, Helen Johnson; love, June Coulidge; religion, Margaret Anthony; nature, Scyllie Pratt; nationality, Vivian Hansen; fidelity, Iola Robertson; patriotism, Ruth McAllister; service, Catherine Humphreys; pianist, Mildred Bradshaw; confidential observer, Phyllis Dunn; outer observer, Charline Paine; outer leader, Anna Williams; choir, Dorothy Spencer, Alice Mize, Amy Havenscroft, Julia Smith, Amy Brown, Ruth Harrison, Ruth Cullen, Lois Hansell, Margaret Mize, Peggy Bohnenkamp, and Ethel Harnden; mother advisor, Mrs. May Tarkenton; advisory board, Mrs. Beatrice Ely, Mrs. Maude K. Throughout all the work of the evening there were interspersed splendid musical numbers, chorus singing by the choir from The Dalles and solos by its individual members.

Before closing the session, through the supreme deputy, Mr. Tipton, the assembly was presented with a beautiful altar Bible, the gift of Dr. Youngson, pastor of the Rose City Methodist church of Portland. Dr. Youngson is very enthusiastic over this order and makes this same gift to each new assembly. Following this, Miss Marjorie Manchester, in behalf of the girls of Columbia Assembly, presented the new organization with a handsome gift also, one of the most important parts of the paraphernalia used in the exemplification of the work. There were present Saturday evening a number of distinguished guests who were properly introduced, some of them extending their felicitations. Among the visitors were Mrs. Carl Tipton, of Portland, grand conductress of the Grand Chapter of the O. E. S. of Baker; Mrs. Carrie Jackson, of Baker, grand associate conductress; George Cochran of La Grande, grand seconder of the Grand Lodge of Oregon; Mrs. Martha Ashcroft, worthy matron, Mrs. Earle Barber, associate worthy matron, Mrs. M. Accompanying the girls who put on the work, there were present from The Dalles Mrs. G. Baker, Mrs. A. S. Mize, Miss G. Sulpek, Mrs. O. C. McGowan, Mrs. J. R. Kirk and H. W. Brown.

This feature of the evening was quite informal, was interspersed with songs and yells, and was a splendid opportunity for the La Grande girls and The Dalles girls to become acquainted.

It is often sound bidding for a player knowingly to overbid, offering to contract to take more tricks than he has any reason to believe his side could make. In other words, he courts a loss in order to keep the adversary from making game. This is "flag flying"; and, on the rubber game, to suffer an intentional loss rather than permit the adversary to win the 250 rubber bonus, is often a paying gambit. To illustrate: suppose that one partner ship could make four hearts but no more, and that the other could make four spades but no more, and that a bid of five hearts, although it might cost 100 loss, would be sounder than to permit the four spades to be played and the rubber to be obtained by the Spade declarer.

Flag flying is not, however, a practice to be adopted by those who have not the Bridge judgment to determine whether the adversary will surely go game, and whether the flag-flying price will not be too much to pay for keeping the rubber open. All flag-flying declarations obviously must be made during the latter with any safety it is essential that the initial bid, which is the infor-
