

Black Is The Thing!

Rich, Lustrous Silks In These Newest Frocks for Fall

The woman whose heart thrills with the sight of stunning new dresses will find ample reward in this stock of fine models. As the season has indicated, black is the thing preferred by most well groomed women.

There are rich blacks in crepe satins, lustrous blacks in heavy flat crepes, soft blacks in fine georgettes. Almost equally wanted are the dark blues and the dark autumn shades.

If dark colors are not ordinarily becoming, you'll find them so when you see many frocks with self trim in lighter shades—smart combinations that enrich each garment.

The styles vary from plain, expertly cut models to those with abundant pleats, stylish tiers, becoming side-drapes, pretty self belts with just the right metal or jeweled clasp. The stouter sizes, 42½ to 52½, are just as expertly styled.

A noteworthy thing about these frocks is the excellent silks, the careful tailoring used to produce them. They will wear—and the quality is more emphatic at this moderate price range—

He's Leading a Dog's Life Now

A dog's life is what Castilian, imported racing greyhound, seems to be leading. The hound, winner of many prizes on tracks in this country, is shown in the dental chair of Dr. C. E. Basehoar of Hagerstown, M. D., having two molar cavities filled.

A harvest dance will be given Thursday, Oct. 27, by the Russell orchestra at the Bungalow hall.

WALLOWA PERSONALS

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—Many hunters made trips into the timbered sections of the county during the last few days of the open season on deer, in hopes of being able to bag a buck. The past season has been a fairly successful one for hunters of this county, as a number of fine specimens have been brought in during the last few weeks. Fortunately no serious hunting accidents have occurred. Each Sunday since the first of the month has seen many hunters in the fields after chisne pheasants. While many have been successful in getting a few birds, the scarcity of pheasants over that of the past two years is quite noticeable.
Oscar Maxwell finished combining his large acreage of fall wheat at the U. G. Couch ranch in the hills last week.
P. H. Weisbard has been busy several days the past week hauling wheat to the warehouse with two four-horse outfits.
Jack Taylor and wife, of La Grande, visited from Wednesday until Sunday at the Meek home.
Ed Bell has been cultivating summerfallow at the C. A. Hunter hill ranch and getting ready to commence seeding soon.
Roy Gastin and U. A. McCrea finished up their last jobs of thrashing in the Dry Creek section the early part of the week and moved their machine to the shed.
George Cussins has been binding his corn crop, and expects to start filling his silo soon.
C. A. Hunter has been busy with his small thrashing outfit on his large crops of barley and oats on his ranches in the valley east of town. He still has a considerable amount of thrashing to do.
Chris Jackson, who recently underwent an operation at the hospital here, is able to be out again.
Duane and L. V. Lathrop, farmers of the Leap community, were business visitors here the last of the week.
Elmer Osborn and wife, of Parsnip creek, were visitors in town Saturday afternoon.
Mrs. Mary Elmer, of Chapman district, was a recent visitor in town.
L. W. Miner and T. A. Bakke have been busy plowing the last week. A number of others in various parts of the county are also plowing.
Mr. Thrasher, who has been farming the Marvin ranch on Dry creek for the last two years, moved with his family last week to Pendleton.
P. A. Downing and wife, of the Leap section, were visitors here the first of the week.
Sam Meek was busy the first of the week hauling some lumber to his ranch in the hills.
Dee Gaslin, who has been working for Bruce Fisher for the past several months, spent Sunday at home.

UNION PERSONALS

UNION, Ore., Oct. 25 (Special)—E. A. Seiber left Union last week to go back to Illinois where his wife is now staying. Mrs. Seiber has been in poor health for the last few years and the climate here does not agree with her as does that of the east. Mr. Seiber will remain east for the winter.
Mrs. Hannah Foster is spending a few days visiting with her sister, Mrs. Susan Zuber. Mrs. Zuber lives in La Grande.
Sterile Delap, who has been here for the summer logging for the Oregon Trail sawmill, left last week for Kansas. He will go to the oil fields where he was formerly employed.
About fifty students and school patrons went to Baker Saturday to see the football games.
On Wednesday evening of this week the Williams Covered Singers will give a performance in the Methodist church here. The Ladies Aid is sponsoring the entertainment.
An English class in the Union High school, which is taking up the Oregon Trail sawmill, will handle school news for the Weekly Republican, our local newspaper. This work will be supervised by two of the teachers, and will be sent in to the paper the first of each week.
Roy Gamble, John Scarborough, W. V. Connor, and Mr. Connor went to La Grande Friday night to attend the Odd Fellows lodge.
With a yard full of lumber and scarcity of logs as the cause, the Oregon Trail sawmill has shut down and will probably not do much more running this winter. The owners are planning to have a planer ready for next year's run.
We should think the horsefly's great danger would be that he'd overeat when he does find a horse.
