Baptist Meeting Attended by 18 La Grande Women

Six state workers of the First Baptist church, who attended a meeting in Baker yesterday of the women of the Grande Ronde association of the Baptist church, will stop in La Grande today for luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. J. McAdory and will be here during the afternoon when the women of the local Baptist church will call to meet them.

In the party are Mrs. R. E. Close, state secretary-director; Mrs. L. G. Martin, president of the Woman's state society; Mrs. W. E. Scotton, in charge of White Cross work in the state; Mrs. G. W. Alexander, in charge of educational literature and reading contest; Mrs. H. M. Sherwood, "Golden Opportunity" chairman, and Darwin Margin, of the Baptist Young People's union.

Eighteen La Grande women attended the meeting in Baker yesterday, for which about 50 women of the association were registered. Each of the state workers conducted a conference during the day in her special department of work, which proved to be very constructive. Preparations were made for the association meeting to be held at Cove in the spring.

From here the state workers will go to Pendleton, where they will attend a meeting tomorrow. They are traveling over the entire state and visiting the various associations of the Baptist church in the interest of women's work.

Rice and Apple Pudding
Five tart apples, 8 tablespoons rice, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup lemon extract, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1/2 cup raisins, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar.

Wash rice through many waters and slowly add 2 cups of slightly salted, rapidly boiling water. Cook twenty minutes. Let water cook away. Beat two whole eggs and one yolk until light with sugar. Beat in milk and vanilla and add to rice. Stir until well mixed and add raisins. Pare apples and remove core from stem end, taking care not to break the fruit nor cut through the blossom end. Arrange apples in a buttered baking dish and pour rice custard around but not covering the apples. Bake in a moderate oven until the apples are tender and rice is firm to the touch. Remove from oven and fill cavities with currant jelly. Cover with meringue made with remaining white of egg beaten until stiff and dry with the powdered sugar folded in after beating. Bake in a slow oven to puff and brown meringue. Serve warm or cold with whipped cream.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

Since the start of these daily bridge articles, I have received hundreds of questions from my readers, all of which, when accompanied by a stamped return envelope, have been answered by mail. I have noted which questions have been asked with unusual frequency and am devoting this article and tomorrow's to them.

INCOGNIT NUMBER OF CARDS. Under this heading it may be found during the play: (A) that one player has too many cards and another too few; (B) that one player has too few and the others the correct number; (C) that one player has too many and the others the correct number. In case A, the hand is abandoned, nothing scored, and the same player redeals with the same pack. (Law 15-d) In case B, the cause may be either that the pack was incorrect, that the player has played twice to one trick, or that the player has dropped a card. If the pack was imperfect, there is a new deal as in case A. If the player has played twice to one trick, the surplus card is restored to him and he is answerable for any revoke he would have been liable for had the missing card been in his hand continuously; the ownership of the trick is not changed. (Law 34-j). If the player has lost one of his cards, it must be found if possible

Aw! It's Just a Lot of Boloney!

The facts have come out, every effort to hide them having miserably failed. Hot dogs will not wear heavier this season! But why? Well, W. F. Henderson (Inset) has invented a nice light suit for the winners. The pictures, from a Chicago bologna works, show Irene Kasamarek (above) with a "lot of boloney," and (below) factory girls taking the casings out of the dryer to be stuffed.

There's Really No Secret

Perhaps you too have wondered just what we do to make Golden Crust Bread so good—but there is really no secret.

Some one once said that you can get out of a thing only what you put into it, and that has always been our cardinal principle—to put into our bread only the best ingredients, the very things you yourself would choose. We can honestly say that Golden Crust Bread is one of the finest foods you can give your family. Its taste is delicious; its food value unequalled.

"Don't forget to say to your grocer, 'A loaf of Golden Crust please.'"
