Carl J. Turner, basso, and the possessor of a remarkable voice, took the lead in singing "Roll Jordan Roll," after which the concluding number of the first part was given, Mr. Williams taking the lead.

Second Part

The second part of the program consisted of a trio, duet numbers, solos and quartet selections.

The women of the company, Miss Dobson, Miss Lucky, and Miss Ethel M. Bowmer, soprano and pianist, formed a trio which furnished several popular numbers which were well received.

Possibly the outstanding solo was that given by Mr. Turner, basso. His number was "Davey Jones' Locker" and was received with great applause. As an encore he sang "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep."

"Indian Love Call" a duet from the play "Rose Maiden" was given by Mr. Plant and Miss Lucky, which also called for an encore.

A soprano solo "Villinelle" by Miss Dobson brought out the merit of her voice. She is able to reach the high notes without effort and her diction is near perfect.

The male quartet sang "When Day Fades" and several other numbers, including several imitations, which were excellent. The quartet group closed with an imitation number of a steam calliope, which was exceptionally good.
