Grain All In—
According to Mr. Buchanan, of the elevator at Alicel, the grain in that section was practically all in, before the rains of last week started in. This was one of the sections in the county which was hit the hardest, as there was so much of the wheat down, but wheat growers took advantage of all the nice days and made their days as long as they possibly could. Here and there over the county, however, there are still quantities of grain to be harvested, wheat, oats and barley.

Endorses Club Work—
Ex-Governor Walter M. Pierce is a very strong advocate of the work for boys and girls, possible through the boys' and girls' clubs as organized over the county and part of a state and national organization. During his incumbency in the chief office of this state, he was responsible for a number of measures which assisted the progress of that movement, and it was also under his administration that the dormitory was built inside the state fair grounds which each year, at state fair time, houses the boys and girls who have been winners in their county in club work. In his address Saturday, before the county conference of Grange officers and committeemen, Mr. Pierce plead for the making of farm life so important and so attractive that the present generation of young people would be permitted to remain on the farms and through that channel make their contribution to the country's maintenance. He believes that the club work, as outlined and carried on, is one of the most important ways that this object can be reached. Mr. Pierce asserted, that in his opinion, two factors have made the state fair what it is today and those were good roads and club work.

There were about 75 people present, and the entered into the games, contests etc., provided, 100 per cent. Refreshments were sold and other financial features netted the grange a substantial sum. 90,000 Boxes of Apples—
Last Friday there were about 90,000 boxes of apples in the ware house of H. H. Weatherspoon at Elgin. A walk through the storage buildings was intensely interesting, with almost every available corner piled ceiling high with the boxes, whose contents gave out the very finest aroma. The packing had been shut down for a week owing to the fact that packers in this vicinity have not been able to get cars, and everything was stalled for a while. In the ground floor of the warehouse, even the driveway is being filled, or was. Big water pipes are placed near the surface and at regular intervals the dirt floor is flushed, keeping the storage rooms damp and cool, which is much better for the fruit. Some empty cars were received Friday and the plant started up again Saturday morning. Twenty-seven car loads have already been shipped, and Mr. Weatherspoon estimated that there were still around 20,000 boxes to be picked. According to his statement these last rains which have retarded the picking process, have cost him several thousand dollars.

Auto Accident Injures 2 Men Of Summerville

Three residents of Summerville figured in an auto accident Sunday which resulted in injuries to two and a badly damaged car. Elmer Vermillion is in the hospital at Enterprise, suffering from injuries the extent of which are not yet known. Mr. Vermillion was still unconscious yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, having been in that condition from the time he was thrown from the car. Attending physicians believe that there are indications that his injuries may not prove to be as serious as at first believed even though he has not yet regained consciousness. Jack Courtney suffered, besides other injuries, a mash on his face, which, it is reported, required a number of stitches to close. The third occupant of the car, Henry Wagoner escaped uninjured.

It is reported that the three men were driving up into Wallowa county when the car in which they were riding failed to make one of the curves, the machine plunging from the highway with the above results. The injured men were taken in to Wallowa but as the hospital was crowded, they were taken to the Enterprise hospital where they received medical attention. Mrs. Vermillion and other relatives were summoned from their home at Summerville Sunday evening and have since been in Enterprise.

Society's Gayest Jewels Sparkle At Opera House

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—With jewels flashing in the famous diamond horse shoe, the fortieth season of the Metropolitan Opera house opened last night. Puccini's Oriental fantasy "Turnandot" was not so much of an attraction to many as lavish gowns and gems.

Flashlights boomed at the entrances as matrons and debutantes stepped from limousines. Crowds milled about, blocking traffic to catch a glimpse of the top hats bobbing into the ancient building.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie were in boxes. Members of the diplomatic corps at Washington mingled with distinguished foreign visitors.

Prince Christopher, of Greece, and James W. Gerard, war time ambassador to Germany, were guests of box holders. Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn entertained the Right Hon. Sir Louis du Pan Malet, of the British diplomatic service. In the box of Clarence H. Mackay was the Baroness Ravensdale, a daughter of the late Marquis Curzon.

ALL-COUNTY GRANGE CONFERENCE HELD; 75 IN ATTENDANCE

An all-county grange conference was held last Saturday at the Blue Mt. Grange hall near La Grande. Between 50 and 75 members of the organization met in the morning and remained for the discussions of various subjects which occupied the attention of those present, until late in the afternoon. One would gather from the side-lines that the purpose of the conference was for the specific purpose of considering various vital issues for which there is never sufficient time on the occasion of the meet- of the Pomona grange. The subjects were quite pertinent and the discussions were good.

J. A. Nice, of Wolf Creek, near North Powder called the meeting to order at ten o'clock in the morning. The entire morning was devoted to a discussion of the best methods of marketing milk and other products from the dairy farm. Through all the discussion it was very evident, that the dairy interests are increasing rather rapidly these days, Union county farmers finding that this is one profitable end of the farm business.

The afternoon program was presided over by W. R. Gekeler, lecturer, with J. A. Nice still wielding the gavel. Miss Ethel Sayre, of La Grande, gave a very pretty piano solo, and graciously responded to an encore. She was followed by her sister, Miss Geneva Sayre, who in costume, spoke in an intensely interesting fashion on the subject announced "Travel". She gave a detailed account of her long journey from this country to her field of missionary labor, the Honan province in China, taking her hearers with her all the way as she journeyed by boat, by rail, in the jinricksha, the ox cart, the wheelbarrow, etc. When Miss Sayre started on the steamship there was a company of 300 missionaries on the same boat, said to have been the largest consignment of missionaries on any one boat. She touched briefly on her stops at Honolulu, at Yokohama, Nagasaki and Kobe and then of her first days in Shanghai before starting on the long, tedious journey inland. Miss Sayre was on the field six years when she, with other missionaries, were ordered out from that locality on account of the civil strife. She had miniature jinricksha, horse cart etc., which she used to illustrate modes of travel.

Opening up the general discussion of the afternoon, ex-governor Walter M. Pierce spoke on various practical subjects. Referring to the conference of the morning, Mr. Pierce said. "The time has come when we all must milk cows. The opportunity is here for those who want to settle down and do the detailed work. Looking after the eggs, the butterfat, etc. etc." Mr. Pierce expressed his concern, that the young people of the day are not being attracted to the farms and that the radio, the cars, gas, good roads, all are detracting the young people from settling down and getting for themselves a small acreage. It was his opinion that our present-day civilization has killed very largely the desire for individual homes and in a measure spoiled value of the land. He had thought, he said, that good roads would bring more people out into the country but instead, they had brought country people to the towns much faster, than the city people were coming to the country.

Following Mr. Pierce, county superintendent of schools, E. A. Sayre started a discussion along two lines—first, the rural schools and second, boys and girls club work. Mr. Sayre believes that the present district school system has long since passed its season of usefulness, and he cited a number of instances in the county to bear out his statements. He argued that the school ought to be located where the community will be best served. While not yet ready to endorse the proposed county unit school plan, Mr. Sayre believes that it has merit, and that it might relve a number of the problems with which school people are confronted today. In speaking of the second topic, Mr. Sayre, believes that in the work of the boys and girls club, lays to a large extent the solution of the problem presented by Mr. Pierce, that it is possible to create, through them a very definite interest in farm problems which will tend to hold the interest of the boys and the girls and eventually keep them on the farms.

F. S. Johnson, of Pleasant Grove, talked about the value of music in the grange and also endorsed the statements of the two speakers preceding him. Other discussions followed, which were entered into quite informally by many of those present.

The conference stopped its deliberations long enough at noon to enjoy a wonderful pot luck dinner. Each one present had come with some contribution, and the result was an outlay of delicious food, chicken—fried, creamed, with noodles and with dumplings, home baked beans, escalloped potatoes, sandwiches, salads, pies, cakes, pickles—an almost endless list of country prepared viands. It was served cafeteria style, the company sitting at groups about small tables in the grange hall while partaking of the food.

The conference was quite generally considered as being of practical value to those attending.
