MEDICAL SPRINGS PERSONALS

MEDICAL SPRINGS (Special)—The children of the school gave a Halloween program and a carnival recently. The money taken in is to go for things for the children to play with.

T. E. Kennedy and Bob Wanker sent a carload of grain to La Grande recently.

The Gables have been working on Pat Powers' place which they are going to run next summer.

Mr. Stoneman, the insurance agent, was here on business last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hays and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Kennedy and baby visited in La Grande

Hank: "You're too beautiful for words."
Eula: "Well actions speak louder than words, don't they?"

If the wind blows his hat off he never bothers to chase after it. He says he has found that there are always three or four clumps ready to chase it for him.

What is a pessimist?
A man who won't milk a cow because he is afraid the milk's already sour.

SEVERE PROBLEM FOR GIRLS
Some girls seem to slip through life without any more serious problems than how to cure themselves of biting their fingernails.

Pell: I hear the one-piece bathing suit for women is to be done away with at some of the beaches next summer.
Mell: Got a list of those beaches handy?

Man is supposed to do all the proposing, but we know girls who could get engaged to one just by putting on their prettiest stockings and accessories and saying: "I'm so lonesome."

"I notice that old man o' yoh's is workin' pretty steady now. Mrs. Brown's be brimmin' home de bacon."

It wouldn't do to tell Willie but some of the land's highest men once flunked examinations.

Jim: "What has become of the old-time girl who used to go down in the cellar and bring up a skirt full of apples?"
Tim: "Aw, she brings up an arm full of bottles now!"

Thursday at the J. F. Kennedy home.
St. Turner sold 150 head of sheep recently.

Gus Peters has bought his winter potatoes from Bill Burke.

Bill Miers sold a bunch of milch cows last week.

Frank Whitten just recently got his beef cows he purchased from J. F. Kennedy two months ago.

Orville Lay is hauling poles from the mountains for his service station he is going to build.

Mr. Williams, state engineer, was here to see Vivian Kennedy recently about putting in a channel for the Big Creek bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman visited their parents and took home a load of grain Sunday.

MONEY TO LOAN

STOP!—LOOK!—LISTEN!

You who have straight loans on your homes and renew and extend, find it difficult to accumulate sufficient money to pay them off, otherwise you would not renew.

Investigate my plan whereby you pay off just a little of your principal in addition to your interest and before you realize, at no burden, your home is free from debt. Again, you are paying more.

$1000 at 8% for 10 years will cost you $1800.

We will make you a loan of $1000 for 10 years, and the total cost you pay will be $1471, a net saving to you of $329. You are thus financed for 10 years with no renewal expenses, with the privilege of paying in full or part at any time.

AT THE THEATERS

Dolores Costello Wins Praise in "College Widow"

George Ade's stage play was the most refreshing and delightful college football play ever written and Warner Bros. screen version catches all the nerve and sparkle of the original. Paul Schofield who scenarized "Beau Geste," "The Poor Nut," "Subway Sadie" and "The Song and Dance Man" did the picture with Dolores Costello. Dolores Costello, known as the loveliest and saddest lady of the picture takes on a new personality, a young demureness, which places her high among the great comedienne of this or any day. William Collier Jr., is the lead. Anders Randolph, Douglas Gerrard, Charles Hill, Malles, Robert Ryan, Sumner Getchell, Big Boy Williams, Grace Gordon and Jess Higgs are in the cast. Archie Le May directed. "The College Widow" is showing at the Colonial today, Thursday and Friday.

Fred Thomson Screens Life of Jesse James

Jesse James' life story has reached the screen with the aid of his son, Jess E. James, Jr. One of the most romantic and colorful careers of American history, it was screened by Fred Thomson exactly as it was lived as the son of the famous soldier and guerrilla fighter acted as technical advisor and biographer.

The picture, which is called "Jesse James" is the first production to be made by Mr. Thomson for Paramount release.

During his four-year rise to fame as a Western star, Fred Thomson has always cherished the hope that some day he might be able to put onto the screen some of the exploits of the younger of the James boys. Few men in the history of America have had so much written about them as have the James brothers. In the early months of his search through the history of the Civil War and the guerrilla raiding which followed across the southern states to Missouri, Mr. Thomson and his associate, Frank M. Clifton, were confused by the controversial writings of partisans of the North and South and they appealed to Jesse E. James, Jr. for help. The latter supplied Mr. Thomson with all the saddles, guns and camp equipment used by his father and these appear in the picture which reaches the Star theater Thursday for a three day run.

Mr. James, a lawyer practicing in Los Angeles, also sifted this false from the true in the innumerable anecdotes about his father's life and aided in the preparation of the screen story.

"My chief interest in this work," said Mr. James, "is to do justice to my father's memory. The American public is entitled to know the true story about a high-minded, if misguided, hero. He was a modern Robin Hood among the people who knew him. If he hadn't been, he would have been unable to fight the whole United States Government for nearly two decades."

"I am particularly glad to work with Mr. Thomson, because I admire him and the type of Western stories he has brought to the screen. He bears a remarkable resemblance to my father. In height and general build he is practically the same. Even his mild voice and his deep blue eyes are like mine. Also, he is a marvelous athlete. Pictures of the two men in the same costume and made up in the same way bear a startling resemblance."

ENTERPRISE PERSONALS

The opening boxing card of the winter season at Enterprise is scheduled for Saturday night, Nov. 4, when Joe Blackwell, 152, of Imbler, will trade blows with Joe Jewett, a native of the Samoan Islands but now located in Portland. Jewett weighs 154 pounds.

The card also includes three five-round bouts. The semi-final is between Freshbert Otto, of Estacada, who tips the scales at 175 pounds, and Fred Dunsworth, broncho buster from Pendleton, who weighs 177 pounds.

Everett McCabbin, 133, and Merl Berry, 135, will meet in the second event and Cecil Lovett will fight Raymond Heavis in the curtain raiser.

The fight will be held under the auspices of the Enterprise boxing commission, at the community hall. The first bout begins promptly at 9 o'clock.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole. Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
