Trickey Trial Postponed For New Jury List

LAKEVIEW, Ore., Nov. 8 (AP)—Trial of Lorena Trickey, rodeo star, charged with the murder of J. P. (Smiling Slim) Harris, Sept. 2, came to a definite halt this morning. Inability of many of the 40 veniremen called yesterday by Judge O. M. Corkins to arrive in time for the opening of court this morning, caused the adjournment until this afternoon.

Miss Trickey's plea of self defense, will receive the acid test when the state puts on a "surprise" witness, Burns detective agency operatives employed by the state virtually admitted today. It is understood that the witness is being kept under cover and will be produced at the psychological moment. No inkling of the identity of the witness or the nature of his testimony was revealed either by state's attorneys or detectives.

Miss Trickey displayed the first sign of spirit today when she was informed of the reported "surprise witness."

"I'll tell my story straight and true," she said, her face flushing. "As to the surprise witness, let him testify. I'll let the jury decide my case, not a bunch of detectives."

old-fashioned girls, and country bumpkins were also generously applauded. Mrs. Leal Russell, as Senora, sang a solo for the Spanish chorus, and Mrs. F. S. Woodward was soloist for the old-fashioned chorus.

Direct Well Received
A duet early in the show by Grace Loveland and John Weber Jr., and a solo by Tom Bruce were the outstanding musical numbers of the show, and were well received. Richard Dykhus, as the soldier boy, and Mrs. Elmer McManus as Mrs. Lovell, the chaperone, sang solo numbers.

Miss Barbara Hlatt was piano accompanist for the entire production, and was very efficient. The play was directed by Rozella Zorn. Tonight it will be given for the last time at the Arcade theater.

officials made a similar offer in the past, and was very desirous of making an offer in competition with its neighboring cities, therefore.

"Be it resolved, That this chamber of commerce, in regular meeting assembled, urge the people of La Grande, through its city officials, to take all necessary action to provide a permanent location, without cost to the state, and any other necessary action to secure the permanent location of the said state highway commission's shops at La Grande, Oregon; that this resolution be properly endorsed by the officials of this chamber of commerce and placed in the hands of the city commission of the city of La Grande; that a copy hereof be placed in the files of the said Union county chamber of commerce."

Yale Star May Not Be Eligible, Rumor

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8 (AP)—A bombshell was dropped in the quiet offices of the Yale Athletic association today in the form of an Associated Press dispatch from the Providence Evening Bulletin to the effect that Bruce Caldwell, the "Gallopng Bruce," of the varsity eleven, who has been running rough shod over visiting teams this season and accounting for the greater number of Yale's points, appears to be violating an eligibility regulation, having played with a Brown freshman team in 1923.

Following receipt of the news, a hurried consultation was called with all the guiding spirits of Yale football present.

KILLER DECLARES HE "DID RIGHT"

of council of legislators delegates here, and the dinners, breakfasts and sight-seeing excursions arranged for them and declined to agree with Rainey when he suggested that the expenses must be around $50,000.

"Well," Rainey pursued, "it cost me $100 to make a round trip to Illinois. It must cost $20,000 to bring this delegation here."

Rainey then asked Blodgett if he had not received a letter saying his expenses would be paid.

"I did not."

"Perhaps you overlooked it in your mail."

"I frequently overlook much of my mail," was the rejoinder.

Green's Charges

The charges that advocates of the repeal of the federal inheritance tax had "packed" the house ways and means committee room was made today by Chairman Green during testimony of witnesses on tax revision.

A burst of applause had greeted a statement by John H. Kirby, Houston, Texas, president of the national council of state legislators, in favor of elimination of the tax when Green leaned forward in his seat and declared:

"This room has been packed by your organization."

Before the witness could reply he continued:

"We know how they are gathered."

"I don't think you do," Kirby answered, "but let's come back to the merits of this legislation," adding those present like himself always were ready to applaud patriotic statements.

Appeals To Garner

Kirby, in his assault on the inheritance tax appealed to Representative Garner, of Texas, ranking minority committee member.

"John Garner," he said, "how can you support a law that would take away part of the estate my wife and I have built?"

"The history of the world, John, is the right of children to take
