MONEY TO LEND
STOP! — LOOK! — LISTEN!

You who have straight loans on your homes and renew, and extend, find it difficult to accumulate sufficient money to pay them off, otherwise you would not renew.

Investigate my plan whereby you pay off just a little of your principal in addition to your interest and before you realize, at no burden, your home is free from debt. Again, you are paying more.

$1000 at 5% for 10 years will cost you $1800.

We will make you a loan of $1000 for 10 years, and the total you pay will be $1471, a net saving to you of $329. You are thus financed for 10 years with no renewed expenses, with the privilege of paying in full or part at any time.

A catfish is a thing that grows in places that are flat.
But almost everybody knows it hasn't any cat.

Yamstown, Ohio, Telegram:
The horsefly is a wise old thing. And gets there, yes; of course; And yet the horsefly does not have a solitary horse.

"B-r-r-r! It's chilly in here. Has the stove gone out?"
"Yes, it has."
"Well, why don't you light it?"
"I can't. It went out with the installment collector."

IF YOU WANT TO GET SLAPPED
Try this one on your girl: Get her to say "Stewed Prunes," with her eyes closed. It's easy.

There are all kinds of people in the world, including those who really enjoy after-dinner speeches.

In the trials of life most of us are found guilty of being complainers.

"Be observant, my son," counseled Willie's father. "Cultivate the habit of seeing and you will become a successful man."
"Yes," added Willie's uncle. "Don't go through life like a blind man. Learn to use your eyes."
"Little boys who are observing get on much faster than those who are not," Aunt Jane put in.
The youngster took their advice to heart. A day passed and once more he stood before the family council.

"Well, my son," said his father, "have you been using your eyes?" Willie nodded. "Tell us what you learned."
"Uncle Jim's got a bottle of whiskey hid behind his trunk," said Willie. "Aunt Jane's got an extra set of false teeth in her dresser and pa's got a deck of cards and a box of chips hid behind Emerson's Essays in the bookcase."
"The little sneak!" exclaimed the family with one voice.

The Bible tells us how hard it is for a rich man to get to Heaven, but it does not say that it is a cinch for a poor man either.

AT THE THEATERS

"Twelve Miles Out" Is Thrilling Story

Breathless thrills and vivid romance await film fans in "Twelve Miles Out," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's mystery melodrama of the high seas, which opens at the Star theater today for a two-day run.

It is one of the fastest adventure stories of the season and Joan Gilbert's most stirring vehicle. Adapted from William Anthony McGee's famous Broadway hit, it comes to the screen with dramatic appeal. It tells the tale of rum-runners, hijackers, revenue cutters and the kidnapping of beautiful women. Through it all runs one of the sweetest love stories ever screened. As the swashbuckling hero, Gilbert has an ideal role. He takes desperate chances, smashes desperate battles and follows a course of an amazing intrigue.

Joan Crawford makes a charming heroine. Ernest Torrence a villain who is a strange mixture of sinister traits and whimsical humor. Others at the excellent supporting cast are Tom O'Brien, Bert Roach, Helen Percy and Edward Earle. Jack Conway directed.

"Satin Woman" Showing Last Time This Evening

Patrons of the Colonial theater have an exceptional screen entertainment in the Mrs. Wallace Reid-Gotham Production, "The Satin Woman," showing for the last time today.

First of all it has a story that rings true, is interesting and has several surprise twists. Secondly, it has the spectacular elements that appeal to the eye and finally it is superbly staged and acted.

Mrs. Wallace Reid in the title role gives a real character portrayal at that places her in the very front ranks of the emotional stars of the screen. There is real art in the delineation of a woman, a butterfly of fashion, who suddenly realizes the folly of her ways. The dramatic shock which brings her to her senses also changes her physical appearance. This comes a still more remarkable transition of her character and appearance when, to save her daughter from wrecking her life, the mother once more becomes the alluring "Satin Woman."

Mrs. Reid has surrounded herself with an exceptional supporting cast with acting honors falling to Rockcliffe Fellows, John Miljan, Alice White and Laika. Writers, Alice White and Laika. Double honors are also due to Walter Lang for his very sensitive direction and artistic conception of the many beautiful scenes. Mr. Lang is also author of the story.

The locale of "The Satin Woman" is one that cannot but be of great appeal. The great fashion salon of a world famous modiste, the carefree, luxurious atmosphere of Palm Beach and the hectic surroundings of a cabaret occupy the greater part of the attention.

"The Satin Woman" is an emotional drama such as is rarely seen and is to be commended without restraint to all discerning photoplay patrons who are appreciative of the best the silver screen has to offer—and a very good best it is too.
