COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Jap Kimona Loses To Foreign Styles

TOKYO, (AP)—The Japanese Kimona is picturesque and graceful but must eventually give way to foreign styles, according to Miss Fusae Ichikawa, leading suffrage worker.

"The fundamental reason for the growing popularity of foreign styles of dress among Japanese women is economic," said Miss Ichikawa. "Western styles for women have come to Japan to stay, and the ridicule of the vernacular press will have no effect upon them."

"Few foreigners realize the cost of Japanese clothes. A woman's kimono outfit ordinarily costs around 200 Yen. We can purchase a decent foreign dress for around 50 Yen. I am aware that foreign clothes are not quite becoming to the Japanese woman for the time being."

"But that is principally because she has not learned how to wear them properly. But the Kimona is disappearing and one day it will be regarded as a curio."

INVESTIGATE RUG TRADE

TEHRAN, Persia—Decreases in the exports of Persian rugs have led the Persian government to begin an investigation of the rug market. Use of inferior wool and aniline dyes, failure to follow Persian patterns and delay in completing rugs ordered on contract are believed to have caused the loss of business. A government grant of $150,000 will be sought to carry out an industrial improvement program.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

The pointer for today is: With unusual length and strength in some other suit a take-out bid should be made even with normal support.

In considering the bidding and playing problems of Auction Bridge (especially the bidding), it should be remembered that unusual types of hands may turn up which make exceptions to the usual rules advisable. That is the case when holding normal support for the partner's Major suit and having also some other unusually long and strong suit—especially when that other suit is the other Major.

An example of the usual South one Spade, West pass; North holding 2-2-x-x in Spades and Ace-King-x-x-x in Hearts should not bid the Hearts as it would be most unwise to deceive the partner by denying the normal support for Spades merely to announce a Heart holding of ordinary length.

An example of the unusual: If North's Spades were x-x-x and his Hearts Ace-King-Jack-x-x-x, it would be advisable on the first round to deny the normal Spade support (although it is there) and to bid the Hearts. To make a false denial of partner's Major in order to bid a Minor, is justified only by very extraordinary strength in the Minor, which makes that seem to be the most probable game-producer.

All these points are best explained by illustration and, therefore, I am giving today a series of five hands all containing normal support for Spades and also sufficient strength for denial. I urge my readers to study these hands and make up their minds which way each one should be declared. Look for the answers tomorrow and note carefully the reasons given for any answer which does not tally with the reader's decision.

Hands of North: South having bids one Spade and West passed.

FAT PRODUCTION AFFECTS PROFITS

Chance of Making $1,000 Labor Income Increases with Production

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 10—That high butterfat production increases a dairyman's chance of making a labor income of $1,000 is indicated by a survey made of 35 dairy herds belonging to the Walla Walla County Cow Testing association. If his cows produced under 200 pounds of fat, he had one chance out of eight of making the $1,000 labor income. When his production increased to 400 pounds of fat, however, his chance was one out of two of making this labor income.

Production affects the cost per pound of fat as well as the labor income, says R. M. Turner, extension specialist in farm management at the State College of Washington. This same survey showed that when production was under 200 pounds of butterfat, the cost per pound was 55.1 cents and the average labor income per cow was $24.04. With production between 200 and 300 pounds, the cost per pound of fat was 44.9 cents and the average labor income per cow was $68.75. When production was more than 400 pounds, the cost per pound was 39.1 cents and the average labor income per cow was $97.29.

All of the 35 dairy farms in the survey had completed one or more years in the cow testing association. Large and small herds, producing under varying conditions, were used to show a cross-section of the dairy business there.

RECORD WHEAT YIELD

LETHBRIDGE, Alberta (AP)—C. S. Noble of Nobleford, Alberta, a former American, has beaten his own world's record in wheat growing, made in 1915. In that year he grew 54,330 bushels on 1,000 acres, an average of 54.3 bushels per acre. This year a 1,300-acre field yielded 74,000 bushels, an average of practically 57 bushels to the acre, the world's largest yield per acre from such an extensive acreage.
