Some married men never know when they are well off because they never are.

Padre: "Do you take this woman for butter or for worst?"

Madre: "Oh, lived alone. I never sausage nerve."

A man named Dodgin was recently appointed foreman, but his name was not known to all the men under him.

On his run he came across two men sitting in a corner smoking and stopped near them.

"Who are you?" asked one of them.

"I'm Dodgin, the new foreman," he replied.

"So are we. Sit down and have a smoke."

A pants hanger is a metal arrangement that hangs in the clothes closet while the owner's trousers repose in a heap on the bedroom floor.

"Well," remarked a married man after examining his friend's new flat, "I wish I could afford a place like this."

"Yes," said his friend, "you married men may have better halves, but we bachelors usually have better quarters."

"Where is your doll, dear?" the family visitor asked a modern young miss.

"Oh," said the child calmly, "the boy next door has the custody of the doll and I'm awarded three lollipops a week alimony."

A tragedy in one act—The two faces were close together, the man's grim, tense; the other face was small and white, with two slender hands pressed tightly against it.

It was those frail hands that riveted the man's horrified gaze. "MY GOLD!" he said, staring, and in his voice was hopeless stark tragedy.

For that other face was the face of his watch, and those little hands told him that he had missed the last train home.

NO CHOLERA OUTBREAKS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Jardine does not fear an epidemic of hog cholera this year. The government has plenty of serum, he says, and farmers, because pork prices are high, are conducting systematic inoculation of their stock.

November is one of the worst months for a maximum outbreak, but reports show that losses from the disease are running at about the normal rate in the middle west.

Vital statistics prove that lots of folks are putting the quart before the hares.

I remember when women were so modest that they wouldn't answer the doorbell with their sleeves rolled up.

Protect Your Child's Health

Through thoughtlessness the slightest cough or cold of a child is sometimes neglected and becomes serious. A few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, at small cost, taken at the onset of a cold, brings speedy relief.

He prepared, have a bottle of this same reliable cough remedy on hand and give promptly when a cough or cold is first detected.

Equally effective for grown persons. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar, sold every where.

AT THE THEATERS

"Ben Hur" Boasts Cast of 150,000; Here Next Week

General Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur: A Tale of the Christ," that was a stage spectacle 22 years ago and as a book enjoyed a circulation as large as the Bible, will be seen for the first time as a picture in La Grande at the Arcade theater starting Monday. It comes here after long runs and crowded houses in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia. It boasts a cast of 150,000.

Fred Niblo directed the production which begins with the Wise Men and the Star of Bethlehem, pictures Jerusalem under the Roman tyranny and the condemnation of the Prince of Jude to the galley. The battle 'twixt the Roman fleet and the Greek pirates was filmed with a great Ben Hur navy of antique modeled craft off the coasts of Italy.

The celebrated Antioch chariot race, in which Ben Hur and Messala contend for the palm, occupied three months in the making. Twelve quadruplets are driven savagely over a course facing a Circus Maximus that holds nearly a hundred thousand spectators. The exquisite love story of Ben Hur and Esther is intertwined with the thrilling action.

The final scenes deal with Ben Hur's assembling of legions in the plan to establish a kingdom of Judea, the discovery of his long lost mother and sister in the Vale of Hinnom, the procession of Palm Sunday, and the healing of the sick ones by the Saviour, where Ben Hur and his beloved Esther and kinfolk are reunited.

In a epic that has taken three years for its completion and included as many real-life adventures as an historic odyssey of the Old and New World, Ramon Novarro (in the title role), Betty Bronson, May McAvoy, Francis X. Bushman, Carmel Myers, Clair McBowen, Kathleen Key, Nigel de Bruin, Mitchell Lewis and Frank Currier have prominent parts. The music for the production was written by David Mendoza and William Axt, the composers of "The Big Parade."

"The Big Parade" picture made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, picture made by special arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, C. B. Dillingham and F. Ziegfeld Jr., and it cost $4,000,000.

"The Princess From Hoboken" is the feature picture attractions at the Colonial today and Saturday. It is one of the fastest moving farce comedies seen in this city for some time and it can also be stated that it is one of the most elaborate productions in so far as settings and costumes are concerned.

The story tells in a swift moving, laugh-provoking way of the adventures of a pretty little Irish lass of Hoboken, New Jersey, who is kidnapped into the shoes of a Russian Princess and becomes the reigning and raging cabaret hostess of the Big City. Her beauty attracts the son of a wealthy Irish family and he pays ardent court to the supposed Princess. There enters upon the scene a renegade Russian Prince, who discovers that the Princess is an impostor and is able to frighten the young lady into despair until she is rescued from her predicament by the stalwart young Irish lad.

The cast abounds in star personnel and the beautiful and bewitching Hilda Mayhaff is the Princess, in person one of her best screen roles, Edmund Burns, as the young lover, is excellent and and romance, all perfectly blended.

Raymond Keaney, a young and good-looking fellow who has forged rapidly to the front during the past year, portrays the role of the dashing American aviator attached to a unit of the Royal Flying Corps. His acting is excellent, as is that of Barbara Kent, 1927 Baby Star, who plays the little French girl with whom he falls in love.

Much of the credit for the success of the picture should go to Emory Johnson, the director. He is already famous for his ability to take the common place and make it interesting and this picture will add greatly to his laurels.

Lieutenant Ralph Blanchard is credited with writing the story

Question: Why should school children receive emulsified cod-liver oil?

Answer: Because the strain of the study-period and playground uses up energy, and emulsified cod-liver oil not only provides energy but also protects with its vitamins.
