Jubilee Luncheon At Presbyterian Church Thursday

Eighty-five women, members of the Presbyterian church and congregation, were guests at a jubilee luncheon Thursday in the church dining room, sponsored by the Women's Missionary society. The occasion was in observance of the 125th anniversary of the beginning of missionary work in the church, the 50th of the women's home missionary work, and the 50th anniversary of the founding of Presbyterian missionary work in Alaska, all of which are being commemorated by jubilee year.

Elaborate preparations were made in carrying out a carefully planned program, making the event a most interesting and unique one. Guests were seated at six tables, each of which were decorated to represent one of the following countries: Persia, Siam, India, Japan, China, Alaska. On each table were arranged parts of curio collections, all of which were actual articles, most of them property of members of the local church. A number of the articles had been obtained through relatives who have labored in missionary fields. The whole collection presented an unusually valuable representation.

Two hostesses, members of the Westminster guild, were at each table, and wore costumes, each wholly or partly original, representing the country their respective tables depicted. Hostesses were: Siam, Mrs. Oscar Dorech, Mrs. Otis Palmer; China, Mrs. Ray Murphy, Mrs. George Richardson; Persia, Mrs. A. V. Lindgren and Miss Genevieve Haman; Alaska, Mrs. Ray Murphy and Mrs. Lee Reynolds; Japan, Dr. Margaret Ingle and Mrs. Ren Barrie; India, Mrs. Joel Richardson and Mrs. Clyde Webb. One of the two hostesses told the missionary story of the country she represented, interpreting the story in an interesting manner.

Assistant hostesses of the senior club were: Mrs. Harry Cleaver, Mrs. William Miller, China; Mrs. J. C. Sampson, Mrs. Frank Jackson, Japan; Mrs. H. P. Lewis and Mrs. William Condit, India; Mrs. L. B. Aime, Mrs. Robert Eakin, Siam; Mrs. J. K. Wright and Mrs. H. R. Hanson, Persia; Mrs. C. M. Humphreys and Mrs. O. E. Moran, Alaska.

Mrs. E. P. Moessman presided as toastmistress, executing her duties in her charming manner. Mrs. J. George Wain gave invocation. During the young matrons' hour members of the Westminster guild transferred their membership into the senior society and were welcomed by Mrs. Phil Thompson, president.

Before closing the interesting program the assembly sang "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds." The general chairman for the affair was Mrs. C. M. Humphreys, while assisting her were Mrs. Moessman, Mrs. A. T. Hill, Mrs. Eakin, Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. J. K. Wright.

The King's Herald of the First Methodist Episcopal church, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their association with a banquet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Twenty-two members were present.

MARY LIKES LINDY

NEW YORK—Mary Garden thinks a lot of Lindbergh. "You must know I admired him," she said, "when I would sing for him the 'Star Spangled Banner.' Ya Gads! I didn't know the words." "This was in Paris, Mary asked Bill Tilden the words. He knew only the first five. Then she had them locked up in a library."

MISSIS A PRIZE

PERRY, N. Y.—The Ford museum of antiques has missed a prize. Elmer French said Henry's agents a steam engine over 50 years old, but Elmer vows they can't have a century old sausage grinder.
Some kinds of safety razors work pretty well, but somehow no one ever has been able to perfect those contraptions with which a fellow is supposed to be able to cut his own hair.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

Continuing this week the discussion of doubling situations which apply to both Auction Bridge and Contract Bridge, and which occur under conditions more or less complicated, another series of ten hands will appear. Two are given today. Beginning tomorrow and continuing each day a full explanation will be given of what should be done with each of the two hands stated on the preceding day. As usual, answer blanks will be provided each day, so that it is very easy to have another of the weekly tests or contests. It is a test when you fill up the blank each day, note the next day whether you have been right, and on Saturday see whether you have ten 9's. It is a contest when you get one or more of your bridge friends to do the same thing and compare your scores at the end of the week.

Today's hands illustrate an important principle in doubling which few understand fully. As a hint about the two hands which produce the bidding questions asked today and answered tomorrow, it can be stated as a general principle that an Informatory double is not justified with less than five high cards (that probably will take tricks, even when made in the most advantageous position, i. e., when the bidding is: South (Dealer) one No Trump, West double. And great as this requirement is, it is not sufficient to justify an Informatory double when made in any other position. Remember this when determining what you would declare with each of the hands given today; they are held by North, South (Dealer) has passed, West has bid one No Trump, and the question is: What should North declare?
