London Amateur Has 'Private Earth'

LONDON (AP)—The following are extracts from letters recently received by the British Broadcasting Company from listeners:

"We know we are not the cause of the interference as we have a private earth."

"Please send me a copy of the Wireless Act as I have a wireless installed and should like all inflammation."

"Oppras is alright for eyebrows."

"Please come and take away a Frenchman's two valve set what has been upsetting all near the Five Bells Public House for four months."

MIFORD, Conn.—The gypsy woman's place is by the campfire, according to Chief Gregory John, head of a band of wanderers. When police asked him about two male members of his camp seen trespassing on nearby property he said he could not keep the men on the campground—"but if you see any of my women outside the camp pinch them."

Bridge Pointers

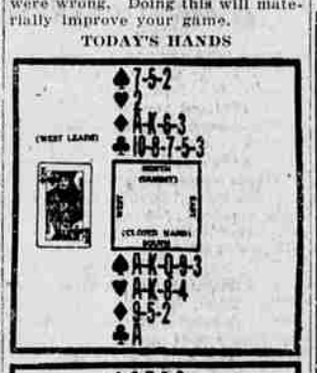
By Milton C. Work

This week the play of the Declarer will be the subject of these Bridge articles. They will be eminently practical and should serve as a valuable guide to players as they will cover situations that occur constantly in actual play in both Auction Bridge and Contract Bridge. The plan is to give each day two tests for a Declarer. In each the cards of Dummy and Closed Hand will be shown, and the reader will have the chance to determine, if he were the Declarer, how he would plan to manage that particular hand.

I have repeatedly urged players whenever they have the responsibility of handling twenty-six cards, to stop, look and reason before playing the first card from Dummy. Plan a campaign then while there is time to do so lest you see, when it is too late, that your thoughtless start has shifted you onto the wrong track. The articles this week will afford an admirable opportunity for the reader to practice planning and appreciate the value of "a thought in time."

Answer blanks will not be given this week, but the correct campaign will be explained the next day. Before you read it, determine for yourself what you would do in each hand. Then compare. See whether you can get this week's entire ten hands absolutely right; if you fail in any case, remember why you were wrong. Doing this will materially improve your game.

TODAY'S HANDS



In both of the above hands the Declarer is playing a Spade contract. The original lead is KING OF CLUBS.

How should Declarer plan to play each hand?

Answer tomorrow.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST — Northern spy apples, cereal, cream, planked hash, corn meal muffins, marmalade, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Scalloped oysters, creamed celery, carrot sticks, meringue pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER — Baked white fish with egg sauce, boiled potatoes with parsley butter, beets in lemon sauce, cabbage and pepper salad, raisin and cranberry pudding, rye bread, milk, coffee.

If the carrots are quite large discard the center core-sort of the roots. The tender outer part is then cut in strips and served just as celery is usually served. The novelty of eating raw carrots will appeal to many. Of course small persons must be reminded to "chew it up fine" but they will eat them when they won't eat the cooked ones.

Meringue Pudding

Four tablespoons flour, ½ cup granulated sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sweet cider, 1½ cups orange juice, 3 eggs, 6 tablespoons powdered sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups boiled rice.

Mix flour, sugar and salt. Sift several times to be sure the sugar and flour are thoroughly blended. Stir into cider and cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Add orange juice. Turn into the center of a baking dish. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry, beating in the sugar gradually. Fold in the cooked rice and arrange in a border around the mixture in the baking dish. Bake 20 minutes in a slow oven. Chill and serve.

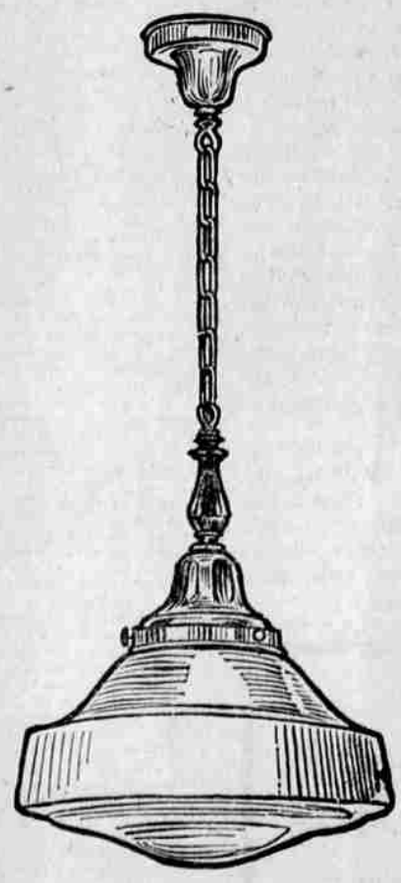
No Small Store Owner Can Afford To Neglect His Lighting



"It's a little place, and we don't need much light—"

Sometimes we hear this from a merchant.

But it's the little place—that just can't afford to be without Good Lighting.

Competition today demands that the small store must be well lighted to get their share of the business.

Here's the INSTALLED price — it's startling, — includes Westinghouse Mazda lamp, hanging cost and all for $1.00 down per unit and $1.00 per month for 12 months.
