which was very good, their voices harmonizing nicely. Mrs. G. S. Birnie, of this city, accompanied them at the piano and also played for the quartet. Mr. Zimmerman is secretary of the Northwest Realtors association.

Introduces Hotel Men

Mr. Coolidge introduced the people responsible for the La Grande hotel—W. C. Becktell, owner and builder; W. O. Clinger, lessee; Ernst Kroner, architect; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Shaw, who will assist in the management of the hotel under Mr. Clinger. He also introduced Mrs. Becktell, Mrs. Clinger and Mrs. Kroner.

Mr. Becktell spoke briefly about the hotel and the friendliness of the La Grande people since the enterprise was first started here.

Mr. Kroner responded very cleverly when called on by Mr. Coolidge and predicted that the La Grande hotel was merely one of the many new things that would come to this city with its growth and development. In closing he proposed a toast to the city of La Grande in which all present joined him.

Mr. Coolidge in a very beautiful and appropriate worded introduction paid high tribute to Mrs. Lydia Grandy, the honor guest at the opening on whose homestead site the hotel now stands, and to Dunham Wright of Medical Springs, another honor guest and one of the outstanding remaining pioneers in Union county. Mr. Wright spoke briefly of the early days in Oregon and his experiences in this valley more than three decades ago.

Pierce Speaks

The main speaker of the evening was ex-Governor Walter M. Pierce, who eulogized the pioneers and dedicated the new hotel to their memory in a few appropriate words as the program closed.

Immediately following the banquet and while the ball room was being cleared for dancing the guests inspected the various features of the hotel at their leisure and enjoyed additional singing by the chamber of commerce quartet in the hotel lobby, which was very pleasing, and a brief concert by Dr. Emil Enna on the mezzanine floor.

Pioneers Lead March

Promptly at 11 o'clock the orchestra began to play the grand march, which was led by Mrs. Grandy and Mr. Wright, R. J. Dykhius assisting Mrs. Grandy. After the grand march dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening, Mr. Dykhius singing several numbers to the orchestra music during the dancing.

The hotel lobby and ball room were beautifully decorated for the occasion with many baskets and bouquets of flowers which were sent by La Grande and Portland business firms congratulating the hotel. Flowers were also used on the banquet tables which were attractively laid forming a pretty setting for the opening event.

YALE CRUSHES HARVARD, 14 TO 0

Harvard the ball. Near the close of the period Hammersley hurt his ankle and Goodwine replaced him.

Harvard Rally Halted

Fourth period: A consistent Harvard offensive appeared at the start of the fourth period and carried the ball from the Crimson 20-yard stripe, where it was gained on a punt, to the Eli 28-yard mark. Runs of 16 to 18 yards by Guarnaccia punctuated the advance.

Yale turned the tide at this point as Goodwine intercepted Guarnaccia's pass and returned it nine yards. A flat pass from Hoben to Cox gained ten yards but Yale was forced to punt. On its own 29-yard line Harvard started a new advance.

Individual brilliance won for the blue when Garvey ripped 52 yards around end for Yale's first score in the first period. Early in the third period Hammersley nearly duplicated the stunt by stepping 43 yards for the final score. Two fierce Harvard drives in the final quarter carried deep in the Yale territory but the Eli stopped both charges inside the 25 yard line. Charlesworth, Yale center, was carried from the field, apparently badly injured in the fourth period.
