SPRAY CAUSES DEATH OF WOMAN

George Oslund and Mrs. Marion Johnson Swallow Deadly Liquid

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—Quaffing a poison potion with a toast to "future happiness in the beyond" George Oslund and Mrs. Marion Johnson, each swallowed a glass of poison spray last night. Mrs. Johnson died and Oslund, in a hospital today fighting for life, told of the affair when he recovered consciousness.

He said they were on their seventh pint of moonshine when Mrs. Johnson who had talked frequently of ending her life, suggested death.

"All right! Let's go!" Oslund said he told her. She produced a small bottle of the spray and they divided equally, drinking to their death.

Oslund, a bookkeeper said he arrived here recently from California and knew Mrs. Johnson only a few weeks.

On a table in Mrs. Johnson's kitchen were found four whiskey glasses. In two of them police said they found the remains of moonshine and in the other two were drops of the poison.

Mrs. Johnson had left a note indicating her wish that her 12-year-old son and everything she possessed should go to the boy's grandmother, Mrs. Rose Parrett of Yakima, Wash.

Nothing was found to indicate that Oslund had participated in a police raid with the woman. Police were trying to discover how he happened to drink the poison with the woman.

The poison was the same kind of spray that caused the deaths at a party here about a week ago of a man and woman who had believed to have drunk it from a bottle which they thought contained wine.

workmen and tradesmen to join their organization.

"Blindings were used at first to fill the ranks," Walker said. "This proving ineffective window smashing was employed, and then bombing. Property damage by window breaking or bombing usually proved only a temporary scare. More often than not, the damaged property was not owned by the man the organizers sought to intimidate."

"The records of men now found in the various 'trackets' show that many of them started out as petty police characters, went into bootlegging when money was to be made, and now are in the profitable racketeer movement. The record of McLaughlin is typical of many others."

McLaughlin probably will recover. He was shot when he tried to escape the police net. Atties is the subject of a grand jury investigation this week, Walker said, with Komasa, the intended victim of the torture, as the chief witness.

APPROVE WEDDING UNDER NEW PLAN

statement to the Kansas City Star, said she wished to distinguish between the confusion existing in the public mind between a marriage on a companionate basis and the so-called "trial marriage" which she declared was exactly the opposite.

"Josephine and Aubrey certainly are going into it in all earnestness and with full intention of making a life long success of it," Mrs. Haldeman-Julius said at her home in Guard.

Confusion on Terms—"One hesitates to use the term 'companionate marriage' only because it so often and willfully is understood and likely to be confused in the public mind with trial marriage, which is exactly the opposite."

"Any marriage in which neither husband nor wife assumes all the financial responsibility is, strictly speaking, a companionate marriage. There are thousands of them in this country today, particularly among young people in business but they have not yet become as frequent as one would desire in our colleges. They are the answer to changed economic conditions. In which, whether or not one likes it, woman has become the competitor of man."

maiden name was given as Malone instead of Malone. Mrs. C. J. Richard's initials were incorrectly given as C. T. Mrs. Richard is a daughter of the deceased.

the air. The strikers then beat a hasty retreat taking many of their wounded with them. Later they erected a white flag over an automobile and returned for several more wounded.

One troop of cavalry, two armored tanks, one headquarters company, four companies of infantry and a medical detachment were ordered out for strike duty by Col. Paul P. Newton, adjutant of the state guard.

Disturbances also broke out in southern Colorado but there were no casualties. Pickets appeared in the Aguilar district in Las Animas county and strikers and state officers and deputy sheriffs fought a hand to hand fight.

LONGMONT, Colo., Nov. 21 (AP)—Six striking coal miners who were shot this morning by state police are dying in the Longmont hospital. Doctors said their injuries were so serious that there was little hope they could live more than a short time.

Thirteen other strikers are in the hospital receiving treatment for wounds received in the battle with the state officers at the Columbine mine this morning.

First reports that Adam Bell, leader of the striking I. W. W. forces in the Northern Colorado fields was killed, were found to be erroneous. Bell is in the Longmont hospital with serious injuries.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 21 (AP)—Responsibility for the deaths of the men killed at the Columbine mine this morning rests squarely on the strikers themselves, Governor W. H. Adams said today.

Chief Louis Scherer of the state law enforcement squad, had every patience with the advancing strikers, and he ordered his men to fire only when it appeared that his own life and those of his deputies were in jeopardy.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Belgian cabinet, of which Henri Jaspar is premier, resigned this afternoon after a cabinet meeting which ended at 5:30 p. m.

The crisis arose over profound disagreements between the socialist and non-socialist members of the ministry concerning re-organization of the army.

The socialists insisted upon reduction in military service from 18 to 16 months, a stand that brought the unanimous opposition of the Catholic and liberal members of the government.

Sentiment Grows For Dawes in '28

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The New York World, democrat, says today that the politicians of New York state have been highly mystified by the upspringing of a great deal of quiet activity on behalf of Vice President Dawes as a possible candidate for the republican nomination for president.

The campaign is without apparent leadership, the World says, but is causing worry to those who are trying to bring about the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes, and is also serving to create a community of interest between supporters of Hughes and those interested in making Herbert Hoover a candidate.

Astoria started its community chest drive November 12, with a budget of approximately $22,000 to be raised.

The denial of the petition is on economic grounds. The capital proposed was $25,000, the minimum allowed by law. It is said that the petition was presented after an effort to organize the defunct Sheridan state bank proved futile. That bank was closed Sept. 23.
