The betrothal was made known in a luncheon given by Miss Murphy's sister, Mrs. Roy K. Temple, in honor of Miss Gertrude Aris, of Colton, Wash., who is visiting in Pendleton.

Corporate bouquets to which ribbons were attached were arranged in the center of the luncheon table, where covers were laid for 12. Each guest found in her bouquet a card bearing the name of Miss Murphy and Dr. Hoffman. After luncheon bridge was the diversion, high school going to Miss Herky Davis.

Luncheon was enjoyed at 1:15 o'clock in the main dining room of the hotel, after which the party adjourned to the bridge room off the mezzanine, where three tables of bridge were played during the remainder of the afternoon.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Grapes, cereal, cream, poached eggs on graham toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Baked cabbage with bacon, Boston brown bread, cranberry and prune pie, milk, tea.

DINNER—Boiled shoulder of lamb, baked squash, creamed carrots, stuffed green pepper salad, fruit in lemon jelly with whipped cream, hot water sponge cake, milk, coffee.

Boston Brown Bread is sure to be popular in the school lunch box or on the afternoon tea table. The following recipe has the merit of being delicious without using oars:

One cup rye meal, 1 cup corn meal, 1 cup graham flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 2 1/2 teaspoons soda, 1 1/2 cups molasses, 1 cup sour milk.
Mix all the dry ingredients except the soda. Add molasses and one and one-half cups sour milk. Dissolve soda in remaining sour milk and add to mixture. Beat thoroughly and turn into a buttered mold. Cover and steam three hours.

Do not fill the mold or molds more than two-thirds full and fasten cover securely. Otherwise when the bread rises in the steaming it will force the cover off. Pound baking powder can make acceptable molds if the regular molasses or round bread molds are not at hand.

Skirts To Remain Short, Paris Says

PARIS (AP)—If skirts are to become suddenly longer next spring there is as yet no evidence of it in Paris.

Designers are showing late winter costumes which are very much the same length as those for early winter. The picturesque evening frocks with skirt to the knees in front but down to the ankles at the back seem to be getting fewer.

Dinner gowns still have draperies which extend below the hemline however.

COVE PERSONALS

COVE. (Special)—A joint Thanksgiving service will be held at the Ascension Episcopal church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. William M. Bradner will officiate. Music will be furnished by the Methodist and Baptist choirs.

The Rev. Allen Payne, of the M. E. church, is visiting her parents at Sheridan, Ore. After the Sunday school hour at the M. E. church the church was closed and the people went to the other places of worship.

At the Ascension Episcopal church the Rev. William Bradner gave a very forceful sermon taken from the 14th chapter, of St. Mark's, 41st verse, "Sleep on now and take your rest, it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners."

A beautiful array of needlework was laid out on Saturday at the home of Mrs. Joe Goyette, one of the leaders of the Woman's Club bazaar and three judges carefully examined it to determine which group of women had the choicest display. The judges were Mrs. C. E. Lawson, Mrs. Will Miller and

WINTER RESORT HATS

PARIS (AP)—The favorite sport hat for winter resort wear has a swathed band of crepe de chine around the crown and a moderate turn-down brim.

The bands are of pale pastel colors on hats of white, straw color and light tints. The hat is usually of felt, but sometimes of finely woven straw. The bands must be tightly wrapped, and the ends tucked under without sign of bow or knot.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

This week our tests are upon the question of how a Declarer should plan his campaign. Two hands are given each day, and the way the Declarer should plan to play them is explained on the following day.

In both Nos. 5 and 6 the contract is No Trump, and the original lead is the Jack of Diamonds, won with the Queen in Closed Hand. How should Declarer plan his campaign?

MEDICAL SPRINGS PERSONALS

No. 5 Declarer is sure to win one Spade, two Hearts, two Diamonds and three Clubs—eight tricks; he has a probability of three small Clubs, which would make a total of eleven. He has no reasonable chance to make a slant. The five adverse Clubs probably are divided 3-2 and, if so, Declarer can make five-odd; but the division may be 4-1 and in that case should Declarer try to make six Clubs, he would only make three and would fall to go game.

As the difference between five-odd and four-odd is immaterial, Declarer should insure the game by ducking the first Club.

No. 6 Declarer is sure of only four tricks in Closed Hand. To make game he must win five of Dummy's six Clubs. The only way in which he can do that is to have the King of Clubs on his left, and the adverse Club division 2-2. While it may cost Declarer a trick to try for the game, there is only one way to make it and he should willingly risk that trick. To trick 2, he should lead a small Club and duck in Dummy. His next lead (when he gets in) should be the King of Clubs.

WALL STREET HORRORS
