Negro Scrapper Hopes To Fight Taylor in 1928

NEW YORK (AP)—While the bantamweight champion of Britain was enroute to this land of beautiful bouts, an American negro in Europe gazed back across the Atlantic at the crown the Britisher may seek to topple.

The mythical coronet is that worn by Bud Taylor by consent of the National Boxing association and the American abroad finds it to his liking.

Alfredo Brown, the negro, who has campaigned in Europe for two years without a single defeat, vows in Paris that he will force Taylor into a fight before the end of 1928. While Smith, South African sensation of England, headed toward the United States soon after the victory over Teddy Baldoock that gave him the British championship.

Matchmaker Jess McMahon of Madison Square Garden, who announced the signing of Smith for three bouts in this country, said he planned to negotiate for a bout between Smith and Taylor for what he hopes will be recognized as a title affair. Tony Canzoneri is another prospective opponent for the Britisher.

"This color line is all the bunk for little men," declared Al Brown, in Paris.

"Mr. Jess McMahon, my American manager, will paint over that color line for me."

"I don't mind them drawing the color line against me like Joe Johnson or Harry Wills but who ever heard of Joe Gans and Joe Walcott being side swished?" Brown's attitude is unique among the bantams. He stands 5 feet 10 inches in his stockings and has a reach that many middleweights and light-heavyweights would like to possess. He has won all of his 11 fights, nine by knockouts.

Eugen "Chin" former featherweight champion of the world, and Edouard Mascart were among his victims.

"I am sorry but I can't bend my knees," he is reported to have been Brown's reply to the manager of a prospective opponent, who sought to persuade the American to "take a short cut" during one of his fights.

Hellman Beats Man Who Claims Title

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23 (AP)—Chuck Hellman, Portland bantam weight contender had little trouble in taking the ten-round decision here last night over Johnny McCoy, Los Angeles whose manager claims for him the bantam weight championship of the world. Hellman was not even forced to his feet to hold off McCoy and at the same time take the aggressive, McCoy's sparring partner, Bobby Herman, featherweight, gave the fans a fine exhibition of clever boxing and footwork in taking a six-round decision from Harlan McKinney of Spokane. Charley O'Leary, Portland, and Johnny Woods, Seattle, went six fast rounds to a draw. They are lightweights.

Two Jockeys Are Barred by Board

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 23 (AP)—Alleged rough riding, for which Earl Sande, king of jockeys, lost his license has caused the suspension of Chick Lang, who rode against Sande when the latter was undone at Pimlico.

On the ground with Lang are Raymond Workman, who rides for Harry Payne Whitney, and H. Fisher. Workman and Fisher were charged with rough riding in the fourth race yesterday and Lang offended in the sixth.

The Maryland season ends on Saturday after which the three set-downs may ride in other states.

VERSATILE TRIO AT 'CAL'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three captains of varsity teams are on the University of California football squad.

Elmer Gerken, 213 pound blond tackle, captained "Cal's" track team last season. Jim Dougeny, first string end, is captain of the 1928 Bear basketball team. Frank Rabbel, varsity quarterback, is the 1928 boxing squad captain.

A NEW RECORD FOR BALLOONS, AND—

Here is the balloon which Captain Hawthorne C. Gray sailed from Scott Field, Ill., 42,000 feet into the blue to a new altitude record—and death. Captain Hawthorne's log showed that he was alive at 40,000 feet when he threw out his last sand bag. Failure of the oxygen supply carried in tanks in the balloon was blamed for the flyer's death. The balloon finally drifted down and landed in a tree, as shown above, near Sparta, Tenn.

Soldier Field Too Small For Football Crowd

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (AP) Soldier Field, host to 110,000 football fans at the Army-Navy service classic last year, is too small to accommodate all who want to see the intersectional contest between Shreveport and the University of Southern California Saturday.

A football season of record-breaking attendances, will be closed here with the largest crowd to witness a single game this year. All of the 110,000 seats have been sold.

Nation-wide interest is centered in this conflict between two of the year's best teams. The Southern California Trojans with a season of victories broken only by a tie with Stanford, were eastbound today, determined to even matters with Notre Dame who last year won 13 to 12. The Notre Dame eleven was beaten by Army 15 to 6 this year and played a tie game with Minnesota.

Prospects for Saturday were for clear, cold weather.

SILENCED BY DEFEAT

TOPEKA, Kas. (AP)—When Washburn loses a football game, Fred Lyons, a regular tackle, feels so humiliated he will not speak to any person until he must answer professors in the class rooms the Monday after the defeat. Lyons has suffered a season of silence for Washburn has lost nearly all the scheduled games.

POWLS AND FOOLS

LANSING, Kas. (AP)—Fowls which he stole caught William "Chicken" Robinson, a negro, to become an inmate of the state penitentiary here. And fowls of the baseball variety have brought him fame as a member of the ward at catching the ball when prison team, for "chicken" is a better tips it but fails to send it over the diamond.
