Dinner Is Given For Club Members

An attractive bridge-dinner took place Wednesday evening at the new La Grande hotel when Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith entertained the members of the Tuesday Evening club.

Dinner was served at 7 o'clock in the main dining room of the hotel, with covers laid for 20 around tables prettily decorated with bouquets of the season's flowers.

Following dinner bridge was played in the club room, off the mezzanine floor of the hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Branwell winning high score.

During the evening Mrs. Smith's nephew, Albin Green, who was here for the Thanksgiving holiday, favored the guests with several piano numbers.

Mr. Green has been playing piano with George Stoll's orchestra at the Broadway theater in Portland. He is now on his way to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spauld will entertain the club at its next meeting Tuesday, Dec. 6.

An informal reception honoring Mrs. A. H. Kinman, who will leave tomorrow with Mr. Kinman for Kansas City to make their home, will be given this evening at the La Grande hotel sponsored by the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and to which all members of the church congregation and friends of the honor guest are invited.

Preceding the reception dinner will be served in the main dining room of the hotel complementing Mrs. Kinman. The reception will be held on the mezzanine floor of the hotel and in the club room adjoining.

Mrs. Kinman has been organist at the Methodist church for about six years, during which time she has made many friends who regret to see her leave La Grande. Mr. Kinman has been transferred to Kansas City by the Bowman-Hicks Lumber company.

Will Entertain State President

Mrs. Eita Sanderson, of Milton, president of the Oregon Assembly of the Rebekah Lodge, will be in La Grande tomorrow and will attend a special meeting of Crystal Rebekah Lodge No. 59 here tomorrow evening.

Preceding the lodge session at 6 o'clock Mrs. Sanderson will be the honor guest at a dinner which will be served in the dining room of the I. O. O. F. building. The meeting following will be held in the lodge hall. Visiting members are cordially invited to attend.

The regular meeting of the World Wide Guild of the First Episcopal church will be held tomorrow at noon at the church, starting with luncheon at 12 o'clock.

The guild is making preparations for a 5 o'clock vesper service, which will be held Sunday, Dec. 4, at the church, when a missionary pageant, "Light of the World" will be presented. Following tomorrow's business meeting the girls will practice the pageant.

A meeting of the Campfire Girl Guardians' association was held Wednesday evening when J. J. Handsaker, Near East Relief worker, addressed the group. During the meeting plans were made to discuss with the various campfire girl groups of the city the idea of adopting one orphan child of the Near East. Because all of the guardians were not present no action was taken, but the question will be voted on by the various groups.

English Women Cling to Felts Until Worn Out

LONDON (AP)—Women in Great Britain have become exactly like men in their hat-buying habits since the Paris fashion makers popularized felt hats for women. Seasons in millinery have almost disappeared in England to the great distress of milliners who have been acting on the assumption that women would always buy new spring and fall hats just for the sake of a change.

Men do not buy new hats until they need them in England. All men wear soft felt hats the year through, varying their headgear only by wearing a derby occasionally. Straw hats are almost never worn by Englishmen. Neither do they wear caps, except for sports wear.

The same now seems to be true of English women. They cling to their small felt hats until they are worn out, regardless of what time of the year it is, and then buy new ones.

Efforts of British fashion makers to knock out the small felt hat by the introduction of model hats of great size and varied materials have not been successful. British women may accept a little higher crown and a slight variation of the shape of the brim of their felt hats but they cling to the small felt and refuse to have much trimming on it.

The foliage of house plants to thrive must be kept free from insects. Spraying the leaves with a soap solution to which a good tobacco extract has been added will destroy white fly, scale insects, red spider and plant lice. Black leaf is one of the standard tobacco or nicotine sprays.

If a tender crust is desired in bread, the loaf may be brushed with butter about three minutes before it is removed from oven. If a darker crust is desired, brushing over with milk or butter before baking is effective.

This week our tests have been upon the question of how a Declarer should plan his campaign. Two hands were given each day, and the way the Declarer should plan to play them explained on the succeeding day.

DECLARER: WEST

In both Nos. 3 and 10, Hearts are trumps and the original lead is the King of Spades. How should Declarer plan his campaign?

No. 3. Declarer should win the trick with the Ace of Spades, then lead six rounds of trumps, then four rounds of Diamonds, leaving his Closed Hand with two cards—the Jack of Spades and the Deuce of Clubs; Dummy with two cards—the Ace and Jack of Clubs. This is a "squeeze" play; and Declarer, when he starts it, knows that West has the Queen of Spades. If he also has the King and Queen of Clubs, the squeeze must work, as West must discard down to two cards and must let go either one of his high Clubs or his Queen of Spades. In one case North's Ace-Jack of Clubs are good for the last two tricks; in the other, South's Spade-Jack becomes a winner. Of course, West may not have the two high Clubs and the squeeze may not work, but it cannot cost a trick; it is well worth trying.

No. 10. Declarer stands to lose two Spades and two Diamonds, unless he can establish a Club in Dummy's hand. That he can do so is probable because, having five Clubs in Dummy and one in Closed Hand (a total of six), the adversaries have a total of seven, and the probable division of seven is 4-3. Winning the first Spade, Declarer should at once lead a Club, win in Dummy with the Ace, return a Club and trump it with an honor. He should then put Dummy in twice with the Ten and Nine of trumps, leading back Clubs each time for Closed Hand to ruff with an honor. After ruffing the third Club he should lead his last trump. Mayor Thompson took 1500 people to Washington with him to impress upon the congressional committee the need of flood relief. We suspect that before that committee gets through with the Bill, it will have to call in the Red Cross for its own members.

WALLOWA PERSONALS

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—Narcis Cussins, of Lostine, spent a few days the last of the week visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Gastin.

H. C. Hearing, of Middle Valley, recently had a six-tube radio receiving set installed at his home. Fred Edwards, of Lostine, installed the set.

Eugene Gastin, who has been working in an apple packing house at Payette, Ida., for the past several weeks, returned home recently. The first of the week he commenced work for H. C. Hearing.

L. C. Johnson, a sheep man from the Snake River section, was a business visitor in town the last of the week.

Only a few people were in attendance at the hog sale at the T. L. Sherod ranch the 14th because of stormy weather conditions. A few of the hogs were sold, however, Mr. Sherod stating he will not sell any more, having at present the head of stockers which he expects to feed out between now and spring. The demand for hogs is not as great among farmers here as a few weeks ago.

Mrs. J. B. Gastin and son, Eugene, visited a few days the early part of the week at the Gastin home west of Lostine.

Fall sown grain crops are looking fine at this time. Weather conditions have been favorable for a rapid growth the most of the fall. There is a considerable acreage of summerfallow over the county which was not seeded because of the ground being too wet.

George E. Coleman and wife, of Powhatan, were visitors in town the last of the week.

Mrs. Pete Knott spent several days the past week visiting at the P. A. Downing home in the Leap community.

G. L. Martin was a La Grande business visitor during the past week.

The Christmas Shopping Days Are Here!

Have you plenty of good lighting in your store to attract your percentage of the shoppers? Competition is very keen this year—and good lighting is the only way you can show up your goods above the other fellow.

Shoppers will not put confidence in a store that is poorly lighted—they will come in and look over the goods—but usually for price comparison only—now—good lighting brings out the qualities and a sale is made.

Call Main 35 and let us send a man to you today to explain our proposal. You can pay for your installation out of the increased profits, due to BETTER LIGHTING—month by month.
