AT THE THEATERS

Fascinating Sea Story At Colonial

There's something about the sea that gets 'em all—young and old—male and female alike. That is why the engagement of "The Cruise of the Helion," which is showing now at the Colonial today and Wednesday, bids fair to be one of the outstanding events of the current theatrical season.

Duke Worme, in the dual capacity of producer and director, has taken a great yarn and made it into a greater picture, putting therein all of those elements which have come to be associated with stories of the sea, plus several new ones which his own ingenuity devised. There's something doing every inch of the way in "The Cruise of the Helion"—in fact, as the saying goes, there's not an idle moment. The story moves at lightning pace from start to finish and is filled to the brim with action, suspense and romance.

"No Man's Law" At Star Today And Wednesday

To Death Valley came two kinds of men—the hunted and the hunter. "No Man's Law," the Hal Roach production, Pathé feature starting Rex, king of wild horses, at the Star theater today and Wednesday, is a story of both, written by F. Richard Jones and directed by Fred Jackman, who has directed all of the Rex dramas, of which this is said to be the strongest.

The hunted are Sharkey Nye and Spider O'Day, portrayed by Oliver Hardy and Theodore Van Elze. Sharkey is as bad as they come, while Spider has considerable distance to go to be thoroughly bad, though he's a long way from being good. They have just escaped the sheriff. Jake Belcher, played by James Finlayson, is hunting for Spider O'Day, portrayed by Oliver Hardy and Theodore Van Elze. Sharkey is as bad as they come, while Spider has considerable distance to go to be thoroughly bad, though he's a long way from being good. They have just escaped the sheriff. Jake Belcher, played by James Finlayson, is hunting for Spider O'Day, portrayed by Oliver Hardy and Theodore Van Elze.

When the outlaws find gold in Jake's shaft unseen by the old miner, and when they see the allures and beauty of the girl they scheme for both girls. This common desire makes them deadly enemies, and the girl and her father are helpless in their power but for two things—the wild horse who is Toby's protector and whose weapons are his thunder-shod hoofs, and the spark of decency that is flamed into life by the girl's purity and innocence.

"No Man's Law" is said to be a picture of unusual dramatic climaxes, with Rex, Hal Roach's equine wonder, in the role of the girl's avenger. Lady Rex's mate, in the picture with him, and two burros are used to provide comic relief.

A comedy is known by the laughs it gets. That makes "Hain Off" Hal Roach's latest contribution to the M-G-M program, perfect. It just gets one laugh, which is practically continuous throughout the two reels of its length. It concerns itself with the harrowing adventures of two dumb washing machine salesmen, portrayed respectively by Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, two of the favorites of Hal Roach's stock company, who are to be star-struck as a result of their splendid work in this picture, "Hain Off" is now showing at the Star theater.

Lesson No. 11
Question: How does emulsified cod-liver oil increase the efficiency of milk as a protection against rickets?

Answer: Milk is deficient in rickets-preventing vitamin. A little emulsified cod-liver oil added to or taken with milk makes it a more perfect vitamin-food. Give it as SCOTT'S EMULSION

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Little Girl: "Mother, the ice man is here."
Mother (absent-mindedly): "Just tell him to leave a chair and I'll be right down."

A seven days' wonder, and on the eighth she made up her mind.

Ninety-seven per cent of American girls, it is said, die without leaving wills. Or anything else, it might be added.

"Is your father living?"
"None," replied the old, "I died of exposure."
"Oh, that's hard. How did it happen?"
"Another guy sneezed and they hung Pa."

THE WISDOM OF EXPERIENCE
To kiss a wife the groom
Was quite sure he knew how—
That was three weeks ago.
And he is wiser now.

"Is often so, you will note,
After a guy has wed,
A lot of things he thought he knew,
Are numbered 'mong the dead."

Pontine logic was demonstrated in a phone call received by a startled gentleman who picked up the instrument the other evening to hear a frenzied female voice demanding: "Is this you, Jim?"

"No," he returned politely. "You have the wrong number."
"Well, you did say," came the voice at the other end, in staccato accents. "why this dickens don't you hang up so I can get my party? Of all the hit wits I ever saw—why, your poor pun—" and so on, while the amused young man listened patiently to her colorful tirade.

Household hint: A little chewing gum on the knee will hold a paper napkin in place.

DAKAR, Senegal—Hospital salesmen steer clear of this section, for while the population of the British and French colonies totals 36,000,000, fully 28 per cent are natives who do not wear shoes. The others obtain their hosiery from France by parcel post because the method is cheaper than purchasing supplies locally.
