"Land of Nod" Is Given at Meeting of Club Women

One of the best programs of the club year was given at yesterday's meeting of the La Grande Neighborhood Club in the library building, when a Junior operetta, "The Land of Nod," was given by 39 children of the Central school under the direction of Miss Luuzen Russell.

Clever songs and recitations were given by the children, who are in their second year in school, and all landed their parts in a most able manner.

Miss Weiss played the part of the King of the Land of Nod, Little David Douglas, as standard bearer, opened the operetta by introducing the "Land of Nod." Earl Gustafson was "The Sand Man" and Lesley Herman, the Jack of Dreams who brought to the Land of Nod and presented to the king six little Sleepy Heads, Junior Astby, Harry Daniels, Jimmy Tryon, Sarah Patten, Betty Daniels and Van Cecil Irvine.

Pages to the king were Victor Stomate, Wilma Baker, Nancy Rocklin and Martha Gunderes. Brewster Wilson took the part of the golem who visited the little Sleepy Heads in their dreams. Dream sprites were: Heloise Lee, Fern Duncan, Margaret Earhart, Edith Loran, Emma Gekeler, Gertrude Hart, Frances Clark, Bernadine Roberts and Betty Lee Burns.

John Davies was "My Lady Fortune," and Edward McKim the golem "Can and Must." The dream princess was played by Dorothy Henning, Old Mother Goose by Mary Jane Hensler, the queen of dolls by Patricia Longfellow, and the dream prince, Keith Patten.

The broomies were Billy Smith, Eugene McNeal, Lesley Spicer, Ralph Winters, Pryor Adkins, Richard Hysmith and Billy Stone. Miss Lois Nelson was piano accompanist for the operetta and was assisted by Miss Beulah Rantz, violinist. They also played a short introduction before the curtain.

The operetta will be repeated this afternoon at the high school auditorium, when all school children and others interested will be given an opportunity to see it. The appearance was good and when credit is due Miss Russell, who trained the children.

A business meeting preceded the program, yesterday when reports were heard from Mrs. Evelyn Hearnshaw on the Christmas seal sale, and from Mrs. Coton R. Eberhard, who gave a final report of the musical comedy, "Hello, Tiger." A total of $241.25 was added to the club building fund by the musical comedy committee, after all expenses were paid, her report showed.

A committee was appointed by the president, Mrs. Sherwood Williams, to investigate available meeting places for the club and to make a report at the next meeting. Mrs. Donald Plaque heads the committee as chairman, and other members are Mrs. Lee Warnick, Mrs. E. Marks, Mrs. F. L. Halston, Mrs. Fred Spaeth, Mrs. W. P. McAdory, Mrs. Ellen Stoddard, Mrs. R. E. Tyler, Mrs. Charles Bangstrom, Mrs. E. P. Mossman, Mrs. A. R. Hunter, Mrs. A. L. Richardson, Mrs. Lester Stoddard and Mrs. Everett Wallinger.

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Due to selective breeding, the milk cow in Sweden yields twice as much milk today as 50 years ago. The increase is credited to better selection of breeding stock by Dr. Ivar Johansson, Swedish agricultural expert.

An institute for research work, intended to improve the Swedish cattle stock further, is being organized.

Stock improvement has gone hand in hand with work for agricultural plant improvement. Prof. H. Nilsson-Ehle, Swedish expert on plant improvement, declares the two most significant methods used have been better selection and crossing of species.

NORTHWEST TESTS COWS ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota associations test 25,000 cows monthly for milk and butterfat production, with accurate records maintained. Only two states, Wisconsin and Michigan, test more cows.

Yesterday the hand which appears below was given, and six questions were asked concerning it. The questions are repeated in the explanations of my answers.

7. With the above hand, South (Dealer), should bid one Spade. More than enough strength to justify a bid of one; but not a hand that warrants pre-emption. With unstopped Clubs, the strong five-card Major is much sounder than No Trump.

8. With the above hand, South with a score of 12 should bid one Spade. Although two Spades would produce game, the bid would mislead the partner as it would announce A-Q-K-x-x of Spades.

9. With the above hand, after a bid of one No Trump by South, West at a love score should pass. Not probable that game can be made against a No Trump, but probable that the No Trump can be defeated.

10. With the above hand, after a bid of one No Trump by South, West with a score of 12 should bid two Spades. In No. 9 it took ten tricks for game; in No. 10, only eight. Bid over a No Trump whenever two tricks in the hand of the partner would produce game; otherwise pass.

11. With the above hand, after a bid of one Diamond by South and a pass by West, North should bid one Spade. While almost certain that South has Club strength in addition to the King and Queen of Diamonds, the five-card Major is a sure game-getter and there is no need to taking a chance with No Trump.

12. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

13. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

14. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

15. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

16. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

17. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

18. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

19. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

20. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

21. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

22. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

23. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

24. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

25. With the above hand, after a pass by South and a bid of one Heart by West, North should bid one Spade. No Trump, with but one stopper in the adverse suit, should not be considered and with such great strength a pass would be cowardly.

Milka Salitch, 18, whose speeches have stirred the miners in the southern coal fields of Colorado, is pictured above with a broken arm she sustained in an attack upon a mine. The girl, attired in a red dress, was leading strikers to the mine property when she was trampled by a mine guard's horse.

EARLY DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT OF ACUTE ABDOMINAL DISEASES IMPORTANT

By C. F. Wilhelm, M. D., East St. Louis, Ill. Member Gorzans Memorial

The importance of early diagnosis and treatment of acute diseases of the abdomen can hardly be overestimated. Every surgeon can undoubtedly recall many cases in which foolish delay caused the loss of a life which could have been saved if the patient had consulted a physician in time. Persons are often taken suddenly and violently ill with acute abdominal distress, the very nature of which warns them that some great and unusual severity has taken place. Instead of consulting a physician immediately, they often waste valuable hours and even days in foolish hope and self-treatment. They hope that it is only an attack of indigestion or a cold; or that all will be well by tomorrow. Hope is God's greatest gift to mankind, but when hope is allowed to blind the intellect it becomes a monster of unbelievable cruelty.

Because of its frequency, appendicitis is one of the most important of the acute abdominal diseases and illustrates in a striking manner the necessity for early diagnosis and perfect co-operation between patient and doctor. If operation is performed in the early stages the mortality is very low, in general less than one per cent. The mortality rate increases very rapidly in the later stages so that after peritonitis has developed the death rate is very high.

The first symptoms in acute appendicitis is usually pain, which may be distributed over the right abdomen or localized in the right lower part. This may be preceded or followed by nausea and vomiting. If the initial pain is not severe, which is often the case, the nausea and vomiting may be the most outstanding features. A case beginning in this manner is an excellent one for self diagnosis and
