

EGG PRICES ARE STILL IN SLUMP

Another One-Cent Drop Taken Today—Strong Turkey Mart Seen

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 14 (AP)—Egg prices took another one-cent drop at the Dairy Exchange meeting late yesterday, and all grades except undersized are quoted lower today. Association prices likewise declined a cent on all but undersized. Dairy Exchange prices today are as follows: Extras 25c; standard firsts 24c; medium firsts, 23c; medium second, 22c; and undersized unchanged at 21c.

An oversupply of country dressed meats is being cleaned up and all classes are firm with the exception of lamb, which still shows a tendency toward weakness. Receipts in all classes are light and demand is normal. Hogs are steady around 12 to 13c with a few extra choice lights going at 13 1/2c. Veal is firm at from 17 to 18c for the choicest quality, but poorer grades are selling considerably below those figures. Prices on lamb are around 15 and 20c.

Although Seattle demands on the local turkey market yesterday practically cleaned up the local supply, prices are still steady here today. The birds went to help fill a consignment for Alaska which is leaving the Sound City.

Local dealers believe the turkey market here will not be exceptionally strong this season. Reports are that only 25 per cent of the annual crop was marketed at Thanksgiving time, and it is expected that the market will be glutted with birds before Christmas. The condition is said to exist all over the country where turkeys are raised. Prevailing prices today range from 40 to 42c for the best stock. Lower prices are probable as receipts increase. Other classes of poultry are holding steady around yesterday's quotations.

With prices as a whole holding steady, onions are a bit firmer on the produce market with best U. S. No. 1 bringing as high as $2.25 per cwt.

MRS. WILSON—NINE YEARS AFTER

While impressive ceremonies were being held at Bethlehem chapel on the high hill at Washington D. C. where National Cathedral stands and where Woodrow Wilson, the war president is buried, Mrs. Wilson was made the central figure in the Armistice Day parade at Eugene. The picture shows Mrs. Wilson as she sat in the automobile, her arms filled with flowers.

Stock Exchange Trading Today Very Irregular

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—A sudden collapse of more than 10 points in Porto Rican B. due to a "bear" attack which touched off a number of stop-loss orders, temporarily unsettled today's stock market. Confidence was quickly restored and the market was headed for new high ground by early afternoon under the leadership of U. S. Steel common. More than a score of issues attained record high levels.
