Kidwell Admits He Was Aware Of "Shadowers"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Playing a trump card the government today obtained from Edward J. Kidwell, a juror in the Fall-Sinclair contempt case, a statement he was aware that he was being shadowed by detectives during the trial.

The testimony was considered important inasmuch as the defense has claimed that no contempt of court could have been committed so long as no juror knew he was being placed under surveillance.

Kidwell is the man accused of having boasted of gains he expected from a verdict in the trial of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall. Called as a government witness today, he identified two Burns detectives as those who followed him.

The witness said John Kline, one of the detectives, approached him in a near beer saloon, and the other, Dan Merritt, had followed him from the courthouse, boarding the same street car. This testimony was the first to show any member of the conspiracy jury was aware of the surveillance being made by Burns detectives, employed by Sinclair.

I woke up this morning with a dark brown taste in my mouth and kind of an aching feeling from head to foot. I thought I would phone my ad in to you and then I would go to bed for an hour while the delivery man delivers the famous Royal Coal that has no whiskers.

Belanger Whips Jarvis; May Meet Izzy in New York

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 20 (AP)—French Belanger, of Toronto, had the flyweight championship of the National Boxing association tucked away after a fierce 15-round battle with Ernie Jarvis, of London, England.

In the opening round Belanger floored Jarvis with a right to the heart and a left to the jaw. The bell rang and the count reached two. The Englishman nearly met his Waterloo in the third session. Belanger caught him a wild left hook to the head, putting him down for a nine count.

Jarvis weathered the lightning hail of blows and carried the fight to his opponent in the eleventh. He landed a hard right to the head that sent Belanger to the ropes. Belanger arose at once, but reeling groggily when the bell clanged.

Clarence Jay Edwards, winner of the New York state athletic commission's championship in a bout with Newsboy Brown last week, has offered to meet Belanger in a bout to come up the flyweight muddle. The bout probably will be held in Madison Square Garden, New York next month.

A congressman arriving after the appointed hour at George Washington's home and finding the party at the table was informed that the cook at that home did not ask if the guests had arrived but if the hour had.
